BULLS NOTEBOOK

PERFECTION TIMES TWO

Georgina Corrick threw her first collegiate perfect game on March 6 against Florida A&M, then followed it up with her second perfect game of the season just over a month later on April 29 against Houston. It marked USF's fourth and fifth perfect game in program history by three different pitchers. Corrick joins Leigh Ann Ellis and Sara Nevins in USF's record books and is the only USF pitcher to toss two in a season.

FULLY CHARGED

Georgina Corrick and Josie Foreman operate as a battery and are one of the few batteries in NCAA Softball that call their own games independent of coaching during contests. Together, the pair has called four no-hitters and one perfect game over the last two seasons. In fact, all USF catchers traditionally call their own games behind the plate without receiving signs from the dugout.

NO-NO-NO-NO-NO-NO-NO

Georgina Corrick has participated in seven no-hitters in her collegiate career. Corrick was the second freshman in USF history to throw a no-hitter against UNF on March 18, 2018. In 2020, she tossed USF's fourth combined no-hitter against FIU with Vivian Ponn. Last season, Corrick threw four, including USF's first no-hitters in back-to-back games (vs. ECU, April 30/May 1) and first in the NCAA tournament (vs. Baylor, May 22). This season, she threw a no-hitter as part of her perfect game against Florida A&M on March 6.

DRAFTED

Corrick was drafted in the Athletes Unlimited Softball 2022 College Draft on Wednesday, May 4 with the third selection. If she elects to play professionally, she would be the 17th member associated with the Bulls program to play professionally.

TOP TEN

For the first time in her career, Corrick was named a top 10 finalist for the USA Softball Collegiate Player of the Year award on May 4. She's one of two honorees from the American Athletic Conference.

STRIKEOUT MACHINE

Georgina Corrick posted 10-or-more strikeouts in 19 appearances this season and 15-or-more in two appearances, breaking the program single-game record with 19 against Florida Gulf Coast, for a total of 55 double-digit strikeouts games in her career. In total, the COVID-Senior has thrown 1,278 strikeouts in her five seasons.

STATISTICAL CHAMPION

Georgina Corrick tossed 15 shutouts in the 2021 season, earning the Sanford, Fla., native the NCAA statistical championship in the category for the season. She currently leads the country in the category again with 19 this season, while leading the country in three other categories: innings pitched, strikeouts and victories.

SHE'S A RUNNER, SHE'S A TRACK STAR

Alexis Johns leads South Florida in stolen bases after finishing second on the team, and in the conference, in 2021. She's swiped 54 so far this season, which leads the country and is a new USF and AAC single-season record.

AMERICAN POW6R

The American Athletic Conference continued to be a softball destination, with three teams earning a trip to the 2021 NCAA tournament. The final NCAA RPI has had The American in the top five among all conferences for the last three seasons. This season, the AAC currently ranks as the sixth best conference in terms of RPI, the highest outside of the autonomy five.

RED WHITE AND BULLS

Head coach Ken Eriksen was named the head coach of the USA Softball Women's National Team in 2019 for the ninth straight season after an impressive 2018 slate. Coach Eriksen led USA to a perfect 20-0 season in 2018 and a first-place finish at the WBSC. In 2019, Team USA took home gold at the PanAm Games over the summer. In 2020, Eriksen stepped away from USF briefly, leading Team USA on its pre-Olympics "Stand Beside Her" tour around the United States. Eriksen coached Team USA to a silver medal at the 2021 Olympics.

RISING THE RANKS

Already the winningest head coach in USF Athletics history, Coach Eriksen has sights set on rising the NCAA's record books. Currently, Eriksen ranks 10th among active DI coaches and 25th among all-time DI head coaches with 1,048 wins. Eriksen is within four wins of 24th on the all-time list and sits 18 behind No. 23. Eriksen became the 28th head coach in NCAA D-I Softball history to hit 1,000 wins with a 5-0 victory over ECU on April 30, 2020. Eriksen is just the second coach to win all 1,000 games at a university in the state of Florida.

PITCHER OF THE YEAR

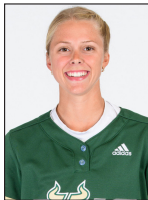

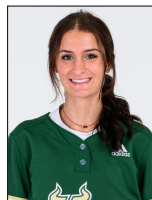

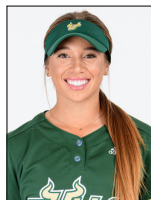

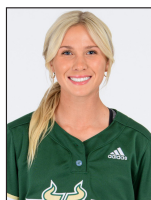

2022 marked Corrick's fourth consecutive AAC Pitcher of the Year honor, joining previous selections in 2018, 2019 and 2021. The unanimous honor is also the second of her career, joining her recognition in 2021.

#BUCSTRONG

Sophomore Alexis Buchman was diagnosed with brain cancer after undergoing surgery for a tumor in September. She's currently undergoing treatment and the support movement behind her has taken the name #BucSTRONG. The team has special patches on uniforms and wears both blue, Buchman's favorite color, and grey, the color for brain cancer awareness wristbands with #BucSTRONG engraved on them.

BULLS NOTEBOOK

STAFFING CHANGES

Eriksen added two new coaches to his staff for the 2022 season. Karla Claudio Rivera, a 2015 USF graduate, joined the staff and primarily works with the Bulls' pitching staff. Lisa Navas, who most recently was the associate head coach at South Carolina, was hired as a volunteer assistant coach.

CHANGING RECORD BOOKS

Two players on USF have been climbing the NCAA record books in different categories. Georgina Corrick's scoreless streak earlier this year of 88.1 innings is the seventh longest streak of scoreless innings by a pitcher. Alexis Johns also has her own place in the NCAA's record book, swiping 58 bases this year to enter into a tie for the 19th most in NCAA history. One more steal puts her tied for 15th, two more for a tie for 13th and three more for a tie for 11th.

BULLS IN THE TOURNAMENT

Overall, USF has a 29-33 record in 17 appearances in the tournament, including a 28-31 mark under head coach Ken Eriksen in 16 trips. This is the Bulls' sixth trip to Tallahassee for the regional stage and USF has a 8-10 record in the Tallahassee Regional historically. USF Career Strikeouts (1,291; Previous: 1,103, Sara Nevins)

NCAA Success

- Eriksen has lead the Bulls to 15 of their 16 NCAA tournament appearances, including seven in his last 10 years as head coach. Overall, Eriksen has a 28-31 record in the tournament and has advanced past the regionals stage twice (2006, 2012).
- Including the years before the Super Regionals were introduced, Eriksen's squads have been one of the final sixteen teams four times (1998, 2001, 2006 and 2012).
- In 1997, Eriksen became the first USF graduate to play in the NCAA tournament as a player, assistant coach and head coach, all of which he completed wearing the green and gold.

National Team Work

- After a successful playing career on the USA Men's National Team, Eriksen joined Team USA's staff in 1998 and was named head coach in 2011 after serving as an assistant coach for four years.
- With the US National Team, Eriksen has led the team to numerous championships, including two at WBSC Worlds, five at the World Cup of Softball, two at ISF Worlds, and two at PanAm games.

Since Eriksen's first year at the helm of USF's winningest program, the Bulls have made 15 NCAA postseason appearances, two NCAA Super Regionals, a College World Series berth and won seven conference titles (in three conferences: SASA, BIG EAST, and The American). USF also has produced more than 1,000 wins and a numerous amount of All-Americans, Academic All-Americans, all-conference players, and NCAA All-Region players under Eriksen's leadership. Eriksen won conference championships with the Bulls in 1997, 1998, 2008, 2013, 2016, 2018 and 2019. He produced one 60-win season, five 50-win seasons, 10 40-win seasons and six 30-win seasons.

In 2021, Eriksen completed his 24th season as USF's head coach and his 35th overall with the softball program. As an outfielder/pitcher on the first USF baseball team to go the NCAA Tournament in 1982, Eriksen has been a winner since his arrival on campus in the fall of 1979. Eriksen was the first USF graduate to have participated in the NCAA tournament as a player, an assistant coach, and as a head coach, all at USF.

Eriksen began his love affair with USF 41 years ago, when the freshman from Stony Brook, N.Y. (Ward Melville HS) first appeared in Tampa as a baseball student-athlete for USF baseball coach and Major League Hall of Famer Robin Roberts. It was under Roberts, along with assistant coaches Jeff Davis and Kevin Maronic that Eriksen learned the strategy and execution that involved high-level competitive ball. In four seasons as a player on the USF baseball team, and while playing five positions, his career batting average topped .315 and he had an ERA of 2.48 on the mound. In 1982, he was named to the NCAA All-Region tournament squad on a team that just came short of reaching the College World Series.

Playing Career

- Prior to his coaching career, Eriksen was one of the best men's fastpitch softball players in the world after a collegiate baseball career at USF.
- From 1981-84, he played on USF's baseball team, playing five positions and amassing a career batting average of .315 while also tossing a 2.48 ERA on the mound.
- Following his graduation, Eriksen started playing fastpitch in 1985 and earned a roster spot on the nationally-renowned Clearwater Bombers in 1986. Eriksen amassed a wealth of international experience, playing in eight International Softball Congress World Championships and eight ASA Men's Major National Championships.
- One of the best players in the world during his playing prime, Eriksen was named a First Team All-World catcher in 1992.

After earning his bachelor's degree in political science (with an emphasis in Latin American politics), Eriksen decided to turn his attention from the baseball to fastpitch softball while starting his master's program in public administration at USF. He began playing the men's game in 1985 at the local levels and began working his way up to eventually earning a roster spot on the nationally renowned Clearwater Bombers (1986-1992). He quickly established himself as a multiple-position player, that enabled him to earn a spot on the 1991 U.S. PanAm Team that competed in Santiago de Cuba, winning a silver medal. In 1988, he was part of a U.S. Select Team that was the FIRST U.S. Team in 30 years that visited Communist-Russian occupied Cuba. In 1993, Eriksen began his tenure (1993-1995) with Larry Miller-Toyota Team out of Salt Lake City, Utah. In 1997, he officially retired after spending his last season with the Tampa Smokers, who won the ASA Men's National Championship that year.

During his Fastpitch playing career, Eriksen amassed a wealth of national and international experience. He participated in eight IBSC World Championships and eight ASA Men's Major National Championships. In 1992, he was named First Team All-World as a catcher and to the All-North American Team. Eriksen also played in three USOC Olympic Sports Festivals (1993-1995), winning a silver medal in 1993.

For Eriksen, his coaching at USF has coincided with his loyalty to Team USA National Teams. Eriksen was named head coach for the Men's 19-and-under World Team for one year in 1997 to represent the United States in St John's Newfoundland. In 2001, he was part of a coaching staff that developed players in the first year of the 2004 cycle leading up to the 2004 Olympic Games. He was the head coach of the Pan Am Qualifying Team that won gold in Maracay, Venezuela. He also was an assistant on a USA Team that represented the nation in Canada. In 2002, he was named assistant coach with the United States Women's National Team that won gold at the World Championships in Saskatoon, Canada. While still as an assistant coach under Mike Candrea in 2003, Eriksen was part of a staff that captured gold at the Pan Am Games in Santiago, Dominican Republic. He recently completed his tenure as the team USA head coach with a silver medal run at the 2021 Olympics.

Eriksen continued on as assistant coach with Team USA with the United States Olympic Team that won the gold medal at the Athens Olympics in 2004. Considered to be one of the greatest Olympic Teams ever put together, the 2004 team was inducted into the United States Olympic Hall of Fame in 2012. Still to this day, Eriksen is the only coach at USF to have ever won a gold medal at the Olympics.

In 2005, Eriksen took a leave of absence to help his wife Dr. Debra Eriksen (whom he met at USF) raise their two daughters (Tatiana 1996, and Natasha 2000). Eriksen returned to Team USA as an assistant coach in 2010 to help the Red, White, and Blue capture the World Championships in Caracas, Venezuela. Then, the next chapter began...softball and baseball were no longer on the Olympic menu. It would have to be reinstated at a later date.

In January of 2011, Eriksen was named the head coach of Team USA. The environment was different because all the players had retired after 2010. A new era had begun and it was the job of the United States Women's National Team selection committee and the new staff of coaches to evaluate and pick players to establish a new core of national team players. In October 2011, Eriksen led a group of 17 first-time national team members to gold at the Pan Am Games in Guadalajara, Mexico. In 2012, the same group lost in the gold medal game to Japan in extra innings (Whitehorse, Yukon Territory, Canada). As minor personnel changes continued to happen, Eriksen and the program persevered by constantly evaluating players in the United States.

In 2013, Team USA won the Pan Am Qualifier in Guaynabo, Puerto Rico. In 2014, in preparation for the World Championships in Amsterdam, Netherlands, Team USA captured the Italian Cup in Venice, Italy by defeating Team Australia in the gold medal game. Once again with a pitching staff that did not have World Championship experience, the United States captured silver, dropping the gold medal game to Japan. With the youngest team amongst the world's elites, Eriksen's optimism did not waver. After a very successful 2015 season, the core group of the young Eagles had started to put years in the experience bank. Five years after getting the program with an empty roster, Team USA, with a mix of veterans and young talented players captured the gold medal once again in 2016. At the World Championship in Surrey, Canada, USA went undefeated and beat Japan in the gold medal game to capture its first World Championship since 2010.

Eriksen lead the Red, White and Blue to an incredible undefeated 20-0 season in the summer of 2018. Eriksen and the Eagles started the summer winning gold at the international cup and went on to clinch the Women's Baseball Softball Confederation World Championship. Team USA clinched the first of five available spots in the Tokyo 2020 Olympics with its World Championship. The Eagles closed its season of international competition with the Japan Cup where Team USA again won gold.

The team's success continued in 2019, with Team USA winning gold at the Pan Am games during the summer. In 2020, Eriksen will be on leave from USF Softball to continue in his capacity as head coach with Team USA at the 2020 Olympic Games in Tokyo.

Eriksen continues to live in Tampa with his family.
