

The UK Athletics Communications and Public Relations Office has worked hard this offseason to make sure you can still follow the Kentucky football team through these unprecedented times virtually. Below you will find some useful game day information as we approach Saturday's game. This information is not for public use, please keep it private. NOTE: For those approved for covering the game in-person, you have received a separate email with further in-person services.

Everything you need to cover Saturday's game has been made available in one place at ukathletics.com/fbmediacenter. At this link, you can find flip cards, game notes, stats and more. If there is something you need that is not made available at this link, email Wesley.crane@uky.edu and we will work on getting it for you.
