Dayton vs. Mississippi State

Opening Statement

“I feel very blessed, very fortunate, to hold on to the win after having the 21-point lead dissipate mainly because of just way too many turnovers. We did a great job defensively in the first half. The second half got off to a great start. We got Aric Holman the ball at the high post a couple of times. One time Quinndary Weatherspoon cut for a layup against his own. Another time, he kicked it up to Tyson Carter for a wide open three. The last 15 minutes, I don’t remember a high post touch, and that’s really the key when you have a zone like that. You’ve got to get the ball to high post. You can still see that we have a lot of work to do in a lot of things. I give them a lot of credit. Dayton played extremely hard. They started being way more aggressive in their zone, trapping in the corners, forced a number of turnovers. We got a little bit nonchalant with the ball and have to be a better passing team. For Quinndary to now hit his third game winner at the buzzer during my tenure is really incredible. I think I mentioned the other day that I remember four times in my 22-years as a head coach that we won a game at a buzzer. Now I think it is like six, and he has three of them, so it is amazing. I am just happy we pulled it out. Too many turnovers. They had a chance to beat us there at the end. We were fortunate, and give them again a lot of credit. They are a young team that plays very hard, and it is a credit to their coach and their coaching staff for the way that they gave themselves down 21 a chance to come back and win on the road.”

On Quinndary Weatherspoon’s play today ...

“I thought he got a little tired. He and Nick Weatherspoon each had four fouls, but overall, he was great. I thought the first half he was incredible, how good he was at both ends of the floor. I played him 18 minutes in the first half, and that’s a lot of minutes to play. He’s in game shape. Lamar Peters, you could see him get a little tired out there for his first game back and probably playing him too much, too many long stanzas.”

On being aggressive at the line ...

“In seven times for the game, that’s not good. We’ve got to get to the line more and get it inside more, get the ball to the high post more. You can see we will be working on some zone offense here in the next few days when we get back to practice, which is not until Wednesday now because these guys have finals starting tomorrow. We have the next two days completely off from all basketball, and for some of the guys it is going to be really good to get their legs back. We just played six games in 15 days between November 8 and December 3, that’s like an NBA deal. That’s just too many games in a short period of time, in my opinion, and it is just because we have to cram them all in to get them in. It kind of hurt us, the way we had to go from the 10th to the 18th having that eight-day gap in between. It is probably taking a little bit out of us now having six games in 15 days. I am hoping that we will have a little more spacing out between games, which will be better for us.”

Mississippi State vs. Dayton

Opening statement...

“You have to give Mississippi State credit for making big plays throughout the game that led them to the win. I am proud of the effort our guys gave. For us tonight, our 26 turnovers were the difference in the game. Obviously, the foul trouble limited our rotation. I thought we were able to overcome and compete, to give ourselves a chance. You have to give the credit to Mississippi State.”

On getting Darrell Davis the ball in the final moments...

“We wanted to see if we could get him going at the rim, or draw a foul and get back to the free throw line. Mississippi State did a great job taking that away. At the end, we had a timeout and I decided not to use it, and thought with the amount of time left we could open the floor up. That, obviously, did not workout and we lost the ball. That created an opportunity for them to go make a play.”

On the message at halftime...

“We had 16 turnovers at the half, so we needed to take care of the ball first. As a team, a lot of deficits have been self-inflicted wounds. We need to learn and prevent turnovers, fouls and wasted concessions. It’s been multiple games that we’ve been in a hole we’d have to dig out of. We had to dig out of one today. In the second half, we had 10 turnovers, but we did a much better job of executing with purpose and giving ourselves the best opportunity to give ourselves a chance.”

On Darrell Davis’ play...

“I thought Davis was great for us tonight, and he gave us 38 minutes. He played a tough and physical game, and was able to put up 10 minutes tonight. I trust him and feel comfortable with his ability to get to the basket and get the shot to make a play for our team. Unfortunately, tonight did not go his way. You have to be willing to fail and put yourself out there. He wanted the ball in his hands to make a play, and unfortunately it did not work out for him. I’m sure at some point during this year there will be another opportunity, and I’m sure he will come through for us.”

Dayton vs Mississippi State

G – Quindary Weatherspoon – Jr.

On his thoughts during the game-winning shot...

“I just really wanted to get a shot up. I didn’t want to settle for a three. I wanted to get as deep as I could before the time ran out, and I ended up getting a layup.”

On Dayton not taking a final timeout...

“I’m not surprised. They had the momentum of the second half. I wasn’t really surprised that they didn’t take the timeout.”

On grabbing the final steal with four fouls...

“I saw Nick hit the ball out his hand, it was loose, so I was just hustling to get to the ball before the defender did. I ended up getting to it first and we ended up winning.”

G – Tyson Carter – So.

On Dayton’s defense...

“Our shots weren’t consistently falling in the second half and we should’ve done a better job of attacking their zone through the top post.”

On baseline strategy...

“It was an adjustment during the game. We tried to overload it a little bit to overload the zone.”

Post Dayton Press Conference

Fr.-Jalen Crutcher-G

On the attempt to pull everything together...

“We just headed into halftime knowing we had to play harder and take care of the ball. I think we had 16 turnovers in the first half. We just have to take care of the ball and play hard. Everything will come together.”
