BOB HARTLEY MEMORIAL FELLOWSHIP

Providing training opportunities for young SIDs

Bob Hartley

Tony Schmidt

For more than half a century Robert M. "Bob" Hartley dedicated his life's work to promoting Mississippi State athletics. From his hiring as the school's first sports publicity director in August 1946 to his initial "retirement" as assistant athletic director for communications in June 1985, through his later years as an invaluable consultant for MSU's Department of Athletics, the man we called "Hart" gave special meaning to the words "loyalty" and "devotion to duty."

Mr. Bob's labors of love with MSU have not gone unrecognized. He has taken his place among college athletics' greats as a member of both the university's and the state's sports halls of fame and the College Sports Information Directors of America Hall of Fame.

His willingness to generously give of his talent, his time and his friendship serves as an inspiration to the countless lives he touched and to those that aspire to follow in his footsteps.

In that respect, the Bob Hartley Memorial Fellowship was created by the MSU Department of Athletics to provide training opportunities for young media relations practitioners.

Tony Schmidt is in his second year as the fifth recipient of the Bob Hartley Memorial Fellowship. A native of Starkville, Miss., Schmidt earned his bachelor's degree in interdisciplinary studies, with an emphasis in public relations and sports communication, from Mississippi State in 2005. Currently seeking a master's degree from State in sports administration, Schmidt serves as publicist for the MSU track & field/cross country programs and men's golf team.

Previous recipients of MSU's Bob Hartley Memorial Fellowship include Scott Kuykendall, Larry Little, Brock Turnipseed and René Oakes Garner.

MEDIA INFORMATION

The 2006-07 Mississippi State University Men's Basketball Media Guide has been prepared to assist media members in their coverage of the Bulldogs. It is our hope that most of your questions will be answered on the pages of this guide. However, should you desire any additional information or assistance, please contact the MSU Athletic Media Relations Office (Office Phone: 662-325-2703/3595). We appreciate your coverage of Bulldog basketball and look forward to working with you again this season.

MEDIA CREDENTIALS

Arrangements for media credentials for Mississippi State's 2006-07 home basketball season must be made through the MSU Athletic Media Relations Office. Requests by accredited media members should be made in writing and submitted on company letterhead to Mike Nemeth, Associate Athletic Director for Media and Public Relations. Credential requests can be mailed to the MSU Athletic Media Relations Office; P.O. Box 5308; MSU, MS 39762, or faxed to (662) 325-2563.

Priority for the issuance of credentials will be given to daily newspapers, radio stations and television stations which cover Mississippi State or MSU's game-day opponent on a regular basis. Due to space limitations, weekly publications, non-broadcasting radio representatives and on-line services may not be granted credentials. Student publications, radio stations and web sites that do not regularly cover MSU or its game-day opponent may be limited to one working media credential (press or photo), if applicable. Other credential requests will be filled on a space-available basis.

Members of the media are encouraged to file their written credential requests as far in advance of the requested game(s) as possible to ensure availability of credentials.

MEDIA WILL CALL

With advance notification, credentials for MSU home basketball games can be left at the main back entrance of Humphrey Coliseum. For those who prefer, credentials can also be left at the will call window (southeast end) adjacent to the Humphrey Coliseum Athletic Ticket Office.

MEDIA PARKING

A limited amount of parking spaces reserved for the media are available around the exterior of Humphrey Coliseum. Media members may consult the back of their media parking pass for diagrammed instructions regarding media parking locations. Requests for media parking passes should be specified when submitting requests for credentials.

TELEPHONES AND ETHERNET USE

A limited number of telephones are available for media use before, during and after home basketball games on a first-come, first-served basis in the Babe McCarthy Room, located just to the left upon entering the main back entrance of Humphrey Coliseum through the set of glass double doors. A limited number of high-speed ethernet connections are also available in the McCarthy Room on a first-come, first-serve basis.

PLAYER INTERVIEWS

In most cases, players will be available before practices during the course of the 2006-07 basketball season. All media members are encouraged to contact David Rosinski of the MSU Athletic Media Relations Office by e-mail (rosinski@athletics.msstate.edu) or phone (662-325-3595) for player interview requests and practice times throughout the season. Any player interviews conducted prior to daily practices need to be concluded 30 minutes before the start of practice.

Through the MSU Athletic Media Relations Office, Bulldog players will be asked to contact media members by phone for pre-arranged interviews at a mutually agreeable time.

HEAD COACH INTERVIEWS

Media members needing to conduct interviews with Mississippi State head basketball coach Rick Stansbury are encouraged to contact David Rosinski of the MSU Athletic Media Relations Office by telephone (662-325-3595) or via e-mail (rosinski@athletics.msstate.edu) for all interview requests throughout the season.

Telephone interviews with Rick Stansbury are best conducted weekdays prior to 11:00 a.m. CT, while in-person interviews with MSU's head basketball coach are recommended to take place weekdays prior to the team's afternoon practices.

POST-GAME INTERVIEWS

Located just to the left (at the bottom of the back stairwell) as one enters the Humphrey Coliseum back entrance via the lower parking lot area, the Babe McCarthy Room will serve as the media workroom and post-game press conference room throughout the 2006-07 basketball season.

Following the prescribed 10-minute cooling-down period after each home game, MSU head coach Rick Stansbury will be made available in the Babe McCarthy Room for a post-game press conference. Selected MSU players will also be made available to media members in the Green Room for post-game comments after each home game following the 10-minute cooling-down period.

Again this season, Mississippi State's locker room and team room areas will be closed to the media following home basketball games throughout the 2006-07 season. MSU athletic media relations personnel will be on hand to assist media members with their specific post-game player interview requests.

After each home basketball game, the visiting head coach will be brought to the Babe McCarthy Room for a press conference once Rick Stansbury has left the room for his post-game radio show. Opponent sports information personnel will coordinate the visiting team's post-game player interviews either inside or outside the visiting team's locker room.

GAME STATISTICS

Official NCAA boxscores and play-by-play will be handed out at courtside at halftime. Final game books, including boxscores, play-by-plays, shot charts and post-game quotes and notes, will be available in the Babe McCarthy Room following each game. Complete pre-game media packets will also be available to all attending media members.

SATELLITE UPLINKS

The MSU Television Center will uplink game highlights and post-game interviews following all SEC home games during the 2006-07 men's basketball season. Please contact Bennie Ashford of the MSU Television Center (662-325-1332 or bashford@utc.msstate.edu) for specific details of this uplink service.

SEC TELECONFERENCE

During the course of the 2006-07 Southeastern Conference basketball season, all 12 of the SEC men's basketball coaches and selected women's basketball coaches will participate in a league-wide teleconference twice weekly (every Monday and Thursday) beginning in January and running through the conference's regular season (Thursday, Jan. 4 through Monday, March 5). The teleconferences will be coordinated through the SEC Media Relations Office. Following a brief introduction, each coach will answer questions from the media for seven minutes. Media members should contact SEC Associate Media Relations Director DeWayne Peevy at the league office (205-458-3010 or dpeevy@sec.org) for additional information.

STARKVILLE, MISSISSIPPI

STARKVILLE PLAYING TO WIN!

When it's your turn to play, Starkville is the best game around. With more dining, shopping and recreational opportunities than ever before, plus great annual events like the Magnolia Independent Film Festival, the Cotton District Arts Festival, the Sturgis Motorcycle Rally, and exciting SEC athletics, Starkville takes it to the rim and scores '2': exciting travel fun and hometown hospitality. Whether your starting lineup includes cheering at "The Hump," bird-watching at the Noxubee National Wildlife Refuge, walking through a historic district, or practicing your golf swing, you'll score big with all the choices for fun and relaxation in Starkville.

CITY BACKGROUND

Founded in 1831 under the name "Boardtown," Starkville was incorporated and received its charter in 1837. Renamed for General John Stark, a Revolutionary War hero, Starkville is a thriving community located in the heart of Mississippi, easily accessible to metropolitan areas, such as Jackson, Birmingham and Memphis - and just 25 minutes from the Natchez Trace Parkway.

MISSISSIPPI STATE UNIVERSITY

A college town for more than a century, Starkville is surrounded by the energy and enthusiasm of the "Peoples University." Boasting an enrollment in excess of 16,000 students, Mississippi State University is the largest university in the state. MSU serves up exciting SEC sports action with its championship football, basketball and baseball teams. The university is also a national leader in veterinary medicine, agricultural research and engineering. Plus, MSU is home to both the highly acclaimed Lyceum Series and the Mississippi Piano Showcase, attracting the best cultural talent from around the world.

When you visit the campus, be sure to stop at the John Grisham Room at the Mitchell Memorial Library where America's best-selling author and 1977 MSU alum exhibits a personal collection of papers and publications. While at the library, you can also visit the Charles H. Templeton Sr. Music Museum, which showcases over 22,000 pieces of sheet music, records and musical instruments from the 1890s Ragtime Era.

Don't miss the other complimentary tours available at MSU where visitors may watch how the university's famous Edam cheese is made, taste MSU wine, juice and jellies that are produced from muscadine grapes.

THE GREAT OUTDOORS

Spectacular natural scenery flourishes every season in our part of the world. A year-round temperate climate makes Starkville an excellent destination for outdoor enthusiasts. Offering visitors a national wildlife refuge for hunting, picnicking, bird-watching, and hiking - as well as plentiful lakes for fishing - Starkville can't be beat.

Those who have discovered the 48,000-acre Noxubee National Wildlife Refuge know that it is an outdoor paradise, and a place where America's symbol of freedom, the bald eagle, as well as alligators, red cockaded woodpeckers, bobcats and wild turkeys call home.

Nearby are the John W. Starr Memorial Forest, an 8,200-acre natural woodlands park, and the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway, offering 1,000 miles of shoreline and 110,000 acres of land and water for play.

RICH HISTORY

Learn about Starkville's past with a visit to the Oktibbeha County Heritage Museum, where local artifacts are on display in a restored GM&O Railroad Depot. Enjoy a leisurely walking tour of one of Starkville's five historic districts. Make sure to explore the Cotton District, a thriving example of the architectural theory of "new urbanism." This revived district, which boasts the charm of Old Charleston or the French Quarter in New Orleans, once housed local cotton mill workers.

HOSPITALITY

Starkville is proud of its Southern hospitality, and our dining and lodging options are no exception. With more than 50 restaurants offering everything from down-home cooking and mouth-watering barbecue to fine dining and exotic cuisine, there is something to please every palette. Our lodging options range from national hotel chains to a full-service historic hotel, perfect for families or romantic weekend getaways.

HISTORIC LODGING

The historic Hotel Chester, a full-service hotel located in downtown Starkville, has been newly renovated with accommodations that take you back into time.

GOLFING

MSU's public golf course is rated by Golf Digest as one of the nation's "Best Places to Play." Located minutes from Starkville is the Old Waverly Golf Club - the site of the 1999 U.S. LPGA Women's Open Championship - which is named "One of the Top 100 Courses in the Nation" by Golf Digest. Also, Highlands Plantation offers 18 holes which remind you of the courses in Scotland.

ENTERTAINMENT

Starkville offers big-city entertainment choices as well. One of the smallest towns in the nation that touts a symphony orchestra and chorus, Starkville also actively supports a community theater.

Top-name entertainers and speakers are brought to town through the Lyceum and LECTERN Series, as well as through Music Maker Productions. The Blackfriars Drama Society, the Madrigal Singers, art exhibits, award-winning Mississippi State faculty concerts, as well as exciting year-round events, such as rodeos and horse shows at the Mississippi Horse Park, all add to the numerous cultural activities available.

RADIO AND TELEVISION

From the opening tip-off to the final buzzer, the color and excitement that is Mississippi State basketball fills the airwaves across the Mid-South again this season thanks to the MSU Basketball Radio Network. Linking nearly 30 radio stations, the satellite-fed broadcast signal blankets the Magnolia State. Network programming is distributed and coordinated through the facilities of TeleSouth Communications, Inc., headquartered in Jackson, Miss.

During the 2006-07 Mississippi State sports season, WFCA-FM (107.9), a 100,000-watt station located in French Camp, Miss., will again serve as the flagship station for the Bulldog Radio Network. The station, which blankets most of the north central portion of the state, is scheduled to air every Bulldog basketball game this season. In addition to having aired all MSU football games in the fall, WFCA is also slated to carry a substantial women's basketball schedule this year as well as the majority of the 2007 Mississippi State baseball slate.

Again this season, each basketball broadcast will tip off with an informative half-hour pre-game show in which ninth-year head basketball coach Rick Stansbury previews the upcoming opponent. A live post-game report featuring MSU's cage boss will round out the gameday programming.

The knowledgeable broadcasting tandem of Jack Cristil and Jim Ellis will once again be behind the microphones this season describing all of the play-by-play action.

The dean of SEC sportscasters, the personable Jack Cristil begins his 50th season of handling the play-by-play duties for Bulldog basketball. The Memphis, Tenn., native recently completed his 54th season of broadcasting Mississippi State football since being hired by legendary MSU athletic director C.R. "Dudy" Noble in the summer of 1953.

A veteran of approximately 1,800 MSU football and basketball broadcasts, Cristil is one of the South's most distinguished and most honored sports broadcasters, having been chosen by his peers in the broadcasting industry as the "Outstanding Sportscaster in Mississippi" a record 21 times during his illustrious career. In 1992, Cristil became the first non-athlete/non-athletic administrator to be inducted into the Mississippi Sports Hall of Fame, in addition to receiving the inaugural Ronald Reagan Lifetime Achievement Award presented by the National Association of Sportscasters and Sportswriters. In 1997, he was honored by the College Football Hall of Fame as the second recipient of the coveted Chris Schenkel Award for broadcasting excellence. Cristil was also inducted into the Mississippi State University Sports Hall of Fame in 2003, while most recently having been honored in 2004 with the prestigious Lindsey Nelson Award, given annually to one of the nation's premier sports broadcasters.

Cristil has handled the play-by-play for Mississippi State basketball since 1957-58, having been associated with 10 head football coaches and eight head men's basketball mentors through the years at MSU.

Beginning his 24th year with the MSU Basketball Radio Network, color analyst Jim Ellis will again team with Cristil this basketball season to form one of the finest broadcasting tandems in the SEC. Ellis was named the "Outstanding Broadcaster in Mississippi" in both 2002 and 1999. A native of West Point, Miss., Ellis attends to the behind-the-scenes technical aspects of the operation that keep the broadcasts on the air, in addition to his on-air duties as the Bulldogs' insightful color commentator.

Ellis, a 1969 Mississippi State alumnus, is probably best known as the ever-popular "Voice of the Baseball Bulldogs," serving as the producer-director of one of the nation's largest collegiate baseball radio networks for the past 28 years. In addition to teaming with Cristil on the MSU football and men's basketball radio broadcasts, Ellis handles the play-by-play chores for the Lady Bulldog basketball team. During his stint at his alma mater, Ellis has also handled the play-by-play basketball and football duties for various national and regional TV networks. Ellis also serves as the associate athletic director for external operations within the Mississippi State University athletic department, overseeing the management of the Bulldog Sports Network.

The veteran tandem of Jack Cristil (right) and Jim Ellis begin their 24th season of broadcasting Bulldog Basketball together on the MSU Radio Network.

MISSISSIPPI STATE BASKETBALL WITH RICK STANSBURY

Returning for its ninth season is the popular "Mississippi State Basketball with Rick Stansbury," a 30-minute television program featuring MSU's ninth-year head coach Rick Stansbury and his 2006-07 Bulldog basketball edition.

Hosted by veteran sportscaster Jack Cristil, the weekly show will feature game highlights, player interviews, scouting reports on upcoming opponents and courtside profiles showcasing interesting aspects of the MSU basketball program.

Under the direction of producer/director Bennie Ashford, the half-hour television program is a production of the Bulldog Sports Network in conjunction with the Mississippi State University Television Center.

2006-07 SEASON OUTLOOK

With nine lettermen returning, including four starters, the Mississippi State Bulldogs seem to have the numbers in their favor as the 2006-07 college basketball gets underway.

Such was not the case a year ago, as coach Rick Stansbury's youthful State squad tipped off the 2005-06 campaign minus 80 percent of its collective scoring, rebounding and assist numbers from the previous season. Despite incurring expected growing pains due to inexperience and enduring unexpected injuries and ailments, last year's Bulldog contingent battled to put together a respectable break-even 15-15 overall record.

Now with 76 percent of their scoring back, along with 74 percent of their rebounding and 79 percent of their assist totals all returning for the upcoming campaign, the Bulldogs look to the 2006-07 season bidding to resume yet another streak which saw previous Mississippi

State teams gain national attention by making four consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances with four straight 20-win seasons from 2002 through 2005.

Coming off last year's breakthrough sophomore campaign in which he averaged 17.3 points and 8.4 rebounds in conference play, junior all-America candidate Charles Rhodes enters the 2006-07 season as one of the premier power forwards in the talent-laden Southeastern Conference.

In order for another impressive stretch of postseason success to begin this coming season, some telling numbers from a year ago will need to be addressed. The inexperienced Bulldogs ended the 2005-06 season with their worst turnover margin (0.635) and fewest assists-per-game numbers (11.0 apg) in school history. Troubled by inconsistent offensive efficiency, especially early in the year due to youth and injuries, the 2005-06 MSU club concluded the season by posting the team's lowest scoring average (68.1 ppg), its first negative scoring margin (-0.5 ppg) and the fewest field goals made (748) since the school's post-Final Four campaign of 1996-97.

"We'll still be young, but I like my young team," Stansbury noted. "The positive thing about last year is that we had freshmen get 'junior' experience."

Still youthful with nine of their 13 available players entering either their first or second seasons of collegiate experience, the 2006-07 Bulldogs look again to be fueled by the powerful tandem of junior forward/center Charles Rhodes (13.8 ppg & 7.1 rpg) and sophomore guard/forward Jamont Gordon (13.8 ppg, 6.8 rpg & 4.3 apg).

Arguably the most improved player in the Southeastern Conference a year ago, Rhodes ranked fifth in the league in both scoring (17.3 ppg) and rebounding (8.4 rpg) against conference competition en route to earning second-team all-SEC honors. The reigning Cellular South Howell Trophy finalist completed his breakthrough sophomore campaign ranked 12th in the league overall in scoring, eighth in rebounding and third in field-goal percentage (56.4%) for all games. In addition to leading the Bulldogs with 54 dunks and 32 blocks a season ago, Rhodes made 50 percent or better of his field goals in 14 of 17 games versus SEC competition in 2005-06.

"Charles turned the corner for us last year," Stansbury said. "I don't know if we've had a player make that much of a jump from his first to second year. His next step is to become a leader on this basketball team by becoming a great teammate and making those people around him better."

A freshman all-American and unanimous freshman all-SEC selection as a rookie, Gordon broke out as MSU's most prolific freshman scorer since Rickey Brown (1976-77) and top rookie rebounder since Erick Dampier (1993-94), in addition to establishing a new single-season freshman school standard with 129 assists last season. The Nashville native and former prep all-American at Virginia's powerhouse Oak Hill Academy was the lone Bulldog player to start all 30 contests a year ago. Along with finishing his rookie campaign ranked 13th overall in the SEC in scoring, 10th in rebounding and seventh in assists, Gordon paced last year's State squad in minutes played (32.9 mpg) and steals (34).

"Jamont has all the ability in the world to play point," Stansbury stressed. "His biggest adjustment has been in understanding that he doesn't have to go make a play every time. Because of his strength, he has an advantage offensively to put the ball on the floor and take it to the basket. He's also an imposing presence defensively because he can go down the lane and rebound. The experience factor will allow him to become a better point guard mentally."

With the 6-foot-4, 225-pound Gordon expected to resume last year's season-ending role as State's starting playmaker, his backcourt mate figures to again be sophomore Reginald Delk (8.9 ppg & 2.2 rpg). The younger of MSU's Delk twins shattered the school's single-season freshman record with a team-high 59 made 3-pointers and ranked eighth nationally among Division I freshmen in three-point percentage (41.0%) a year ago as a 24-game starter.

"The thing that pleased me about Reginald is that he got better as last year went along - both in putting the ball on the floor and in becoming a better defender," Stansbury pointed out. "He needs to continue improving his strength level and working on his mid-range jumper to become an even better player."

The Bulldogs' fourth returning starter and one of only two seniors on this year's State squad, veteran swingman Dietric Slater (10.1 ppg & 4.9 rpg) is back in the mix, though his 2006-07 playing status looks to hinge on his ability to return to full form after last year's season-ending knee injury. A 19-game starter for MSU last season, Slater registered three straight double-doubles late last February before going down with a sprained medial collateral ligament in his left knee at Arkansas on March 1.

Exemplifying the Bulldogs' versatility and athleticism on this year's roster, sophomore guard/forward Richard Delk (3.5 ppg, 2.0 apg & 1.4 rpg) appears more than capable of supplying productive minutes at any of the three perimeter positions. The older of the Delk twins filled in admirably late last season at the '3' position after Slater's season-ending injury. He has now put himself into serious contention for a starting wing position after averaging a solid 6.7 points, on 57 percent field-goal shooting and 7-of-13 (54%) three-point accuracy, as well as 3.3 assists and 2.4 rebounds per outing over the final seven games a year ago.

"Richard got much better last season, especially when we moved him off the point and got him some time on the wing," Stansbury admitted. "You'll keep seeing him blossom because he does a little bit of everything."

Senior frontliner Piotr Stelmach (3.3 ppg & 2.9 rpg) will look to continue to provide solid backup support at the power forward spot again this season. A three-time SEC Academic Honor Roll recipient, Stelmach gained valuable international playing experience for the second straight year while competing for SCORE International this past summer in the Dominican Republic.

Also looking for more prominent roles this season are second-year frontcourt athletes Vernon Goodridge (1.8 ppg & 1.9 rpg) and Bernard Rimmer (0.5 ppg & 1.6 rpg), who both averaged single-digit minutes a year ago as rookies. With MSU not having the luxury of sporting a 7-footer for the first time since 2000-01, the off-season improvement and maturation of the ultra-athletic, 6-foot-9 Goodridge in the post could prove pivotal in State's hoops success this coming season.

"Vernon is a guy we need to step up for us," Stansbury emphasized. "The opportunities are there for him this year and we need him to step up and take on a different role on this year's team. His athleticism will give us some versatility and flexibility to play big with Vernon and Charles (Rhodes) out there together."

Rounding out this year's returning players, junior walk-on guard and 2005-06 team co-captain Billy Begley appears to be at full strength again after last year's medical redshirt season.

Unanimous Freshman All-SEC standout Jamont Gordon was the lone Bulldog player to start all 30 games for coach Rick Stansbury's State squad a year ago.

2006-07 SEASON OUTLOOK

Though not as highly ranked collectively as previous recruiting classes, this year's newcomer group looks to mesh perfectly with MSU's talented corps of returning players.

Rated as high as 53rd nationally by Scout.com among last year's high school seniors, long-armed defensive stalwart and improved offensive performer Jarvis Varnado (6-9, 195) from Brownsville, Tenn., figures to add an inside presence for the Bulldogs. The reigning first-team all-state selection averaged a team-best 13.2 points, 10.1 rebounds and 7.1 blocks per contest as a senior for his father's (Winston Varnado) 31-5 Haywood High School ballclub.

In an effort to bolster the team's much-needed backcourt depth and perimeter productivity, the Bulldogs have added 2005-06 'Mr. Basketball' honorees Ben Hansbrough (24.3 ppg, 10.4 rpg, 4.9 apg & 3.9 spg) of Poplar Bluff High School in Missouri and Barry Stewart (23.1 ppg, 7.3 rpg, 3.0 spg & 2.5 apg) of Shelbyville Central High School in Tennessee. The younger brother of Tyler Hansbrough, an all-America sophomore forward at the University of North Carolina, Hansbrough figures to provide immediate help at both the point guard and shooting-guard positions. Stewart should also instantly fit into MSU's backcourt plans with his excellent outside shooting touch.

Talented twins Richard (#1) and Reginald (#24) Delk helped lead the Bulldogs to a convincing 3-0 record against Canadian collegiate competition this past Labor Day weekend in Vancouver, British Columbia.

In-state product Phil Turner, a former prep teammate of Rimmer's at Grenada High School, rounds out Mississippi State's potential-packed group of first-year players.

"Our team ended up last season playing well, so we needed depth as much as anything," Stansbury revealed. "I think we filled our needs by adding some perimeter depth to our team - guys who can make shots. We had to get pieces to fit with the team we had, and I think we've put the pieces together. They're also all great kids with fine character and all come from great family backgrounds."

The continued maturation of this year's still-youthful State squad took a giant step forward this past off-season, as Stansbury's Bulldogs benefitted on and off the basketball floor by taking a Labor Day weekend trip to beautiful Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada. The 10 days of preseason practice preceding the holiday journey, as much as the actual game experience during the team's three lopsided wins (91-68, 100-65 & 120-62) over Canadian collegiate competition, are sure to pay big dividends in Mississippi State's rejuvenated quest to continue competing for championships and begin another successful streak of postseason tournament appearances.

"I know we'll have a very exciting basketball team this year," Stansbury predicted. "We're going to be quick and exciting again - more of a quicker team than a bigger team. I think we'll put up more points because we'll be able to shoot it. We filled our needs and I like our pieces."

2006-07 PRESEASON NOTES

PRESEASON BULLDOG BASKETBALL NOTEBOOK

✱ Last year's 10-3 regular-season record against non-conference competition marked the fifth consecutive season (and sixth time in the last eight seasons) that Rick Stansbury's Bulldogs reached double figures in wins prior to the start of conference play... MSU enters 2006-07 with an 89-22 (.802) composite record against non-SEC opponents during the Stansbury era, including an 84-16 (.840) regular-season mark versus non-league foes.

✱ For the second straight season, the Bulldogs look to tip off the new season with more players listed on their preseason roster from one state other than Mississippi... Featuring five Tennessee natives a year ago, last season marked the first time in school history that this had happened... Again this year, the state of Tennessee leads with five representatives followed by four Mississippi natives on this year's preseason State squad list.

✱ Mississippi State's unprecedented streak of consecutive SEC rebound margin team statistical titles was snapped at five a year ago after the youthful 2005-06 Bulldogs finished third (+4.2 rpg) among the league's leading rebounding teams behind Final Four participant LSU (+7.8 rpg) and Alabama (+4.5 rpg)... Dating back to 2000-01, MSU has ranked among the nation's top-five statistical leaders in rebound margin three times (5th in 2004-05 & 2000-01 and 3rd in 2003-04).

✱ Last year's inexperienced State squad went winless (0-8) on the road in conference play for the first time since the 1992-93 season... Ironically just two years prior, the 2003-04 Bulldogs were perfect on the road (12-0 overall & 8-0 in SEC play) en route to winning an outright SEC overall championship with records of 26-4 overall and 14-2 in the SEC... The following chart shows MSU's contrasting statistics from a year ago in SEC home and road action:

Stat Category	SEC Home	Gms	SEC Road	Gms
Scoring	70.8 ppg		62.1 ppg
Scoring Defense	67.6 ppg		75.6 ppg
Scoring Margin	+3.2 ppg		-13.5 ppg
FG Percentage	44.8%		42.6%
FG Pct. Defense	41.0%		46.8%
Rebounding	41.8 rpg		33.9 rpg
Rebound Defense	33.8 rpg		35.2 rpg
Rebound Margin	+8.0 rpg		-1.3 rpg

✱ After ranking third in the league last season with four SEC Academic Honor Roll recipients, the Bulldogs also rank third with 25 total academic honorees in the eight seasons since Rick Stansbury took over State's head coaching duties in 1998... MSU's 18 total SEC Academic Honor Roll recipients over the past four seasons lead the conference in men's basketball over both Georgia and LSU (14 each).

✱ For the first time since the 2000-01 basketball campaign, coach Rick Stansbury's Bulldogs will do battle during the 2006-07 season without the services of a 7-foot player... During the four-year span from 2001-02 through 2004-05, MSU featured both 7-foot-2 Wesley Morgan and 7-foot Marcus Campbell, while Morgan stayed on as a fifth-year senior on last year's State squad... This year's MSU team doesn't feature anyone taller than 6-foot-9.

BULLDOGS ENTER 2006-07 WITH NCAA-BEST, NON-SEC ROAD WIN STREAK

In an impressive streak that dates back to the 2000-01 basketball campaign, the Mississippi State Bulldogs will begin the 2006-07 season owners of an NCAA-best, 15-game road winning streak against non-conference competition. What makes MSU's active streak even more notable is that the second-longest current non-conference road winning streak of five games belongs jointly to Montana and Syracuse, according to STATS, Inc., out of Chicago.

State's non-SEC road success began during the 2000-01 season with a 75-74 victory over the Arizona Wildcats at the McKale Center in the championship game of their Bank One Fiesta Bowl Classic. During the postseason, the Bulldogs also claimed a 66-61 triumph at Pittsburgh in the second round of the 2001 National Invitation Tournament.

Overall during the Rick Stansbury era of Mississippi State basketball (since 1998-99), the Bulldogs have now compiled a noteworthy 16-3 composite record (.842) on the home floors of non-conference opponents, including last year's 53-38 road win over the Charlotte 49ers. MSU's three non-SEC road setbacks during the Stansbury era came during his first three seasons at the Bulldog helm (1999 NIT at Colorado State; 1999-2000 at Montana State & 2000 Preseason NIT at California).

This season, the Bulldogs' very challenging non-conference road slate takes them to Clemson (Nov. 21), Miami of Florida (Dec. 11), George Mason (Dec. 30) and Missouri (Jan. 2).

RICK STANSBURY SET TO MOVE UP ON MSU'S ALL-TIME COACHING RANKS

The only coach in the 94-season history of the Mississippi State men's basketball program to direct the Bulldogs to five consecutive postseason tournament appearances (2001-05), including four straight NCAA Tournament berths (2002-05), MSU head coach Rick Stansbury enters his ninth season at the State helm looking to inch further up the school's all-time basketball coaching ranks.

In his initial coaching appearance of the 2006-07 campaign, Stansbury will surpass the legendary Babe McCarthy and move into sole possession of second place on the school's all-time list for career games coached. With an eight-year head coaching mark of 164-90 (.646) as he enters the new season, Stansbury also begins 2006-07 needing six more victories to pass McCarthy for second place on Mississippi State's all-time chart in career coaching wins. Stansbury's former mentor, Richard Williams, presently tops the school's all-time charts with 354 career games coached and 191 career coaching victories.

As the 2006-07 conference season gets underway in January, Stansbury currently trails only Williams (89) and McCarthy (88) for career SEC coaching wins in school history. Having guided the Bulldogs to the 2002 SEC Tournament title, back-to-back SEC Western Division crowns in 2003 and 2004, and an outright SEC overall championship in 2004, Stansbury will enter this year's league play sporting a career coaching mark of 67-61 (.523) in regular-season action.

MISSISSIPPI STATE BULLDOGS FEATURE PLENTY OF BASKETBALL BLOODLINES

At least five members of this year's Mississippi State basketball team have significant athletic bloodlines running in their respective families.

Sophomore twins Reginald and Richard Delk of Jackson, Tenn., are nephews of current NBA veteran guard and former Kentucky All-American Tony Delk. The twins' father, Rickie, was a four-time all-conference performer and three-time league scoring champion at Lambuth University. Janice and Winston Varnado, the parents of native Tennessean and freshman center/forward Jarvis Varnado, both played collegiate basketball at Lambuth and Union University, respectively. Freshman guard Ben Hanbrough is the younger brother of University of North Carolina All-American sophomore forward Tyler Hansbrough. Their father, Dr. Gene Hansbrough, was a high jumper at the University of Missouri, while their uncle, Sean "The Beast" Fister, is a three-time RE/MAX World Long Drive Golf Champion. Senior swingman Dietric Slater's cousin, Murriel Page, is a nine-year WNBA veteran after starring at Florida.

2006-07 PRESEASON NOTES

MSU RATES FIRST AMONG WINNINGEST SEC WEST TEAMS SINCE 1998-99

Since ninth-year head coach Rick Stansbury took over Mississippi State's basketball coaching duties from Richard Williams in 1998, the Bulldogs rate as the winningest SEC Western Division team and the third-winningest hoops program overall in the league behind perennial SEC Eastern Division front-runners Kentucky and Florida. Over the last eight seasons, MSU's composite record of 164-90 (.646) ranks behind only Kentucky [206-67 (.755)] and defending NCAA champion Florida [199-66 (.751)].

In regular-season SEC play, the Bulldogs (67-61) trail only Alabama (69-59) among the winningest SEC West programs and fifth overall in the league (also behind SEC East foes Kentucky, Florida & Tennessee) since 1998-99.

Additionally, only SEC Eastern Division foes Kentucky (16-4), Florida (12-6) and South Carolina (10-8) own more collective SEC Tournament wins than State dating back to the 1999 postseason. MSU is tied with Arkansas with identical 8-7 composite records in SEC Tournament play since 1999, including a league tournament title in 2002 and a school-first second straight appearance in the SEC Tournament championship game the following year.

MSU POSTS EIGHTH STRAIGHT 10+ WIN HOME SEASON UNDER STANSBURY

Having claimed their last four home decisions of the 2005-06 regular season all by double figures (71-58 over Alabama; 83-68 over Georgia; 84-55 over Ole Miss & 71-53 over Auburn), the Bulldogs have reached double digits for home wins during each of the previous eight seasons under Rick Stansbury's guidance.

Mississippi State is collectively 94-22 (.810) overall at Humphrey Coliseum under his direction, including a 47-17 (.734) SEC mark and 47-5 (.904) non-SEC record. Last year's back-to-back November home setbacks to Northwestern State and Southeastern Louisiana marked only the fourth and fifth non-conference home losses during the Stansbury era.

The Bulldogs have now compiled a 31-season composite record of 300-120 (.714) at "The Hump" since Mississippi State's basketball facility opened prior to the 1975-76 campaign.

MSU EASILY SWEEPS THROUGH CANADIAN COMPETITION OVER LABOR DAY

With all 11 healthy and available players averaging double-digit minutes played, the Bulldogs of Mississippi State easily swept through three games against Canadian collegiate competition this past Labor Day weekend in beautiful Vancouver, British Columbia. State's holiday weekend journey was organized by Basketball Travelers, Inc.

In compiling a substantial +38.7 points-per-game scoring margin and commanding +17.3 rebounds-per-game rebounding margin during the weekend, coach Rick Stansbury's Bulldogs opened play Saturday (Sept. 2) with a convincing day-night doubleheader sweep of University College of the Fraser Valley (91-68) and the University of Saskatchewan (100-65) in Abbotsford and New Westminster, respectively. State capped the holiday weekend with a 120-62 pound-of Douglas College in New Westminster on Sunday evening (Sept. 3).

As a team in Canada, the Bulldogs shot a collective 53 percent from the field and 66 percent from the charity stripe, while holding the opposition to 36 percent field-goal shooting.

Individually, reigning SEC All-Freshman pick Jamont Gordon averaged a team-leading 18.0 points for the weekend on 22-of-35 (63%) accuracy from the field. Sophomore guard Reginald Delk (7-of-16 treys) and All-SEC junior forward Charles Rhodes (15-of-27 FGs) averaged 13.7 and 13.3 points, respectively. Sophomore center/forward Vernon Goodridge contributed 12.0 points a contest, in addition to leading the team in rebounding (7.3 rpg) and blocks (6). Sophomore swingman Richard Delk (6.3 ppg & 3.3 rpg) also started all three games in Canada. Guards Ben Hansbrough (8.3 ppg & 8-of-13 FGs) and Barry Stewart (7.7 ppg & 7-of-15 treys) were State's leading freshmen scorers during the holiday weekend.

PRESEASON BULLDOG BASKETBALL NOTEBOOK

✕ For the second year in a row, the 2006-07 Mississippi State men's basketball schedule features an all-time, school-record 16 regular-season home games to be played at 10,500-seat Humphrey Coliseum... Last year's 16-game home slate (11-5 record) broke the previous school standard of 15 regular-season home games played during the 2000-01 regular season (excluding two postseason NIT home contests).

✕ Scheduled to meet the University of New Orleans at Jackson's Mississippi Coliseum on Dec. 21, this season marks the fourth consecutive year, and the fifth time since 1998-99, that the Bulldogs will have played a basketball game in Mississippi's capital city during the nine seasons in which Rick Stansbury has been at the State coaching helm.

✕ Since inter-divisional league play began in 1991-92, the Bulldogs are 82-74 versus the SEC West (52-23 at home & 25-50 on the road) and 50-59 against the SEC East (29-16 at home & 14-31 on the road)... In SEC Tournaments since 1991-92, MSU is 5-1 versus the SEC West and 7-12 against the SEC East... During the Rick Stansbury era of State hoops, MSU is 48-37 against the SEC West and 27-31 versus the SEC East.

✕ During the Rick Stansbury era of Mississippi State hoops, the Bulldogs are: 130-17 when leading at halftime; 115-24 when shooting 45% or better from the field; 132-35 when the opposition shoots less than 45% from the field; 136-57 when out-rebounding (or tying) the opponent; and 105-17 when holding the opposition to 65 points or less... Also during the Stansbury era, State is: 94-22 at Humphrey Coliseum (47-17 vs. SEC teams & 47-5 vs. non-SEC teams); 89-22 overall vs. non-SEC opponents; 30-7 during November games; and 50-9 during December games.

✕ With a composite overall record of 112-48 (.700) during the past five seasons combined, the Bulldogs of Mississippi State head into the 2006-07 campaign ranked tied for 25th nationally (and third among SEC teams behind Kentucky and Florida) among the winningest NCAA Division I men's basketball programs dating back to the 2001-02 season, according to STATS, Inc., out of Chicago.

✕ MSU's Hall of Fame sports broadcaster Jack Cristil will be in his 50th season of calling play-by-play basketball action for the Bulldogs this year... Having also called play-by-play football action for the Bulldogs for 54 seasons, the Memphis, Tenn., native is a member of both the Mississippi and Mississippi State University Sports Halls of Fame.

✕ Since Rick Stansbury took over Mississippi State's head coaching duties in 1998, the Bulldogs have lost three McDonald's All-American signees (all Mississippi high school standouts) to the NBA... Most recently, 2004-05 Mississippi prep player of the year Monta Ellis of Jackson's Lanier High School was selected in the second round of the 2005 NBA draft... Previously, Mississippi natives Travis Outlaw (23rd pick in 2003 by Portland) of Starkville and Jonathan Bender (5th pick in 1999 by Toronto and then traded to Indiana) of Picayune bypassed school at Mississippi State for the NBA.

HEAD COACH RICK STANSBURY

Consistency is a key ingredient to the recent success enjoyed by the Mississippi State University basketball program. It is that consistency stressed in the players' daily activities on and off the basketball floor that has translated into the team's recent run of national prominence gained under head coach Rick Stansbury.

Entering his ninth season at the Mississippi State helm and 17th year overall in Starkville, Stansbury ranks third all-time with an MSU career coaching mark of 164-90 (.646). His first coaching appearance of 2006-07 will move him past Babe McCarthy and into sole possession of second place on the school's all-time list for career games coached. Stansbury also enters the upcoming campaign needing six victories to surpass McCarthy for second place on Mississippi State's all-time chart in career coaching wins.

Following a 23-11 campaign in 2004-05 that capped a successful run of four consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances and four straight 20-win seasons, Stansbury orchestrated the resurgence of perhaps another upcoming string of State hoops success a year ago. Minus 80 percent of the team's firepower from the previous season, Stansbury molded a very inexperienced 2005-06 club into a competitive unit that battled to a respectable 15-15 ledger and gave Bulldog basketball fans great promise for the future.

MSU's recent streak of collecting hardwood hardware was highlighted by the 2003-04 State squad claiming the school's first outright SEC title since 1962-63 with a school-best 14-2 league mark. For MSU's 2003-04 season successes, which included an undefeated season (8-0) in SEC road action, a No. 4 regular-season national AP ranking and a school-record No. 2 seeding in NCAA Tournament play, Stansbury was named the SEC's Coach of the Year by The Associated Press. He also collected district coaching honors from both the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) and the United States Basketball Writers Association (USBWA).

In 2002-03, Stansbury piloted the 21-10 Bulldogs to an NCAA Tournament appearance after advancing to the championship game of the SEC Tournament for a second consecutive year. The 2001-02 MSU contingent captured the school's second SEC Tournament title and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament on the way to establishing a new single-season school standard with 27 victories.

STATE SUCCESS DURING RICK STANSBURY ERA

✕ The Bulldogs have averaged 20.5 wins per season and have participated in postseason tournament play six times (4 NCAA & 2 NIT) in the eight seasons since Rick Stansbury became Mississippi State's head coach in 1998.

✕ Mississippi State recently made five consecutive postseason tournament appearances (2001-2005) for the first time in school history, including a streak of four straight NCAA Tournament berths from 2002-2005... In addition, the 2003-04 State squad earned an all-time, school-best No. 2 seed in the Atlanta Regional of the 2004 NCAA Tournament after claiming MSU's first outright SEC overall championship since the 1962-63 campaign.

✕ State's recent school-record streak of four consecutive 20-win seasons (2002-2005), including an all-time, program-best 27 victories during the 2001-02 campaign, doubles the previous MSU mark established prior to the Rick Stansbury era.

✕ Mississippi State has averaged 22.4 wins per season over the last five years (2002-2006), including winning an outright SEC overall championship in 2004, back-to-back SEC West crowns in 2003 and 2004 and an SEC Tournament title in 2002.

✕ Mississippi State rates as the winningest basketball program in the SEC's Western Division (164-90 record) and third-winningest Southeastern Conference program overall (behind SEC East foes Kentucky and Florida) spanning back to the 1998-99 campaign... Dating back to the 2001-02 season, the Bulldogs rank tied for 25th nationally among the winningest programs in NCAA Division I men's basketball with a five-year composite record of 112-48 (.700).

✕ The Bulldogs made regular-season appearances in the Top 25 national polls during four consecutive seasons (2002-2005), including a season-best No. 11 ranking by The Associated Press in 2004-05 and a season-high No. 4 national AP ranking during MSU's 26-4 SEC Championship season of 2003-04.

✕ The Bulldogs have claimed the Southeastern Conference's rebound margin team statistical title during five of the last six seasons, including five straight team rebounding titles from 2001-2005... During MSU's SEC Championship season of 2003-04, the Bulldogs finished third nationally in rebound margin, while ranking fifth among the NCAA's team rebounding leaders in both 2004-05 and 2000-01.

✕ Mississippi State ranks third in the SEC (behind Florida and LSU) with a collective total of 25 SEC Academic Honor Roll recipients in the eight seasons that Rick Stansbury has been at the Bulldog helm... MSU's 18 total academic honorees over the past four seasons combined lead the conference over both Georgia and LSU (14 apiece).

HEAD COACH RICK STANSBURY

With four NCAA Tournament appearances (2002-05), two National Invitation Tournament showings (2001 & 1999), as well as an overall Southeastern Conference championship (2004), back-to-back SEC Western Division crowns (2004 & 2003) and an SEC Tournament title (2002) in his prior eight seasons at the Mississippi State helm, Stansbury has become the first coach in the school's 94-year basketball history to record four consecutive 20-win seasons (2002-05) as well as establishing school firsts with five straight postseason tournament appearances (2001-05) and four successive NCAA Tournament berths.

As an eight-year assistant coach on Richard Williams' MSU staff, Stansbury previously played an instrumental role in helping Mississippi State secure the talent that enabled the Bulldogs to enjoy their most successful decade ever on the hardwood. Stansbury's proven track record as a tireless recruiter and knowledgeable tactician made him the obvious choice to replace Williams as the school's 18th head basketball coach. Just one day following the retirement of Mississippi State's all-time winningest basketball coach, Stansbury succeeded his former mentor on March 13, 1998.

Following a 16-year collegiate stint in the assistant coaching ranks, Stansbury immediately made his presence felt as a head man by becoming the most successful first-year basketball coach in school history. His 1998-99 Bulldog club capped a successful 20-13 rookie campaign by advancing to the semifinals of the SEC Tournament and earning a berth in the 1999 National Invitation Tournament. Two years later, Stansbury's Bulldogs set the table for their subsequent run of three consecutive Southeastern Conference championships - regular season, divisional or tournament - by advancing to the quarterfinals of the 2001 NIT before being eliminated by eventual tournament champion Tulsa.

Having originally joined the Mississippi State University basketball family as an assistant coach on June 12, 1990, Stansbury immediately helped direct a senior-laden 1990-91 Bulldog ballclub to both the school's first Southeastern Conference basketball title and subsequent NCAA Tournament appearance in 28 years with a 20-9 overall record and 13-5 SEC mark.

All in all during his 16 prior seasons on the Mississippi State campus, including his previous eight-year stint as an MSU assistant coach (the last four seasons as associate head coach) under Williams' tutelage, Stansbury has been a part of 305 State victories and 10 postseason tournament teams. Highlighting his days as an MSU assistant coach, the Bulldogs exploded onto the national college basketball scene by advancing to the NCAA Sweet 16 in 1995 and then making a school-first appearance in the NCAA Final Four a year later in 1996. Since Stansbury's arrival on the State scene in 1990, the Bulldogs have also claimed the school's lone pair of SEC Tournament titles (2002 & 1996), two overall SEC championships (2004 & 1991) as well as four SEC West crowns (2004, 2003, 1996 & 1995).

A 1982 graduate of Campbellsville (Ky.) College and former four-year basketball letterman for the Tigers, MSU head basketball coach Rick Stansbury was inducted into the Campbellsville University Athletic Hall of Fame in 2003. As a senior, Stansbury helped lead Campbellsville to the school's first District 32 hoops title and an appearance in the 1981 NAIA Tournament.

As a result of Mississippi State's recent roundball success, Stansbury was recently tabbed by The Hoop Scoop as the nation's top-ranked 'Mid-Career' head coach in NCAA Division I men's basketball. In recognition of being regarded as one of the nation's most respected talent-seekers, Stansbury was previously ranked among the top 20 recruiters in the country during a survey of 113 NCAA Division I basketball coaches conducted in the 1990s by the Seattle Post-Intelligencer newspaper.

Since joining the highly competitive Southeastern Conference coaching ranks 16 years ago, Stansbury has helped recruit and develop a total of 13 all-SEC players and three unanimous SEC All-Freshman selections at MSU, including current Bulldog standouts Charles Rhodes and Jamont Gordon. In addition, Mississippi State has had four all-SEC players (Tyrone Washington-1999; Mario Austin & Derrick Zimmerman-2003; and 2003-04 SEC Player of the Year and All-American Lawrence Roberts-2005) as well as three all-America high school signees from the state of Mississippi (Jonathan Bender-1999; Travis Outlaw-2003; and Monta Ellis-2005) selected in the NBA Draft since Stansbury took over MSU's head coaching duties in 1998. Roberts and Zimmerman made their NBA debuts with the Memphis Grizzlies and New Jersey Nets, respectively, during the 2005-06 campaign.

Dedicated to a program committed to keeping the state of Mississippi's best roundball talent at home, Stansbury is the man most responsible for MSU's recent trend of inking Mississippi high school players of the year. The Bulldogs have signed numerous Mississippi prep players of the year during his successful association with the team's basketball program. Most recently, Stansbury was instrumental in securing in-state talent Monta Ellis of perennial State powerhouse Lanier High School in Jackson, Miss. Drafted by the NBA's Golden State Warriors in 2005, Ellis became MSU's fourth McDonald's High School All-American signee over a recent seven-year span. Prior to Ellis, local Starkville (Miss.) High School product Travis Outlaw was selected in the first round of the 2003 NBA Draft (23rd pick overall) by the Portland Trail Blazers. Prior to that, Stansbury and his hard-working staff of assistants had inked McDonald's High School All-Americans during back-to-back years for the first time in school history with the signings of Mario Austin and Jonathan Bender. Bender recently retired from professional basketball after struggling through seven injury-plagued seasons with the NBA's Indiana Pacers. A highly touted prep standout at Picayune (Miss.) Memorial High School, Bender became a lottery pick (No. 5 selection overall by the Toronto Raptors) in the 1999 NBA Draft after breaking Michael Jordan's previous McDonald's All-American Game scoring record.

One of Stansbury's most lauded recruiting coups during his eight-year stint as an MSU assistant coach, Erick Dampier is presently participating in his 11th NBA season to rank third behind Hall of Famer Bailey Howell and former NBA All-Star Jeff Malone on MSU's all-time professional longevity list. Now in his third season with the reigning NBA Finals runners-up Dallas Mavericks, Dampier capped an eight-year stint with the NBA's Golden State Warriors in 2003-04 by ranking as the league's No. 4 rebounder (12.0 rpg) and rating third in field-goal percentage (53.5%).

Following State's unprecedented run to the 1996 NCAA Final Four, Dampier (10th pick overall) and Dontae' Jones, a New York Knicks first-round selection (21st), became the first Bulldog duo in school history to be chosen in the first round of the NBA Draft during the same year. Jones' arrival at State in 1995 from Northeast Mississippi Community College began a three-year run of first-team junior college all-Americans to sign with MSU. Horatio Webster and Detrick White, former high school and junior college teammates at Durant (Miss.) High School and Connors State (Okla.) College, followed suit the next two years.

Along with having the staff's primary recruiting responsibilities during his productive stint as a Bulldog assistant coach, Stansbury was being groomed for his subsequent promotion to head coach. Under Williams' guidance, he was also charged with Mississippi State's all-important scouting duties, along with being actively involved in the program's schedule-making process and popular summer basketball camps.

Prior to joining the Mississippi State coaching staff at the start of the 1990s, Stansbury previously logged a six-year stint as an assistant basketball coach at Austin Peay State University in Clarksville, Tenn. Working alongside his good friend and former APSU head coach Lake Kelly, Stansbury was directly involved with a full scope of coaching responsibilities, including serving as recruiting coordinator. Similar to the success he has since helped bring to MSU's program, Stansbury helped guide Austin Peay to three consecutive winning campaigns, beginning with an Ohio Valley Conference Tournament championship and a subsequent NCAA Tournament second-round berth during the 1986-87 season in which the Governors posted a 20-12 mark.

During Stansbury's six-year association with Austin Peay's roundball program, the Governors compiled an 87-89 (.494) composite record, including a 40-40 regular-season conference mark and an 8-5 OVC Tournament record. With the team's postseason tournament success in league play, APSU landed a total of seven players, including two tourney MVPs, on the OVC All-Tournament team over a four-year span.

A native of Battletown, Ky., Stansbury's 16-year career as an assistant basketball coach began at his alma mater. While earning a double major in business and physical education from Campbellsville (Ky.) College (now Campbellsville University) in 1982, Stansbury was a four-year letterman as a backcourt performer. After helping lead the Tigers to the 1979 KAC Tournament championship and a regular-season league title the following year, Stansbury averaged 12 points per game as a senior starter to help pace Campbellsville to the school's first District 32 crown and an appearance in the 1981 NAIA Tournament.

Setting out on his basketball coaching career while also completing his bachelor's degree requirements, Stansbury stayed on the following season (1981-82) as a student assistant on the late Lou Cunningham's Campbellsville coaching staff. Stansbury would later hire Cunningham's son, Phil, as an assistant coach on his Mississippi State staff in 2000 after the two had previously worked together on Williams' MSU staff during the 1991-92 campaign.

Stansbury then served as a graduate assistant on coach Randy Vernon's staff at Cumberland College in Williamsburg, Ky. While earning his master's degree in business education, Stansbury helped direct the 1983-84 Indian club to a 31-5 mark and second-round appearance in the NAIA Tournament.

Four years ago in 2003, Stansbury was honored by his alma mater as an inductee into the Campbellsville University Athletic Hall of Fame, along with former Tiger head football coach Sam Wickliffe. In October 1999, Stansbury was previously honored by the Campbellsville Alumni Association as a proud recipient of the school's Distinguished Alumni Award.

Most recently, Stansbury has made off-the-court contributions to society by donating his time and energy the past two summers to Camp Rising Sun, a camp located in nearby Columbus, Miss., that caters to children ages 6-14 who are being treated, or have been treated, for cancer. On a regional scale, Stansbury volunteered in 2005 to serve on the organizing committee of Coaches Care, a group of coaches united to assist victims of Hurricane Katrina.

The son of the late Robert Stansbury and the late Norma Stansbury of Battletown, Ky., Stansbury is a 1977 graduate of Meade County High School in Brandenburg, Ky., where he was a four-year basketball letterman and three-time all-district performer. As a prep senior, Stansbury was voted the team's most improved player after averaging 15 points per game.

Stansbury's father, Robert, who had been the head coach's special guest during Mississippi State's run to the 2002 SEC Tournament championship earlier that year in Atlanta, passed away following a courageous battle with cancer just as preseason basketball practice tipped off in 2002. Ironically, the coach's mother, Norma, passed away on Nov. 17, 1998 in Florida on the day her son was making his MSU coaching debut in Jackson, Miss.

Stansbury, who will turn 47 on Dec. 23, 2006, is married to the former Meo Mellen of Roanoke, Va. They are the proud parents of three sons -- Isaac, who will turn 7 years old on Dec. 14, 2006; Noah, who will celebrate his fifth birthday on April 26, 2007; and Luke, who turned 2 years old this past July.

ASSISTANT COACH ROBERT KIRBY

Widely considered to be one of the most respected veteran assistants in the major college coaching ranks, Robert Kirby begins the ninth season of his second tour of duty with the Mississippi State basketball family. He has continued to serve as the school's top assistant basketball coach on the staff of Rick Stansbury since MSU's current head coach was hired in 1998. The tandem previously teamed up together for three seasons (1991-93) a decade ago as assistant coaches on Richard Williams' State staff.

During the past eight seasons under Stansbury's direction, Kirby has helped guide the Bulldogs to an average of 20 wins per year, including a school-record 27 victories during the 2001-02 campaign along with the record-setting 2003-04 State squad posting a 26-4 overall record and 14-2 SEC mark. While playing an integral role in helping lead MSU to a recent string of four consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances, Kirby's tireless efforts on the recruiting trail and daily coaching contributions on the practice floor helped the Bulldogs claim an SEC championship - regular season or tournament - for three straight seasons from 2001-02 to 2003-04. Along with Mississippi State's first outright SEC hoops title since 1962-63 coming three years ago, the Bulldogs also captured back-to-back SEC Western Division crowns in 2003 and 2004. MSU's previous streak of three straight championship campaigns began with the Bulldogs winning the SEC Tournament title in 2002.

As with his previous stint on the Starkville campus, Kirby is actively involved in recruiting efforts for the Bulldogs, having been instrumental in securing Mississippi State's nationally ranked recruiting classes each of the past eight seasons since his return to MSU. Specializing in the daily instruction of State's frontcourt players, Kirby also assists with day-to-day scouting preparations and shares on-floor gameday coaching responsibilities.

In recognition of his two decades' worth of coaching achievements and recruiting prowess at six different schools through the years, Kirby has been tabbed one of the nation's top 25 recruiters by Rivals.com during recent years.

A native of Memphis, Tenn., Kirby returned to Mississippi State in 1998 after spending five seasons (1994-98) as an assistant coach at the University of Houston, where he served as the staff's recruiting coordinator in addition to his coaching and scouting duties. He helped the Cougars land one of the nation's top 10 recruiting classes in 1994, while also helping guide the 1995-96 UH club to a second-place finish in the Southwest Conference.

During his previous four-year coaching stint (1990-93) at Mississippi State, Kirby was a staff member on the 1990-91 Bulldog contingent that collectively claimed a share of the school's first Southeastern Conference basketball title since 1963 and first NCAA Tournament appearance in 28 seasons. A former collegiate front-court standout himself, he assisted with the day-to-day tutelage of Bulldog all-SEC forwards Cameron Burns and Greg Carter.

Prior to his initial four-year association with the Mississippi State basketball program, Kirby served a one-year stint as an assistant coach at Southeastern Louisiana University. Previously, the 24-year coaching veteran spent three seasons as an assistant at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock, where he helped lead the Trojans to a composite record of 73-29, including three postseason tournament appearances and three consecutive Trans America Athletic Conference titles. Kirby began his coaching career with a one-year stop as a full-time assistant coach at Arkansas College.

A two-year basketball letterwinner and 1983 graduate of Pan American University (now known as the University of Texas-Pan American) in Edinburg, Texas, Kirby was a starting forward on the 1980-81 Bronc club that earned a berth in the National Invitation Tournament after recording a regular-season upset win over the eventual NCAA Champion Indiana Hoosiers. He went on to average 12.4 points and 7.0

rebounds per game as a senior before serving one season as a student assistant coach at his alma mater.

Kirby began his collegiate playing career at Three Rivers Community College in Poplar Bluff, Mo., where he helped lead the Raiders to the 1978-79 national championship as a freshman and a fifth-place national team finish the following season. During his rookie season at Three Rivers, Kirby teamed with former MSU assistant coach Sam Weaver, who was named the 1979 NJCAA Tournament MVP for the National Champion Raiders.

Kirby, 46, is married to the former Valerie Jackson of Memphis, Tenn. They are the parents of two daughters - Katrina, 22, and Robin, 18.

ASSISTANT COACH PHIL CUNNINGHAM

One of the top all-around assistant coaching talents in all of collegiate basketball, Phil Cunningham begins his seventh season on Rick Stansbury's Mississippi State basketball coaching staff. He continues his association with MSU's ninth-year head coach after the two previously served together on Richard Williams' Bulldog coaching staff during the 1991-92 campaign.

During his second stint at MSU, Cunningham has taken on primary responsibilities in the areas of recruiting, player development with the Bulldog guards, scouting, and on-floor coaching duties. The Bulldogs' last seven recruiting classes have all been nationally recognized due largely in part to his relentless recruiting style, tremendous work ethic, and eye for talent.

On the court, Cunningham's daily contributions to the Bulldog basketball program have resulted in MSU's recent string of four consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances. He has also played a significant role in Mississippi State's recent run of three straight championship seasons, highlighted by MSU's first outright Southeastern Conference basketball championship since 1963 three years ago along with back-to-back SEC Western Division crowns in 2003 and 2004. The streak began in 2002 with the Bulldogs claiming the SEC Tournament title en route to winning a school-record 27 contests. With Cunningham on board, the Bulldogs have averaged 21 wins per year since the 2000-01 season, including the team's record-breaking 26-4 campaign (14-2 in SEC play) during the 2003-04 season.

For his yearly recruiting and coaching accomplishments in helping make Mississippi State a consistent SEC title contender, Cunningham was recently recognized by The Hoop Scoop recruiting publication as one of the nation's top NCAA Division I men's basketball assistant coaches.

Having earned his master's degree in physical education with an emphasis in sports administration from MSU while he was serving as a graduate assistant coach during his prior stop at State, Cunningham returned to the Starkville campus in 2000 after spending the previous three seasons on Charles "Lefty" Driesell's coaching staff at Georgia State University. In spending his last two seasons in Atlanta as GSU's associate head coach, Cunningham was instrumental in helping transform the Panther team into what developed into one of the winningest basketball programs in the Atlantic Sun Conference. His tireless recruiting efforts at Georgia State proved pivotal in the Panthers landing successive conference player of the year recipients Thomas Terrell and Shernard Long.

Prior to rejoining Driesell at Georgia State in 1997, Cunningham spent the 1995-96 and 1996-97 seasons as an assistant coach on the staff of the 'Lefthander' at James Madison University in Harrisonburg, Va. Cunningham's 10-year stint as an NCAA Division I assistant coach was preceded by a three-year stay as head basketball coach at Sue Bennett College in London, Ky. Taking over a former junior college program making the jump to four-year competition in the NAIA, he paced SBC to 48 victories during his three seasons at the Dragon helm, including postseason tournament appearances during each of the school's first two years of postseason eligibility status.

A native of Campbellsville, Ky., and the son of the late Lou Cunningham - long-time coach at Campbellsville (Ky.) College (now Campbellsville University) - Cunningham spent the 1990-91 campaign as an assistant coach on his father's staff, helping lead the Tigers to the District 32 championship and an appearance in the NAIA Tournament. Like Stansbury, Cunningham earned his bachelor's degree in business administration from Campbellsville. Also a native Kentuckian, Stansbury graduated from the school in 1982.

Cunningham ranks among Campbellsville's all-time leaders in career assists despite playing his freshman year on Kentucky Wesleyan's 1986-87 NCAA Division II national championship team. As a senior starting guard at Campbellsville during the 1989-90 season, Cunningham topped the NAIA District 32 in assists and free throw percentage.

During his prep athletic career at Taylor County High School in Campbellsville, Ky., Cunningham was an all-state honorable mention backcourt performer as well as an all-conference shortstop in baseball.

A 16-year veteran of the collegiate basketball coaching ranks, Cunningham, 40, has one daughter, Shelby, 6.

ASSISTANT COACH MARK WHITE

Beginning his fifth season overall with the Bulldog basketball family, Mark White is in his third season as an assistant coach on Rick Stansbury's Mississippi State staff after serving two previous campaigns as the staff's coordinator of men's basketball operations.

Previously involved primarily with the coordination of the Bulldogs' travel arrangements as well as having scheduling and film exchange responsibilities, White is now charged with primary responsibilities in the wide-ranging areas of scouting preparation, on-floor gameday coaching, scheduling, film exchange, recruiting, and various assigned administrative duties.

During his first four seasons on the Mississippi State coaching staff, White has played an integral role in helping direct the nationally ranked Bulldogs to three consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances, including the team's record-setting SEC championship season of 2003-04. Along with helping MSU to an average of 21 wins per season since his arrival on the State scene in 2002, including the club's 26-4 overall record and school-best 14-2 SEC mark in 2003-04, White has also been associated with back-to-back SEC West title-winning teams in 2003 and 2004.

With nearly 20 years of coaching and teaching experience at both the collegiate and high school levels, White rejoined the NCAA Division I coaching ranks in September 2002, after serving two seasons as the head boys basketball coach and special education instructor at Central Hardin High School in Cecilia, Ky.

Prior to moving back to his home state of Kentucky in 2000, White served as an assistant coach for four seasons at North Idaho College in Coeur d'Alene, where he helped tutor former MSU point guard Todd Myles. While at NIC, White helped direct coach Hugh Watson's Cardinals to a 30-6 record in 1996-97, highlighted by a school-best, fourth-place national finish at the 1997 NJCAA Tournament.

A long-time association with veteran junior college head coach and current Trinity Valley Community College head man Patrick Smith preceded White's move to Idaho. During back-to-back seasons at two different schools under Smith's guidance, White first served as an assistant coach on the staff at Barton County Community College in Kansas, which achieved a No. 3 national ranking during the 1994-95 regular season. The following year, the coaching tandem teamed up to help guide Jacksonville (Texas) College to a No. 7 national ranking in the NJCAA poll during the 1995-96 basketball campaign.

Prior to a one-year stint (1993-94) as an assistant basketball coach at Georgia Southern University in Statesboro, White first began his coaching association with Smith on the staff of Wabash Valley College in Mount Carmel, Ill. In one season together at MVC, White and Smith jointly guided the 1992-93 Warriors ballclub to a ninth-place team finish at the prestigious NJCAA Tournament.

A native of Russellville, Ky., White's first full-time coaching job after graduation came in his home state of Kentucky as an assistant basketball coach for two seasons (1990-92) at Pikeville College.

Having received both his bachelor's (1988) and master's (1989) degrees from Austin Peay State University in Clarksville, Tenn., White initially worked together with MSU's current head basketball coach on Lake Kelly's APSU coaching staff 18 years ago. With White aiding as a graduate assistant coach, while Stansbury served as a full-time assistant coach on Kelly's Austin Peay staff, the Governors finished the 1988-89 season with an 18-12 overall record and advanced to the championship game of the Ohio Valley Conference Tournament for the second consecutive season.

White stayed on as a volunteer assistant coach at Austin Peay for the 1989-90 campaign after completing his master's program with a degree in health/physical education and a minor in administration and supervision.

A member of the Logan County (Ky.) Athletic Hall of Fame with experience as a Special Olympics volunteer, White lettered in baseball (3 years), basketball (2) and tennis (1) as a standout athlete at Olmstead (Ky.) High School.

White, 42, married the former Brittany Wagner of Clinton, Miss., this past summer. He has one son, Cade, 7.

One of the most versatile players and highly regarded student-athletes in Mississippi State's recent basketball history, Marcus Grant begins his third season working at his alma mater in serving as coordinator of men's basketball operations on Rick Stansbury's Bulldog coaching staff.

In addition to his administrative roles of handling the coordination of the team's travel arrangements, the former all-SEC State swingman is also charged with other daily management tasks, including the inventory and maintenance of the Bulldogs' athletic equipment.

Grant spent the better part of the past decade starring in Finland as a perennial all-league standout in the Finnish Basketball Association since his graduation from Mississippi State in 1995. Most recently on the court, the former two-time Eurobasket All-Finnish League Import Player of the Year averaged 16.5 points, 6.8 rebounds, 4.0 assists and 2.0 steals per game in leading the Kouvolan Kouvot club to the 2003-04 Finnish League championship. The previous season as a member of the Honka Espoo contingent, Grant averaged 20.9 points, 6.9 rebounds, 3.7 assists and 1.8 steals per contest in pacing the Playboys to the Finnish team title as the league's best import player of 2002-03.

Prior to helping lead two different clubs to the Finnish League championship in 2003-04 and 2002-03, Grant played three consecutive seasons (2000-02) with the Namika Lahti squad. In his first season with the club, he averaged 19.5 points, 11.5 rebounds, 3.4 assists and 2.3 steals per outing in leading Namika Lahti to the 1999-2000 Finnish League crown. Individually, Grant received his first of three Eurobasket All-Finnish League Import Player of the Year honors, in addition to being named to the 1999-2000 Eurobasket All-Finnish League First Team and All-Defensive Team. In subsequent seasons with Namika Lahti, he went on to average 23.9 points and 8.6 rebounds in 2000-01 and then averaged 19.3 points and 9.0 rebounds per game the following year to help pace the team to the championship finals of the Finnish League.

Having also played professionally on the international level in Germany (2003), Portugal (1998) and France (1996) within the past decade, Grant's professional playing career began in 1995 as a member of the Atlanta Trojans of the United States Basketball League. While averaging 18.5 points and 3.3 rebounds per contest in being named to the USBL's 1995 All-Rookie Team, Grant helped lead the Trojans to a runner-up finish for the league championship. Upon participating in the Dallas Mavericks rookie/free agent camp in the fall of 1995, he went on to average 15.1 points and 4.4 assists per game in helping pace the Black Hills (S.D.) Posse to the inaugural championship series of the International Basketball Association (IBA) in 1996.

A former prep standout at Macon (Ga.) Central High School, Grant was one of Stansbury's first prized Bulldog recruits during the current MSU head coach's early years as a State assistant. Grant developed into a three-year starter and two-time team co-captain for coach Richard Williams' Bulldogs, having totaled 970 points (9.2 ppg), 384 rebounds (3.7 rpg) and 278 assists (2.6 apg) in 105 career collegiate contests. He currently stands fourth on the school's all-time list for career 3-pointers made (164) and fifth in career trey attempts (461), while shooting 35.6 percent from beyond the three-point arc for his career.

A three-time member of the SEC Academic Honor Roll with a bachelor's degree in communication, Grant garnered third-team all-SEC honors as a senior after averaging 10.4 points, 4.3 rebounds and 3.3 assists per outing in helping lead the 22-8 Bulldogs to the co-championship of the league's Western Division and an appearance in the 1995 NCAA Sweet 16. That year he was ranked runner-up for the team lead with 98 assists and 29 blocks, while rating as the team's No. 3 scorer behind fellow all-SEC performers Darryl Wilson and Erick Dampier. Along with having capped his productive State playing stint by receiving the team's prestigious Babe McCarthy Memorial Award for his all-around contributions to the Bulldog basketball program, Grant also was chosen MSU's Best Defensive Player as a junior and the club's Most Improved Player during his sophomore campaign.

Grant, 33, is married to the former Angie Rice of Starkville, Miss. They are the proud parents of one son, Marcus II, 4, and two daughters, Kayla, 1, and Kendra, 15.

BASKETBALL SUPPORT STAFF

RICHARD AKINS

ASSISTANT STRENGTH COACH

Back for his second tour of duty at his alma mater after previously serving a 21-year stint on Mississippi State's athletic department staff, Richard Akins is once again charged with preparing the Bulldog basketball team for the day-to-day rigors of the Southeastern Conference hardwood wars.

Akins, who also coordinates the strength and conditioning program of the Lady Bulldog basketball team, returned to the Mississippi State athletic department family in a part-time capacity in 2005 after serving the prior two years as strength coach and assistant football coach at Heritage Academy in Columbus, Miss. In his first year at Heritage as coach of the squad's defensive linemen, Akins helped lead the 2003 Patriots to runner-up honors in the Academy AA state championship game.

During his previous association in a full-time capacity with MSU's strength and conditioning program, Akins accompanied the Bulldog basketball team to the 1996 NCAA Final Four and the NCAA Sweet Sixteen in 1995.

A native of Ethel, Miss., Akins first came to Mississippi State in 1975 following a two-year football career at Holmes Junior College. Upon completion of his undergraduate work at MSU in 1977, Akins entered the coaching profession at Grenada (Miss.) Junior High School. In 1979, he accepted a position on the football staff at Horn Lake (Miss.) High School. Four years later, Akins returned to his alma mater to begin a six-year stint as the supervisor of MSU's McArthur Hall athletic dormitory, where he was responsible for the daily management of the school's athletic student housing.

Having also earned his master's degree in physical education as well as completing a specialist's degree in administration during his prior working tenure at MSU, Akins, 51, is married to the former Cindy Strider of Grenada, Miss. They are the parents of one son, Ronnie, and one daughter, Beth.

LYNDA MOORE

ACADEMIC COUNSELOR

Beginning her sixth season with the Mississippi State athletic family, Lynda Moore helps monitor the day-to-day academic requirements and needs of the Bulldog basketball players as the program's academic counselor.

Having been associated with four NCAA Tournament basketball teams at MSU, including the 2004 SEC Champions, Moore has been instrumental in the team's recent success in the classroom. With a league-leading 18 total SEC Academic Honor Roll men's basketball recipients over the last four seasons, including four academic honorees this past season, the Bulldogs have graduated a total of seven student-athletes since May 2004.

Along with her work with men's basketball at MSU, Moore also attends to the daily academic needs of State's volleyball, women's golf, women's cross country/track and field, and men's and women's tennis teams.

Moore joined Ray Berryhill's academic staff at Mississippi State in January 2002 after working as an adult literacy instructor at Southeastern Technical College in Georgia, where she organized ESL classes in addition to teaching GED classes.

Upon obtaining her bachelor's degree in English in 1997 from Stetson University in Deland, Fla., Moore worked as a teaching assistant at Mississippi College during the 1997-98 and 1998-99 academic years. While at the Clinton-based school, she pursued graduate work on her master's degree in English. During the latter portion of her stay in the Jackson area, Moore also served on the women's softball coaching staff at Belhaven College during the 1998 and 1999 seasons. In addition to her coaching and recruiting duties with the Blazers, she served as the tutor coordinator for Belhaven's athletic department.

Born in Yazoo City, Miss., Moore is married to Staff Sergeant David Moore, who serves as a recruiter for the Army National Guard. They are the parents of three sons - Rylan James, 7, Corey Ross, 5, and Tanner Ray, 4.

SCOTT JOHNSON

ASSISTANT ATHLETIC TRAINER

Having joined the Mississippi State athletic family in August 2002, Scott Johnson begins his fifth season as the primary athletic trainer for coach Rick Stansbury's Bulldogs. Johnson has been associated with three NCAA Tournament teams during his Starkville stint, including MSU's 2003-04 SEC championship club.

Charged primarily with the day-to-day medical requirements of the Bulldog basketball team, Johnson also attends to the daily training needs of the Mississippi State men's and women's golf teams.

With more than a decade's worth of experience in the sports medicine field, Johnson previously served a four-year stint as an assistant athletic trainer at McNeese State University in Lake Charles, La. Working primarily with the men's basketball team, Johnson was affiliated with the Cowboys' back-to-back Southland Conference titles and consecutive postseason tournament appearances, including a first-round NCAA Tournament meeting with MSU in 2002. All total, he has been involved with five NCAA Tournament basketball teams.

While earning his master's degree in secondary education from the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga, Johnson spent three seasons (1995-98) as a graduate assistant athletic trainer for the Mocs. During his tenure in Chattanooga, he served as the head athletic trainer for the men's basketball team and accompanied the 1996-97 UTC squad to the NCAA Sweet Sixteen.

A native of Jacksonville, Fla., Johnson earned his bachelor's degree in athletic training in 1995 from the University of West Alabama in Livingston. While at West Alabama, Johnson served as the head student athletic trainer for the Tigers' baseball and men's basketball teams.

A certified athletic trainer and a member of the National Athletic Trainers' Association, Johnson, 35, is married to the former Rindy Zeringue, who was an all-Southland Conference high jumper at McNeese State.

DAVID ROSINSKI

ASSOC. MEDIA RELATIONS DIR.

Assigned to the daily publicity and promotion of Mississippi State University's nationally recognized men's basketball program is veteran staff member David Rosinski, who serves as the department's associate director of athletic media relations. He is beginning his 20th season of service within MSU's athletic department.

In addition to having accompanied 11 Bulldog teams to postseason tournament competition, including the school's 1996 NCAA Final Four club and the 1995 NCAA Sweet Sixteen squad, Rosinski assists in the day-to-day supervision of Mississippi State's athletic media relations office. During his 19-year association with the MSU men's basketball program, he has also been affiliated with two Southeastern Conference championship teams (2004 & 1991), four SEC Western Division championship clubs (2004, 2003, 1996 & 1995) and two SEC Tournament title teams (2002 & 1996).

Along with his basketball responsibilities, Rosinski has also served as a media liaison for several Mississippi State-hosted NCAA regional and SEC championship events in baseball, golf, tennis, and track and field.

Prior to joining the Mississippi State family in 1987, Rosinski worked three years as an undergraduate and graduate assistant in the sports information office at the University of South Carolina. A 1985 graduate of USC's School of Journalism with a bachelor's degree in public relations, he served as the publicist for the South Carolina women's basketball team.

A member of the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) and United States Basketball Writers Association (USBWA), Rosinski has received numerous CoSIDA awards for his publication efforts through the years.

Rosinski, 43, is married to the former Nadine Jackson of West Columbia, S.C., who works as an administrative secretary in Mississippi State's College of Business & Industry. They are the parents of one son, Jackson, 7.

BULLDOGS ENTER 2006-07 CAMPAIGN SPORTING 15-GAME ROAD WIN STREAK VERSUS NON-CONFERENCE OPPONENTS

In a string that extends all the way back to the 2000-01 campaign, the Mississippi State Bulldogs enter the 2006-07 season sporting a nation's-best, 15-game road winning streak against non-conference opposition. Highlighted by road wins over the likes of Arizona, Pittsburgh, Xavier and Charlotte, MSU's current non-SEC road win string will face four stern tests this coming year at Clemson (Nov. 21), Miami of Florida (Dec. 11), George Mason (Dec. 30) and Missouri (Jan. 2).

2005-06 SEASON REVIEW

Following four exceptional seasons in which the Bulldogs were ranked as high as fourth nationally and saw four straight 20+ win seasons along with four consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances, the 2005-06 season had many obstacles to overcome in order to continue that success. Mississippi State head coach Rick Stansbury eagerly accepted the challenge of a 'rebuilding' year after losing 80 percent of his club's scoring, rebounding and assist totals from the previous season.

Lineup consistency would also plague the strong-willed Bulldog team from the very beginning, especially at the all-important point guard position. Jamall Edmondson, the team's starter at the point and the club's top returning perimeter scoring threat, suffered a groin injury before the season began and was forced to endure the hindrance for the better part of the campaign. In addition, incoming freshman Richard Delk - the only other playmaker on the roster - fell victim to a foot injury during the preseason and was limited to the bench until mid-December.

With the significant losses of all-SEC standouts Lawrence Roberts and Shane Power, as well as three-point marksman and defensive stalwart Winsome Frazier, many questions were raised concerning the very inexperienced Bulldog squad. Hoping to lay the questions to rest, State opened the 2005-06 campaign by playing host to reigning NCAA Tournament participant Chattanooga. The Bulldogs did not disappoint the home fans en route to a 64-48 home triumph over the Mocs at Humphrey Coliseum.

Upon earning a second home victory in three days with a hard-fought 68-63 win over Arkansas State, State ventured away from home for the first time on the year looking to extend its 14-game road winning streak against non-conference opposition by meeting another 2005 NCAA Tournament team in the Charlotte 49ers. Despite playing their third game in a five-day span, the Bulldogs brought on the defensive pressure and held Charlotte to just nine first-half points. MSU went on to hold the cold-shooting 49ers to all-time, school-low marks for points in a game (38) and single-game field-goal percentage (21.7%) on the way to winning the 53-38 defensive standoff.

At 3-0 on the young season, State headed back to Starkville to begin a season-long, five-game homestand. However, preseason Southland Conference favorite and eventual NCAA Tournament surprise Northwestern State put an end to MSU's 18-game home winning streak against non-conference opposition with a come-from-behind 76-75 overtime triumph over the Bulldogs. Two days later, fellow Southland foe Southeastern Louisiana took advantage of a short-handed State squad (five MSU players out due to injury or illness) by handing MSU a 57-46 home setback. The consecutive losses marked the first time in 20 years that the Bulldogs had managed to drop back-to-back home decisions to non-conference opponents. Upon getting back on track with a 67-59 home win over New Orleans, MState successfully closed out its homestand with a pair of overtime victories over Santa Clara (82-69) and Troy (88-77) in which the Bulldogs collectively outscored the opposition by a 29-5 margin during the combined extra sessions.

Playing Jacksonville State in the capital city of Jackson for the second straight year, the 6-2 Bulldogs shot a collective 60 percent from the field and used a decisive 56-31 rebounding advantage to cruise to a 104-80 victory at the Mississippi Coliseum. A half-dozen MSU players scored in double figures, led by Jackson native Charles Rhodes' 24 points and 18 rebounds, against the out-manned Gamecocks.

Carrying a bit of momentum with a four-game win string, Mississippi State brought high hopes to Puerto Rico for the pre-Christmas San Juan Shootout. Following a first-round triumph (78-67) over the Flames of Liberty, State fell to a hot-shooting Akron team, 83-72, in second-round competition. The Bulldogs salvaged a successful holiday trip by securing a come-from-behind 76-75 victory over Holy Cross in the tourney's third-place contest on Edmondson's game-winning 3-pointer with 4.5 seconds remaining. Edmondson was joined by Bulldog teammate and eventual unanimous SEC All-Freshman selection Jamont Gordon on the all-tournament team of the San Juan Shootout.

Plagued by a groin injury most of the year, senior guard Jamall Edmondson made the San Juan Shootout all-tourney team after hitting a game-winning trey vs. Holy Cross in the third-place game.

Sophomore forward Charles Rhodes established himself as one of the premier power forwards in the SEC after averaging 17.3 points on 58-percent shooting and 8.4 rebounds per conference game.

The last game of the non-conference slate held more weight than anyone could ever have imagined. Little did the Bulldogs know that they were to face eventual NCAA Final Four participant George Mason to close out the 2005 calendar year. In claiming a well-earned 63-61 home win over the talented Patriots, MSU was able to reach double digits in victories prior to the start of conference play for the fifth consecutive season.

The 10-3 Bulldogs successfully ushered in league competition for the seventh time in eight tries under Stansbury's guidance by earning a thrilling 69-67 home-court triumph over Arkansas, as Rhodes served notice in the SEC opener by scoring the game's first six points and MSU's first eight points of the contest.

Despite the confidence gained with their league-opening win, the youthful Bulldogs began to struggle due to inexperience and inconsistent offensive efficiency. The first tough blow was dealt by the then-second ranked and eventual NCAA champion Florida Gators in the form of a 75-60 road defeat in Gainesville. Staying on the road, State's eight-game series winning streak against in-state rival Ole Miss came to a halt in Oxford with a 75-65 setback.

The remainder of the month of January proved to be just as challenging for the inexperienced State squad, as alternating home-road losses to Final Four-bound LSU (71-57), Vanderbilt (80-52 in Nashville), eventual SEC Eastern Division champion Tennessee (88-65) and divisional rival Alabama (65-59 in Tuscaloosa) made the Bulldogs 11-9 overall and 1-6 in league play as February arrived. The new month began in similar fashion with an 81-66 home setback to Kentucky, extending MSU's losing skid to seven straight games.

MState's longest winless streak since 1986-87 finally came to an end by way of a much-needed 71-53 home victory over Auburn, as Rhodes dominated inside play with a second straight 21-point effort and a career-most 19 rebounds against the visiting Tigers. The Bulldogs fell to the .500 mark overall (2-9 in the SEC) after dropping consecutive road outings to South Carolina (83-61) and LSU (72-59).

Now focused on attempting to stay above .500 and aiming to earn a sixth consecutive postseason tournament appearance, the improving Bulldogs posted a solid 84-55 home victory over the Rebels of Ole Miss in front of the home folks. Still searching for a season-first second straight conference win, MSU couldn't rebound from a 40-20 halftime deficit in falling at Auburn, 75-71. Back at the break-even mark of 13-13 overall (3-10 in league play), State tried to create some momentum heading into March by claiming an 83-68 home win over visiting Georgia. The homestanding Bulldogs received a career-high 27 points on 11-of-15 shooting from Rhodes, a second-team all-conference performer as a sophomore, and a third straight double-double from Dietric Slater (career-high 22 points and 10 rebounds) to close out February.

Fighting for an NCAA Tournament berth on 'Senior Night' at Bud Walton Arena, the Arkansas Razorbacks kept Mississippi State winless on the road in league play for an entire season for the first time since 1992-93 by handing the visitors an 80-70 defeat despite an eye-opening, 27-point performance (7-of-9 treys) by Bulldog rookie Reginald Delk. The Bulldogs returned home for their regular-season finale and managed to stay above the .500 mark by claiming a 71-58 'Senior Day' triumph over the Crimson Tide of Alabama. The solid 13-point win over the Tide gave MSU the No. 4 seed in the upcoming SEC Tournament to be played in Nashville.

However, the turnover-prone Bulldogs out-misced eventual SEC Tournament runner-up South Carolina, 17-4, en route to dropping a 59-44 first-round tournament decision to the twice-reigning NIT champions. Finishing the season at 15 wins and 15 losses and without managing to record consecutive conference victories throughout league play on the year, Mississippi State was left home during postseason tournament play for the first time since the 1999-2000 campaign.

Rookie standouts Jamont Gordon (#44) and Reginald Delk (#24) combined to set six individual single-season freshman school standards, including most made 3-pointers and most minutes played.

EXHIBITION #1

MSU 80, WEST GEORGIA 66

Nov. 5, 2005 • STARKVILLE, MS

In their first of two preseason exhibition tune-ups for the 2005-06 campaign against NCAA Division II opponents, the Bulldogs claimed an 80-66 home triumph over visiting West Georgia from the Gulf South Conference.

Minus all five starters and without their top six scorers and top six rebounders from last year's NCAA Tournament ballclub, the Bulldogs raced out to an early 10-point (14-4) advantage seven minutes into the contest. MSU maintained the lead throughout the remainder of the first half, including a 30-25 halftime margin, despite shooting only 38 percent from the field and committing 15 turnovers in the opening 20 minutes.

State held on to its single-digit advantage throughout the first 10 minutes of the second stanza. The visiting Braves from Carrollton, Ga., managed to knot the score on three occasions midway through the half, before the deeper Bulldogs outscored UWG by a 23-9 margin over the final eight minutes to post the 14-point win.

The new-look State squad shot an improved 53 percent from the field during the final 20 minutes of play and cut back on its collective miscues to eight during the second half.

Sophomore forward Charles Rhodes came off the Bulldog bench to tally a game-high 21 points on 7-of-11 shooting, along with tying for team-high honors with eight rebounds. Senior guard Jamall Edmondson and junior forward Piotr Stelmach added 17 and 16 points, respectively, for the winners.

Mississippi native and Southern Mississippi transfer Sam Richardson along with fellow transfer Andrius Petkunas (Towson) tied for team scoring honors with 20 points apiece, while Antonio Shaw contributed a game-best 14 boards to go along with his nine points and five steals for the visiting West Georgia club.

EXHIBITION #2

MSU 76, WEST FLORIDA 73

Nov. 12, 2005 • STARKVILLE, MS

The Bulldogs extended their exhibition winning streak to seven consecutive games with a 76-73 victory over NCAA Division II opponent West Florida to close out their preseason slate.

Playing without injured senior guard Jamall Edmondson (groin), MSU seemed to take control late in the opening half after a Reginald Delk dunk gave the home team a 10-point lead (28-18) with six minutes remaining. However, a 12-3 West Florida run over the next four minutes cut State's lead to a single point (31-30). Delk's 3-pointer with 1:26 left in the half gave the Bulldogs a narrow 36-32 halftime advantage.

MSU maintained its lead throughout the second stanza, going up by as many as nine points on two occasions early in the half. The visiting Argonauts again trimmed the deficit to a single digit (58-57) on Donovan Redden's fourth trey of the contest coming at the 9:20 mark. The Bulldogs responded and built the seemingly comfortable cushion back up to nine points (68-59) with six minutes left in the contest.

West Florida managed to cut the deficit to three points (73-70) with 1:21 remaining after scoring five unanswered points, but a Delk layup upped MSU's lead to five points. UWF's Maurice Thomas added a trey with time running down to make it a three-point final margin.

Piotr Stelmach paced a quintet of double-figure State scorers with 15 points, while Delk and Charles Rhodes added 13 points for the winners. Thomas, Redden and Kashif Russell claimed game scoring honors with 16 points apiece.

The Bulldogs outscored West Florida, 17-4, from the charity stripe. With MSU owning a 40-31 advantage on the boards, the two teams combined for 51 turnovers. State was also credited with a dozen blocked shots.

GAME #1

MSU 64, CHATTANOOGA 48

Nov. 19, 2005 • STARKVILLE, MS

The homestanding Bulldogs successfully tipped off their 94th season of collegiate basketball competition by claiming a 64-48 home victory over reigning NCAA Tournament participant Chattanooga at Humphrey Coliseum.

The 16-point triumph gave MSU coach Rick Stansbury his 150th career victory.

With both teams struggling somewhat offensively during the opening 20 minutes of play, the visiting Mocs (0-1) recovered from an early four-point deficit to take a five-point lead (22-17) with 5:55 remaining in the first half. A Charles Rhodes dunk with 2:06 left in the half sparked an 8-0 State run that was capped by a Jamall Edmondson driving lay-in with time running out to give the Bulldogs (1-0) a 32-26 halftime advantage.

With Chattanooga being held to a single field goal through the opening 11 minutes of the second stanza, MSU built a double-digit lead (39-27) just three minutes into the half on an Edmondson trey. Following UTC's first basket of the period coming at the 13:38 mark, the Bulldogs doubled their 11-point lead to 22 points (55-33) with a 12-1 run midway through the half. The Mocs would get no closer than the final margin of 16 points.

Shooting but 31 percent from the field for the contest, UTC managed but five made field goals in 24 second-half attempts (20.8%). MSU also struggled from the field with 36.2 percent shooting during the season opener for both clubs.

Dietric Slater posted career highs in points (20) and rebounds (6) for the winners, while Edmondson added 13 points. Rhodes also recorded new career highs in points (12) and rebounds (8) for State. Casey Long and Jaycen Herring paced the Mocs with 11 and 10 points, respectively.

GAME #2

MSU 68, ARKANSAS STATE 63

Nov. 21, 2005 • STARKVILLE, MS

Playing their second game in three days to open the new hoops campaign, the home-standing Bulldogs survived a late-second half scare by visiting Arkansas State to hang on to a 68-63 victory over the Indians at Humphrey Coliseum.

After grabbing the lead for good five minutes into the contest, MSU (2-0) built its advantage to double digits (17-7) by the 12:22 mark of the opening period. However, the Indians (1-1) cut the deficit to a basket on three different occasions late in the half. With MSU freshman Jamont Gordon scoring 15 first-half points and State benefitting from 12 ASU turnovers, the Bulldogs owned a 36-31 halftime advantage.

MSU managed to go back up by 10 points early in the second stanza, but Arkansas State responded by keeping the contest to within single digits for the final 13 minutes of the game. With State leading by five points (60-55) with three minutes left in the game, ASU's Dereke Tipler followed a three-point basket with a pair of free throws 30 seconds later to knot the score at 60-60 with just over two minutes remaining.

Bulldog forward Piotr Stelmach answered with a clutch three-pointer from the top of the key to put the home team back on top for good. En route to a career-high 15 points, including 11 in the second half, senior guard Jamall Edmondson hit 5-of-6 charity tosses over the final minute of play to ice the five-point victory for MSU.

Gordon completed the contest with a team-high 16 points, while Charles Rhodes added nine points and seven rebounds for the winners. Outrebounding the Bulldogs by a 38-35 margin, the Indians were paced by Jackson product Isaac Wells, who finished with game-high numbers of 19 points on 9-of-13 shooting and nine rebounds.

MSU 53, CHARLOTTE 38

Nov. 23, 2005 • CHARLOTTE, NC

The Bulldogs extended their road winning streak against non-conference opponents to 15 consecutive games with a 53-38 victory over reigning NCAA Tournament participant Charlotte at Halton Arena.

Playing its third game in five days to open the campaign, MSU (3-0) held Charlotte (1-3) to school-record lows for points scored in a game as well as field-goal percentage in a game (21.7%).

With the home-standing 49ers misfiring on their first dozen 3-pointers in the opening half, they went more than 15 minutes between field goals. After all-America candidate Curtis Withers converted on a three-point play at the 17:14 mark of the first period, Charlotte did not make another basket until Marcus Bennett connected on a trey with 2:08 left in the half.

Though the Bulldogs managed to shoot but 34.6 percent through the opening 20 minutes of play, it was Charlotte's anemic 11.5 percent (3-of-26 FGs & 1-of-14 treys) field-goal shooting that dug the home team a 21-9 halftime hole. Both teams committed 12 turnovers in the half, while Charlotte also struggled at the line (2-of-9 FTs).

MSU maintained its double-digit advantage throughout most of the second stanza. The 49ers managed to cut the deficit to eight points (39-31) midway through the closing half before State freshman Jamont Gordon nailed a 3-pointer to put the visitors back up by 11 points. Thwarting another possible Charlotte comeback, Piotr Stelmach connected on a trey with 2:39 remaining to essentially put the contest out of reach.

Dietric Slater led a trio of State double-figure scorers with 13 points, while Withers paced Charlotte with 20 points and 14 rebounds.

GAME #4

NORTHWESTERN ST. 76, MSU 75 (OT)

Nov. 26, 2005 • STARKVILLE, MS

Mississippi State's 18-game home winning streak against non-conference opposition came to a halt, as preseason Southland Conference favorite Northwestern State claimed a come-from-behind 76-75 overtime road triumph over the Bulldogs at Humphrey Coliseum.

MSU (3-1) maintained complete control of the opening 20 minutes of play. After scoring the game's first seven points, State owned a double-digit lead (17-7) by the 9:12 mark. That lead more than doubled into a seemingly comfortable 21 points (39-18) by halftime. The Bulldogs shot an even 50 percent in the opening period, while limiting the visiting Demons (2-1) to just 23 percent field-goal shooting and forcing 15 NSU miscues.

Northwestern State scored 11 unanswered points early in the second stanza to cut a 21-point deficit to just 10 points (41-31) by the 15:43 mark. The Demons later used a 14-1 run to take a two-point lead (54-52) with 6:18 remaining in regulation. Following six more lead changes and four more ties, the two teams traded turnovers over the final 15 seconds of regulation to go into the overtime period tied at 67 points apiece.

MSU took the early advantage in the extra session on a Charles Rhodes dunk. Two minutes later, Tyronn Mitchell hit a jumper to knot the score at 71-71. Within the final minute of overtime, a Vernon Goodridge slam was answered by a 3-pointer by NSU's Keenan Jones to give the visitors the 76-75 lead with 42 seconds left. After Jones failed to connect on a pair of free throws with 28 seconds remaining, Jamall Edmondson's off-balance jumper failed to draw iron for MSU.

Jamont Gordon led MSU with 15 points, while Wesley Morgan posted his first double-double with 13 points and 11 rebounds. Alfonse Dyer paced NSU with 21 points and 10 boards.

GAME #5

SOUTHEASTERN LA. 57, MSU 46

Nov. 28, 2005 • STARKVILLE, MS

Playing without five players, including two starters, due to injuries or illness, the Bulldogs dropped their second consecutive home decision to a non-conference foe by falling, 57-46, to Southeastern Louisiana at Humphrey Coliseum.

Coupled with the team's 76-75 overtime home loss to fellow Southland Conference foe Northwestern State two nights prior, the pair of setbacks marked the first time MSU has dropped back-to-back home decisions to non-conference opponents since the 1985-86 campaign.

In a first half which featured six ties and five lead changes, the Bulldogs (3-2) held a six-point advantage (22-16) with 2:47 remaining in the opening period before Southeastern (2-1) reeled off six unanswered points to knot the contest at 22-22 heading into the intermission.

The visiting Lions took control early in the second stanza, jumping out to a 10-point lead (37-27) seven minutes into the half. State narrowed the deficit to six points on a couple of occasions midway through the period, but couldn't get any closer than seven points over the final seven minutes of the contest.

Saddled with their lowest scoring output since the 2003 NCAA East Regional against Butler, the Bulldogs' 25.5 percent shooting effort from the field for the game marked the lowest field-goal percentage in a game by an MSU team since hitting only 24.2 percent from the field in a 72-71 overtime loss to Old Dominion during the 1996 Puerto Rico Holiday Classic in San Juan.

The setback also marked Southeastern's first-ever series win over MSU in 16 tries.

Jamall Edmondson and Jamont Gordon led MSU scorers with 14 and 13 points, respectively, while Wesley Morgan posted his second straight double-double with 10 points and a career-high 21 rebounds. Ricky Woods and Quennell Green paced the winners with 15 points apiece.

GAME #6

MSU 67, NEW ORLEANS 59

Nov. 30, 2005 • STARKVILLE, MS

In the midst of a five-game homestand and playing their sixth game during a season-opening, 12-day span, the Bulldogs snapped their two-game losing skid by claiming a 67-59 home triumph over the University of New Orleans at Humphrey Coliseum.

Despite playing without starters Dietric Slater and Piotr Stelmach for the second straight game, the Bulldogs (4-2) appeared energized from the opening tip-off and jumped out to a quick 15-2 lead by the 16:44 mark. Following back-to-back 3-pointers by Jamall Edmondson, State held a 16-point advantage (26-10) with 12:16 remaining in the opening period. However, beginning midway through the half, the visiting Privateers (1-3) scored 17 unanswered points to turn a 29-16 deficit into a four-point lead (33-29) with 4:54 left in the half. Consecutive baskets by MSU freshman Reginald Delk, who tallied 14 first-half points, helped put the home team back on top, as the Bulldogs claimed a narrow 41-38 halftime lead.

The contest remained a single-digit game for the first 12 minutes of the second stanza before State began to take control. Consecutive baskets by Edmondson again lifted the Bulldogs to a 15-point cushion (63-48) with 5:43 remaining in the game. Three straight made 3-pointers by New Orleans made things interesting down the stretch, as UNO trimmed a 15-point spread to just six points (65-59) in less than two minutes. However, time ran out on the visitors and State held on for the much needed eight-point victory.

Edmondson finished with a career-high 26 points (6-of-10 treys) and Delk added 16 for the winners, as the backcourt duo combined for 10-of-15 three-point shooting. MSU hit 11-of-21 treys as a team. Dusty Driggs led UNO with 12 points.

GAME #7

MSU 82, SANTA CLARA 69 (OT)

Dec. 3, 2005 • STARKVILLE, MS

In their second overtime contest within a week, the homestanding Bulldogs outscored the visiting Broncos of Santa Clara University, 16-3, during the extra session to claim an 82-69 victory over SCU of the West Coast Conference.

After trailing early in the game, State (5-2) held the advantage for the majority of the opening half of play. With Jamont Gordon and Jamall Edmondson combining for 22 first-half points, the Bulldogs used 54 percent shooting, including 8-of-15 accuracy from beyond the three-point arc, to take a 37-33 halftime lead.

Midway through the second stanza, the Broncos (3-2) used an 11-2 run to grab a four-point lead (54-50) with 9:26 remaining. Santa Clara still held a four-point edge (61-57) with 4:07 left in regulation until MSU's Reginald Delk hit back-to-back 3-pointers to knot the game at 63-63 by the 1:41 mark. Travis Niesen's basket was answered by a Gordon trey to put State on top by a single point (66-65) with just under a minute left on the game clock. One free throw by Niesen with 24 seconds left and a missed fade-away jumper by SCU's Brody Angley at the buzzer sent the game into overtime tied at 66-66.

Edmondson's jumper 16 seconds into the extra session ignited a 7-0 State run, before the visitors could manage to get back on the scoreboard by way of an Angley 3-pointer at the 1:50 mark. Angley's trey was answered by an Edmondson triple - MSU's school record-tying 14th three-point basket of the game - with 1:13 remaining. Ending the game shooting a season-high 53 percent from the field as a team, including 14-of-28 three-point marksmanship, the Bulldogs hit six charity tosses over the final 39 seconds to mount their largest margin of the contest and secure their second straight win.

Gordon totaled 20 points, nine rebounds and five assists for the winners, while Edmondson and Delk added 19 and 18 points, respectively. Niesen and Angley paced the Broncos with 22 and 17 points, respectively.

GAME #8

MSU 88, TROY 77 (OT)

DEC. 10, 2005 • STARKVILLE, MS

Playing their third overtime contest in a two-week span, the Bulldogs concluded their five-game homestand with a come-from-behind 88-77 victory over Troy at Humphrey Coliseum.

With the visiting Trojans (3-3) hitting 9-of-21 shots from three-point range during the opening 20 minutes of play, Troy took advantage of MSU's ice-cold first-half perimeter shooting (1-of-16 treys) to secure a 10-point (43-33) halftime lead.

Troy maintained its double-digit lead for most of the first 16 minutes of the second stanza, opening up as much as a 16-point cushion (62-46) eight minutes into the half. With the Trojans still holding a seemingly comfortable 15-point lead (72-57) with 5:02 left in regulation, State's Jamall Edmondson warmed up from the perimeter and hit four 3-pointers within a two-minute span to pull the Bulldogs (6-2) to within a single point (72-71) with 2:37 on the game clock.

Down by a basket (75-73) following a Dietric Slater layup and with fouls to give, MSU resorted to fouling in an effort to force in-bounds plays by Troy. After a fifth straight State foul, Walter Sharpe stepped in front of a Jacob Hazouri in-bounds pass with 21 seconds left. Slater put back Sharpe's miss to send the game into overtime tied at 75-75 and cap an 18-3 MSU run.

After Troy's Bobby Dixon hit a pair of free throws to open the overtime scoring, the Bulldogs scored the final 13 points to notch their third consecutive victory. In the extra session, State made 4-of-5 field goals, while the Trojans failed to connect on all 10 field-goal attempts.

Freshman Jamont Gordon paced a quintet of double-figure State scorers with 17 points to go along with 10 rebounds and nine assists. After missing his first seven three-point attempts, Edmondson's late-game heroics resulted in 17 points for the winners. Dixon led Troy with 19 points, nine rebounds and eight assists.

GAME #9

MSU 104, JACKSONVILLE STATE 80

DEC. 15, 2005 • JACKSON, MS

Playing Jacksonville State in the capital city of Jackson for the second straight year, the Bulldogs extended their season's winning streak to four consecutive games with a 104-80 victory over the Gamecocks at the Mississippi Coliseum.

During a first half that featured 10 lead changes and seven ties, Jacksonville State (4-3) took a six-point lead (42-36) with 3:47 remaining in the period after hitting three straight 3-pointers. The Bulldogs (7-2) responded with a 10-1 run, including three baskets by Dietric Slater, the rest of the half to take a 46-43 halftime advantage.

Playing in front of a hometown crowd, Jackson's Charles Rhodes posted his first career collegiate double-double with 11 points and 12 rebounds by the intermission for MSU. Though hitting but 33 percent from the field overall in the opening period, the Gamecocks stayed close by connecting on 8-of-20 three-point shots and committing but four first-half miscues.

The Bulldogs built a double-digit lead (55-45) three minutes into the second stanza. JSU managed to cut the deficit to seven points (65-58) with 12:21 remaining, but State answered with a three-point play by Jamont Gordon to take the lead back up to twin figures. Still leading by 10 points (74-64), MSU scored seven straight points to take a 17-point advantage with 7:49 left in the contest.

JSU would get no closer than a dozen points the rest of the way, as the Bulldogs shot 67 percent from the field in the second half and 60 percent on the night to cruise to the 24-point win. MSU also owned a 56-31 margin on the boards.

In pacing six double-digit State scorers, Rhodes finished with 24 points and 18 rebounds. B.J. Spencer led the Gamecocks with 21 points.

GAME #10

MSU 78, LIBERTY 67

DEC. 19, 2005 • GUAYNABO, P.R.

SAN JUAN SHOOTOUT - 1ST ROUND

The Bulldogs stretched their winning streak to five consecutive games by claiming a 78-67 first-round victory over Liberty at the 18th annual San Juan Shootout played at the Mario Morales Coliseum in Guaynabo, Puerto Rico.

After scoring the game's first nine points, State (8-2) controlled much of the early portion of the contest. As the opening period progressed, three MSU players were saddled with three fouls apiece, including frontcourt starters Charles Rhodes and Wesley Morgan. With State leading by 10 points (25-15) midway through the half, Liberty (2-6) went on a 16-4 run to take a two-point lead (31-29) by the 3:58 mark. The Flames held onto that two-point margin for the remainder of the half to maintain a 38-36 halftime edge.

Liberty kept the narrow advantage for the opening eight minutes of the second stanza before State grabbed back the lead with 12 minutes remaining. With the Flames going scoreless for nearly five minutes and more than six minutes between field goals, the Bulldogs regained the lead for good. After Liberty cut the deficit to a single digit (57-56) by the 6:57 mark, MSU made a 10-2 run to push the margin back up to nine points (67-58) with 4:15 left in the contest.

Shooting 64 percent from the field and 75 percent from the charity stripe as a team in the second half, the Bulldogs tipped off their third basketball visit to San Juan in 13 years and first since 1996 with the 11-point triumph over Liberty.

MSU's Jamont Gordon matched his season high with 20 points and led the Bulldogs with five rebounds, while Rhodes and Dietric Slater added 13 and 12 points, respectively, for the winners. Liberty's all-conference performer Larry Blair paced all scorers with 26 points.

AKRON 83, MSU 72

DEC. 20, 2005 • GUAYNABO, P.R.

SAN JUAN SHOOTOUT - 2ND ROUND

The Bulldogs had their five-game winning streak halted by dropping an 83-72 second-round tournament decision to Akron in the 18th annual San Juan Shootout played at the Mario Morales Coliseum in Guaynabo, Puerto Rico.

Featuring six ties through the first 10 minutes of the opening period, the first half stayed to within a five-point contest throughout the initial 15 minutes. Akron (5-2) used a 7-1 run late in the half to turn a four-point lead into a 10-point advantage (33-23) by the 2:37 mark. With MSU (8-3) struggling in the opening half with 11 turnovers and without a single assist in 20 minutes of action, the Zips held a 40-28 halftime advantage.

Akron maintained its double-digit cushion for the majority of the second stanza, going up by as many as 18 points (56-38) with 14:38 remaining in the game. The Bulldogs did manage to cut the deficit to seven points (69-62) with just under four minutes left in the contest. However, Akron's Dru Joyce answered by connecting on his fifth and final 3-pointer (in as many attempts) of the evening to push the margin back up to double digits (72-62) with 3:37 remaining.

MSU would again trim the UA lead to seven points by the 1:00 mark, but the Zips responded by capping an excellent shooting night with timely 7-of-8 free-throw accuracy over the final minute of play to seal the 11-point victory.

For the night, Akron shot 49 percent from the field overall, 52 percent from the three-point arc and 79 percent from the charity stripe. The contest featured 50 personal fouls and 68 free-throw attempts (49 made) between the two teams.

Jamall Edmondson and Walter Sharpe paced MSU with 17 and 16 points, respectively, while Nick Dials led four twin-digit UA scorers with 16.

GAME #12

MSU 76, HOLY CROSS 75

DEC. 21, 2005 • GUAYNABO, P.R.

SAN JUAN SHOOTOUT - 3RD PLACE GM

Jamall Edmondson's game-winning 3-pointer with 4.5 seconds remaining lifted the Bulldogs to a come-from-behind 76-75 victory over Holy Cross in the third-place game of the 18th annual San Juan Shootout played at the Mario Morales Coliseum in Guaynabo, Puerto Rico.

During an opening 20 minutes which featured six lead changes and five ties, the two teams played to within a six-point margin throughout the half. With both clubs shooting 50 percent or better from the field in the first period, Holy Cross (5-6) owned a 39-37 halftime edge.

The Crusaders built their lead to eight points (47-39) three minutes into the second stanza before MSU's defense stiffened. Holy Cross went five minutes without hitting a field goal midway through the half, while State freshman Reginald Delk scored 10 of his team's 12 points during the same stretch to help put the Bulldogs in the lead by five points (56-51) with 8:19 remaining.

Ignited by the play of all-league performer Kevin Hamilton, the Crusaders regained control of the contest and went up by nine points (70-61) with 2:50 left. A three-point play by Jamont Gordon ignited State's comeback. With Holy Cross on top by five points (72-67) with less than a minute remaining, Delk converted a layup to pull MSU to within three points. Two Hamilton free throws were answered by a Walter Sharpe dunk. Following a Hamilton turnover on an in-bounds pass, Gordon hit a jumper with 13 seconds left to cut the deficit to just one point (74-73). After Alex Vander Baan misfired on his second free-throw attempt with 11 seconds remaining, Edmondson nailed the game-winning trey with less than five ticks remaining. State's win was preserved when Lawrence Dixon's length-of-the-court drive and layup attempt failed to roll in at the buzzer.

Delk led four double-digit State scorers with 17 points, while Hamilton had a game-high 27.

GAME #13

MSU 63, GEORGE MASON 61

DEC. 30, 2005 • STARKVILLE, MS

In their final action of the 2005 calendar year, the Bulldogs concluded regular-season, non-conference competition by posting a 63-61 home victory over George Mason at Humphrey Coliseum.

With the win, MSU (10-3) reached double digits in victories prior to the start of conference play for the fifth consecutive season.

The visiting Patriots (7-4) from the Colonial Athletic Association maintained control for most of the opening 20 minutes of action. As MSU was limited to just 37 percent first-half shooting from the field, George Mason held a 32-25 halftime advantage to mark the fourth straight game in which State had trailed at the half.

After GMU held onto its slim lead for most of the opening 12 minutes of the second stanza, the Bulldogs scored five straight points after a fourth tie of the half to take a five-point lead (55-50) with 6:28 remaining. Following a fifth deadlock of the period at the 4:55 mark, MSU ran off six unanswered points to lead by a half dozen (61-55) with 2:46 left on the game clock.

George Mason then used its press to force State into three costly turnovers in less than a minute off the clock, while converting on three straight buckets during that stretch to knot the score at 61-61 with 1:16 left. MSU's Wesley Morgan provided the game's final points on a tip-in basket with 38 seconds remaining. Charles Rhodes could have sealed the narrow victory seconds earlier, but he failed to connect on the front end of a 1-and-1 with 14 ticks left on the clock. However, State didn't allow the Patriots to get a decent look at the goal over the game's final seconds to preserve the two-point home triumph.

Though being outrebounded, 38-33, for the game, MSU shot 50 percent from the field in the second half and owned a 15-3 margin at the line.

Jamont Gordon paced four State double-digit scorers with 16 points and added four assists, while George Mason received a game-best 21 points from Folarin Campbell.

GAME #14

MSU 69, ARKANSAS 67

JAN. 7, 2006 • STARKVILLE, MS

The Bulldogs opened SEC play with a win for the seventh time in eight tries under the guidance of head coach Rick Stansbury by claiming a hard-fought 69-67 home victory over Arkansas at MSU's Humphrey Coliseum.

Charles Rhodes gave State (11-3, 1-0) the early momentum by scoring the game's first six points and the Bulldogs' first eight points of the contest. Following a third tie of the opening period, MSU used an 11-2 run late in the half to grab a nine-point lead (30-21) with 4:09 left. Hitting 50 percent from the field (5-of-9 treys) through the opening 20 minutes, the Bulldogs maintained a 10-point advantage (36-26) at the half.

Arkansas (11-3, 0-1) opened the second half with an 18-7 run to grab a one-point lead (44-43) by the 14:35 mark. After State reclaimed the lead and built a seven-point margin (56-49) with 9:17 remaining, the Razorbacks scored 10 unanswered points to move ahead by three points (59-56) on Steven Hill's tip-in basket at the 6:49 mark.

MSU would once again pull ahead by four points late in the game, but a Hill basket and two free throws by Ronnie Brewer knotted the game for a seventh time of the half at 65-65 with 1:32 remaining. A Brewer basket was then followed by a Jamont Gordon bucket as State evened the contest at 67-67 with under a minute left.

Following an Arkansas timeout, Brewer's three-point attempt was rebounded by MSU's Dietric Slater, who took the ball the length of the court and scored the winning basket on a reverse layup with nine seconds remaining. Arkansas' attempt to win at the buzzer and extend its nine-game winning streak was turned back when Charles Thomas' potential game-winning 3-pointer rattled out of the basket as time ran out.

Rhodes led four double-digit State scorers with 18 points, while the Arkansas tandem of Brewer and Jonathon Modica paced all scorers with 24 and 20 points, respectively.

#2 FLORIDA 75, MSU 60

JAN. 11, 2006 • GAINESVILLE, FL

The second-ranked Florida Gators set a new school record by posting their 15th consecutive win of the season with their 75-60 home triumph over the visiting Bulldogs in front of an enthusiastic crowd of 12,278 fans in attendance at the Stephen C. O'Connell Center.

Florida (15-0, 2-0) fed off the boisterous home crowd in racing out to a 10-point advantage (13-3) four minutes into the contest. The lead grew to 14 points (26-12) midway through the initial period before MSU (11-4, 1-1) scored 13 unanswered points over a five-minute span to pull to within a single point (26-25) by the 5:27 mark. After the Gators pushed the margin back up to five points (32-27), State countered with a Walter Sharpe basket and a Reginald Delk 3-pointer to knot the score at 32-32 with seven seconds left. However, UF's Taurean Green quickly answered with a triple to close out the first-half scoring with the Gators on top by a slim 35-32 margin.

Florida came out in the second stanza continuing to steadily build on its three-point halftime lead. By the 11:12 mark, the homestanding Gators had created a 20-point cushion (60-40). Trailing by 18 points (64-46) with 8:42 remaining, the Bulldogs mounted another comeback attempt by scoring eight unanswered points over a four-minute stretch to cut the deficit to 10 points (64-54) with 4:48 left in the contest.

Florida then opted to milk the clock with every possession down the stretch, and Green responded with a pair of late-possession 3-pointers over the final four minutes to all but seal UF's 15th straight victory to open the season.

State out-shot Florida from the field (45.3% to 43.6%) while also outrebounding UF, 38-32.

Freshman Jamont Gordon led the visitors with 17 points in addition to totaling seven assists and seven rebounds. Green led all scorers with 20 points, while Corey Brewer added 18 points for the winners.

GAME #16

MISSISSIPPI 75, MSU 65

JAN. 14, 2006 • OXFORD, MS

In their second tough road matchup of the week, the Bulldogs dropped a 75-65 decision to rival Mississippi in front of 8,581 fans at UM's C.M. Tad Smith Coliseum.

Following the game's first and only tie at 10-10 with 15:24 remaining in the half, the homestanding Rebels (13-3, 3-0) scored a dozen unanswered points over a three-minute stretch to take a 12-point lead (22-10) by the 12:30 mark. After UM went up by as many as 15 points (28-13) midway through the period, the visiting Bulldogs (11-5, 1-2) outscored Ole Miss, 13-4, to trim the deficit to six points (32-26) with 5:21 left.

Hitting 51 percent from the floor through the opening 20 minutes of play and committing but three first-half turnovers, the Rebels owned a 44-33 halftime advantage.

With Ole Miss still holding a 12-point lead (52-40) four minutes into the second stanza, State managed to cut the deficit in half (52-46) by the 13:38 mark. After the Rebels reclaimed control once again with a 14-point lead (60-46) midway through the closing period, MSU continued to battle and whittled the UM lead down to six points two more times around the 5:00 mark.

However, veteran guard Todd Abernethy came up big for the Rebels by scoring seven of his team-high 22 points over the final three minutes to seal the victory and snap Mississippi State's eight-game series winning streak, including a three-game road win string, over Ole Miss.

State's Charles Rhodes paced all scorers by matching his career high with 24 points, while freshman Jamont Gordon added 11 points along with game-high totals of nine rebounds and nine assists to narrowly miss a rare triple-double. UM's Dwayne Curtis contributed 17 points and a team-most eight boards for the winners.

GAME #17

LSU 71, MSU 57

JAN. 18, 2006 • STARKVILLE, MS

The Bulldogs lost their third straight game for the first time since the 2002-03 season by dropping a 71-57 home decision to the LSU Tigers at MSU's Humphrey Coliseum.

With the teams playing to within a four-point contest for the opening 10 minutes of the first half, the visiting Tigers (11-5, 3-0) made a 13-2 run following a 15-15 deadlock at the 12:53 mark to open up an 11-point lead (28-17) with 7:38 left. Capped by a Jamall Edmondson 3-pointer at the 5:18 mark, MSU (11-6, 1-3) responded with a 9-2 run to cut the deficit to four points (30-26). However, LSU's Darrel Mitchell answered with a trey of his own, as the Tigers regained the momentum by outscoring the Bulldogs, 11-4, over the final five minutes of the opening period to take a 41-30 halftime advantage.

With LSU continuing to maintain control of the game in the second stanza, State cut into the double-digit deficit by getting to within seven points (54-47) 11 minutes into the second half. However, the Bulldogs' season-long turnover woes would not allow them to get any closer than eight points the rest of the way. Down by eight points (58-50) with 7:22 left following another Edmondson triple, MSU committed six critical miscues during a game-deciding, six-minute stretch that allowed the Tigers' lead to balloon to 16 points (69-53) by the 2:04 mark.

The win marked LSU's 100th all-time series win over the Bulldogs and third straight in the series. The 14-point margin marked the largest for the Tigers in the series since claiming a 92-66 win in Baton Rouge during the 1992-93 season.

State's Jamont Gordon posted his second double-double of his freshman campaign with a team-high 17 points and a season-most 13 rebounds, but was also slowed by eight turnovers. Charles Rhodes continued his fine play with 14 points and nine boards for MSU.

Glen Davis paced four double-figure LSU scorers with 17 points, while Mitchell and Tyrus Thomas added 15 and 14 points, respectively.

GAME #18

VANDERBILT 80, MSU 52

JAN. 21, 2006 • NASHVILLE, TN

The Bulldogs had their losing streak extended to four consecutive games by dropping an 80-52 decision to the homestanding Vanderbilt Commodores in front of 13,645 fans at VU's Memorial Gymnasium.

MSU's four-game league losing skid marks the team's longest since dropping five straight conference decisions in 1999-2000.

The Bulldogs (11-7, 1-4) got off to a very sluggish start by committing five turnovers in their first seven possessions of the contest. With MSU down by a single point (11-10) with 14:29 remaining in the opening period, the Commodores (12-4, 3-2) went on a 13-3 run to open up an 11-point advantage (24-13) midway through the half.

Shooting a red-hot 63 percent from the field in the opening half of play, Vanderbilt built a 46-24 halftime cushion. The Bulldogs shot just 35 percent in the opening 20 minutes, while being saddled with 11 first-half turnovers.

The Commodores continued to maintain their comfortable margin throughout the second stanza, as the closest MSU would get the rest of the way would be 17 points (61-44) midway through the closing period. Vandy shot 52 percent from the field in the second half, while State managed only 36 percent field-goal shooting.

For the contest, Vanderbilt became the first MSU opponent to shoot 50 percent or better from the field (58%) against the Bulldogs this season. State shot only 35 percent from the field for the game and was slowed by 21 turnovers.

Charles Rhodes was MSU's lone player in double figures with a game-high 19 points, while State freshman and Nashville native Jamont Gordon was limited to a season-low five points. DeMarre Carroll paced five double-digit Vanderbilt scorers with 18 points off the bench.

#19 TENNESSEE 88, MSU 65

JAN. 25, 2006 • STARKVILLE, MS

The Bulldogs suffered their worst home setback of the Rick Stansbury era by dropping an 88-65 decision to the 19th-ranked Tennessee Volunteers at MSU's Humphrey Coliseum.

In addition to ranking as the team's largest margin of defeat at home since the 1997-98 season, State also had its losing streak extended to five consecutive games on the year with the 23-point home setback to the UT Vols.

Having led from start to finish, Tennessee (13-3, 4-1) built a nine-point lead (14-5) six minutes into the contest. With nine unanswered points, MSU (11-8, 1-5) tied the game at 14-14 with 12:12 remaining. However, the Vols responded with a 21-5 run over the next seven minutes to mount a 16-point advantage (35-19) by the 5:27 mark of the opening period.

Shooting 52 percent from the field and holding State to 29 percent field-goal shooting, while also owning a 24-19 rebounding advantage through the opening 20 minutes of play, Tennessee held a 44-29 halftime lead.

The Bulldogs managed to cut the deficit to a dozen points (50-38) three minutes into the second stanza, but a Dane Bradshaw layup followed by a C.J. Watson 3-pointer ended any possible comeback attempt by the home team. MSU would not get any closer than 15 points the rest of the way, as the Vols maintained at least a 20-point cushion for the final eight minutes of the contest en route to coasting to the 23-point road triumph.

Charles Rhodes, Jamont Gordon and Jamall Edmondson paced MSU with 15 points apiece, while Watson led four double-digit Tennessee scorers with a game-high 19 points (8-10 FGs) in addition to his five assists and four steals.

GAME #20

ALABAMA 65, MSU 59

JAN. 28, 2006 • TUSCALOOSA, AL

The Bulldogs dropped their sixth straight decision by falling, 65-59, on the road to the Alabama Crimson Tide with 13,529 fans looking on at refurbished Coleman Coliseum.

The setback marks MSU's longest losing streak since 1988-89 and puts the team at 1-6 to begin SEC play for the first time since 1986-87.

Jumping out to a quick 6-0 start in the contest, Alabama (11-7, 4-2) held a 10-point advantage (17-7) by the 13:19 mark of the opening period. The Tide maintained its double-digit lead for the remainder of the half, going up by as many as 15 points (30-15) with 2:26 left before State (11-9, 1-6) outscored the home team, 6-1, over the final two minutes to cut the deficit to 10 points (31-21) by the intermission.

The Bulldogs raced out of the second-half gates by scoring 10 unanswered points to knot the score at 31-31 by the 17:41 mark. Following a second deadlock at 33-33, Alabama scored five straight points to reclaim the momentum. After the Tide had built the lead back up to seven points (45-38) midway through the half, MSU went on a 10-2 run to take its only lead of the evening. Jamall Edmondson's 3-pointer capped the State rally to put the visitors on top by a single digit (48-47) with 7:14 remaining.

MSU's lead was short-lived, however, as Alabama went back up by five points (55-50) on a Jean Felix trey with 5:16 left. Edmondson answered with another triple to make it a two-point contest (55-53). However, two costly State turnovers and a pair of missed free throws during a critical stretch of the contest enabled the Tide to mount a nine-point lead (62-53) with just over a minute remaining. Outscoring MSU by a 25-5 margin at the line and attempting 27 more charity tosses than the visitors on the night, Alabama sealed the six-point win at the stripe.

A pair of freshmen took game scoring and rebounding honors, as Jamont Gordon led State with 18 points and eight boards while Richard Hendrix paced the winners with game-high totals of 22 points and 16 rebounds.

GAME #21

KENTUCKY 81, MSU 66

FEB. 1, 2006 • STARKVILLE, MS

Kentucky's impressive three-point shooting display was the difference in the game, as the visiting Wildcats handed the homestanding Bulldogs their seventh straight loss by way of an 81-66 decision at MSU's Humphrey Coliseum.

In winning their fifth consecutive game after three straight losses, the Wildcats (15-6, 5-2) nailed a season-most 13 treys in 25 attempts for a season-best 52 percent from the arc.

The contest began with respective eight-point runs before Kentucky took a nine-point advantage (23-14) by the 13:16 mark of the opening period. The Bulldogs (11-10, 1-7) managed to cut the deficit to four points (30-26) with 2:43 remaining, but Kentucky countered with five unanswered points to go back up by nine points (35-26) late in the half. With both teams shooting under 40 percent from the field through the opening 20 minutes of play, UK maintained its nine-point lead (38-29) heading into intermission.

The second half tipped off with back-to-back MSU turnovers and consecutive Kentucky baskets to put the Wildcats on top by 13 points (42-29) just 39 seconds into the second stanza. However, the Bulldogs came alive to score 10 unanswered points to pull to within three points (42-39) by the 16:36 mark. With another State miscue sandwiched between two more Kentucky treys, the UK lead was back up to nine within the next minute.

The Wildcats increased their lead to 16 points (68-52) by the 8:48 mark before back-to-back Jamall Edmondson 3-pointers trimmed the deficit back down to 10 points (68-58). With MSU still hanging around late in the game, UK reserve Ravi Moss nailed a pair of timely treys to all but put the game on ice for the visitors.

UK's Patrick Sparks paced all scorers with 25 points (5-of-10 treys), while Charles Rhodes was a dominant inside force for State in posting a double-double with 21 points and 11 rebounds.

GAME #22

MSU 71, AUBURN 53

FEB. 4, 2006 • STARKVILLE, MS

The Bulldogs closed out a week-long home-stand by snapping their seven-game losing streak with a much-needed 71-53 home triumph over Auburn at MSU's Humphrey Coliseum.

Down by an early 6-1 deficit after a pair of Rasheem Barrett 3-pointers, MSU (12-10, 2-7) went on an 11-2 run over a four-minute span to take a four-point lead (12-8) by the 12:57 mark of the opening period. With 10 lead changes in the first half, the contest stayed to within a four-point game until the Bulldogs scored the final five points of the half to take a 33-26 lead heading into the intermission.

With State leading at the break for the first time since the team's SEC-season opening win over Arkansas nearly a month earlier, MSU's Charles Rhodes posted a double-double (12 points & 10 rebounds) by halftime. Auburn (9-10, 1-7) was held to 32 percent field-goal shooting through the opening 20 minutes of play.

Hungry for a victory after incurring their longest losing streak since 1986-87, the Bulldogs scored 10 unanswered points to open the second stanza and mount a 17-point cushion (43-26) by the 16:29 mark. MSU maintained its double-digit advantage the rest of the way, though Auburn did manage to cut the deficit to 10 points (59-49) with 6:52 remaining in the contest.

However, Rhodes responded with a three-point play to keep the momentum on the home team's side, as State would go on to outscore the Tigers, 12-4, the rest of the way en route to the decisive victory. Five Auburn turnovers over the game's final five minutes, coupled with the team's 1-of-13 three-point shooting in the second half, helped determine the final 18-point margin.

Pacing a quartet of double-digit State scorers, Rhodes recorded his second straight double-double with a game-high 21 points and a career-most 19 rebounds for the winners. Ronny LeMelle's 15 points led the visitors.

GAME #23

SOUTH CAROLINA 83, MSU 61

FEB. 11, 2006 • COLUMBIA, SC

The Bulldogs remained winless in SEC road action and versus Eastern Division teams on the season by dropping an 83-61 decision to South Carolina at the Colonial Center.

MSU (12-11, 2-8) held the advantage for most of the opening 10 minutes of the first half, going up by as many as seven points (14-7) with 14:42 remaining. With State on top by four points (19-15) midway through the period, the Gamecocks (13-10, 4-6) scored 10 unanswered points during a two-minute span to move ahead by six points (25-19) with 8:02 left in the half.

After the Bulldogs managed to deadlock the contest at 25-25 by the 6:35 mark with six straight points of their own, South Carolina proceeded to take control of the game by scoring 18 of the final 20 points of the period to mount a 43-27 lead by the intermission. USC's Tre' Kelley had 16 first-half points for Carolina, while MSU struggled with 39-percent shooting and was outrebounded, 21-12, through the opening 20 minutes of play.

Maintaining at least a 17-point cushion the rest of the evening, the Gamecocks never allowed State back into the contest. USC shot 57 percent from the field in the second stanza en route to the easy 22-point home win, while MSU misfired on all eight three-point attempts after the half.

The setback marked State's fifth straight league road loss of the season and was the team's fifth defeat in as many decisions versus SEC Eastern Division clubs on the year.

Charles Rhodes again led MSU scorers with 18 points, while Jamont Gordon totaled 13 points, nine assists and eight rebounds for the visitors. Kelley finished with a game-high 22 points on 6-of-9 shooting from the arc, while Tarence Kinsey added 15 points for the winners.

Carolina shot 55 percent from the field for the game, including 11-of-23 three-point accuracy.

GAME #24

#25 LSU 72, MSU 59

FEB. 15, 2006 • BATON ROUGE, LA

The Bulldogs lost their sixth SEC road game in as many outings on the year and had their losing streak against Top 25 teams extended to 10 straight contests by dropping a 72-59 decision to the 25th-ranked LSU Tigers at the Pete Maravich Assembly Center.

MSU (12-12, 2-9) held the early advantage, jumping out to a 10-point lead (12-2) by the 16:49 mark of the opening period. State owned the lead for the first 10 minutes of the half before the Tigers (17-7, 9-2) took their first lead (18-16) of the contest on a Darrel Mitchell 3-pointer with 10:16 left in the half.

Following an 18-18 tie at the 9:36 mark, LSU scored 11 unanswered points over a four-minute span to take an 11-point lead (29-18) with 5:42 remaining in the half. With both teams struggling from the field (35% for MSU & 31% for LSU) and combining for just 2-of-13 three-point shooting through the opening 20 minutes, the Tigers maintained a 34-27 halftime advantage.

State scored the first two points of the second stanza, but LSU soon took control of the game and pushed its lead back up to double digits three minutes into the half. After Mitchell's second trey put the Tigers on top by 18 points (55-37) midway through the period, the Bulldogs cut the deficit in half (55-46) with 6:25 remaining by scoring nine straight points.

Following another double-figure LSU lead, State's Reginald Delk hit back-to-back treys to get the Bulldogs back to within seven points (63-56) with 2:45 left. However, that was as close as the visitors would get, as the Tigers benefitted from a 51-35 rebounding margin and outscored MSU, 23-10, from the charity stripe for the game en route to claiming the 13-point triumph.

Charles Rhodes again led MSU with 14 points and nine rebounds, while Glen Davis (19 pts & 13 rebs) and Tyrus Thomas (16/13) both posted double-doubles for the winners.

GAME #25

MSU 84, MISSISSIPPI 55

FEB. 18, 2006 • STARKVILLE, MS

The Bulldogs remained undefeated at home (8-0) against in-state rival Mississippi during the Rick Stansbury era by claiming an impressive 84-55 home triumph over the visiting Rebels at MSU's Humphrey Coliseum.

Following four lead changes and four ties through the first 12 minutes of play, MSU (13-12, 3-9) scored a dozen unanswered points late in the opening half to take a 34-22 lead with 2:54 remaining in the period. Paced by Dietric Slater's 12 points and seven rebounds in the first half, the Bulldogs maintained a 12-point advantage (38-26) at the halftime break.

After the Rebels (14-11, 4-8) cut the deficit to nine points (38-29) on a Todd Abernethy 3-pointer one minute into the second stanza, State outscored the visitors, 27-3, over the next eight minutes to build an insurmountable 33-point cushion (65-32) by the 11:06 mark. MSU freshman Reginald Delk keyed the game-deciding run by hitting three 3-pointers during the early portion of the stretch to all but put the game out of reach early in the second half.

The Bulldogs maintained at least a 27-point lead the rest of the way en route to posting their largest margin of victory (29 points) over their in-state rivals since the 1994-95 season.

Posting their highest point total and best shooting efforts from the field overall (54.9%) and from the three-point arc (47.1%) against SEC competition to date on the season, the Bulldogs received a career-first double-double outing from Slater, who finished with 16 points and a career-high 13 rebounds. Jamont Gordon led all scorers with 17 points, while Delk (5-6 treys) and Charles Rhodes added 16 and 15 points, respectively, for the winners. Londrick Nolen led Mississippi with 14 points off the bench.

GAME #26

AUBURN 75, MSU 71

FEB. 22, 2006 • AUBURN, AL

The Bulldogs remained winless on the road in SEC play for the year in dropping a 75-71 decision to Auburn at Beard-Eaves-Memorial Coliseum.

Attempting to ride the momentum of Saturday's impressive home win over rival Mississippi and bidding for their first back-to-back league wins of the campaign, the Bulldogs (13-13, 3-10) held a 16-12 lead with 11:45 left in the opening period. Ignited by a Daniel Hayles 3-pointer, the Tigers (11-13, 3-10) scored 15 unanswered points over the next six minutes to take an 11-point advantage (27-16) by the 6:09 mark.

After an MSU rebound basket temporarily halted the run, Hayles responded with back-to-back treys to spur Auburn to a subsequent 10-0 rally and put the Tigers on top by 19 points (37-18) with 3:12 remaining in the half. Hayles, who hadn't played in the previous two games, capped off the first-half scoring with his fourth triple to give the home team a 40-20 halftime cushion.

Following an Auburn basket to begin the second-half scoring, MSU scored 10 straight points within a three-minute span to cut the deficit to a dozen points (42-30) by the 16:41 mark. The Tigers maintained their comfortable double-figure advantage for the majority of the second stanza until Reginald Delk nailed consecutive 3-pointers and Jamont Gordon followed with a two-point basket to trim the AU lead to just six points (67-61) with 1:29 left in the contest.

Auburn then misfired on its second straight front end of a 1-and-1 opportunity, but AU's Frank Tolbert stole the ball from Charles Rhodes on the missed free throw and converted a dunk to put the Tigers back up by eight points. Hayles and Barrett combined for 6-of-6 free throws down the stretch to seal the four-point triumph.

Barrett and Hayles finished with 22 and 18 points, respectively, for the winners, while Rhodes (17 points & 11 rebounds) and Dietric Slater (15/11) both had double-doubles for MSU.

GAME #27

MSU 83, GEORGIA 68

FEB. 25, 2006 • STARKVILLE, MS

The homestanding Bulldogs received career-high scoring efforts from Charles Rhodes (27 points) and Dietric Slater (22) in claiming their third straight home win by virtue of an 83-68 victory over Georgia at Humphrey Coliseum.

Georgia (15-12, 5-9) led virtually the entire first half, opening up as much as a 13-point advantage (29-16) by the 7:32 mark. However, the momentum began to slowly turn in favor of the home team, as MSU (14-13, 4-10) outscored the visitors, 16-8, the rest of the period to cut the deficit to five points (37-32) heading into the intermission.

State continued that momentum after halftime, scoring the first 16 points of the second stanza to take an 11-point lead (48-37) following a Slater three-point play at the 13:47 mark. Georgia's first points of the second half came shortly thereafter on a Steve Newman bucket at the 13:36 mark. The visitors managed to cut the deficit to a half-dozen points on a couple of occasions midway through the half, but could not find a way to slow down an energized State squad. MSU maintained its double-figure lead for the final seven minutes of the contest en route to the 15-point home triumph.

Outscoring Georgia, 51-31, in the second half, State shot 58 percent from the field in the contest and held a commanding 48-31 rebound margin for the game.

Rhodes finished with 27 points on 11-of-15 field-goal shooting, while Slater added 10 rebounds to his career-best, 22-point effort to post his third straight double-double. Freshman Jamont Gordon notched a double-double as well with 13 points and 12 rebounds, while fellow rookie Richard Delk added 13 points. Levi Stukes paced Georgia with 17 points.

GAME #28

ARKANSAS 80, MSU 70

MAR. 1, 2006 • FAYETTEVILLE, AR

Jonathon Modica and Ronnie Brewer combined for 49 points to help pace the Arkansas Razorbacks to an 80-70 home win over the visiting Bulldogs with 19,833 fans in attendance on 'Senior Night' at Bud Walton Arena.

The 10-point loss to the Hogs kept MSU winless on the road in league play for an entire season for the first time since the 1992-93 campaign.

With the two SEC West foes having battled through a half-dozen ties and four lead changes during the first 10 minutes of the opening period, Arkansas (20-8, 9-6) went on an 11-2 run to turn a 13-13 tie into a 24-15 lead with 7:15 remaining in the first half. The Razorbacks would lengthen their lead to 13 points (33-20) before MSU (14-14, 4-11) scored eight unanswered points to cut the deficit to just five points (33-28) with 32 seconds remaining in the half. However, Modica regained some of the momentum back for the Hogs by hitting a 3-pointer with time winding down to give the home team an eight-point advantage (36-28) heading into halftime.

Modica came out firing after the break as well, tallying 17 points on five 3-pointers in the opening six minutes of the second stanza to stake Arkansas to a 19-point lead (56-37) at the 14:21 mark. With the Razorbacks up by 20 points (61-41) with 11:26 left in the contest, State went on a 15-3 run during a four-minute span to cut the deficit to eight points (64-56) by the 7:22 mark on Reginald Delk's third straight 3-pointer.

The visitors would not get any closer than eight points the rest of the way, as Arkansas notched its 20th win of the season with the 10-point victory. Hitting 51 percent from the field, Arkansas also benefitted from a 16-2 scoring advantage from the charity stripe for the game.

Nailing 6-of-9 treys for the night, Modica finished with 26 points, while Brewer added 23 in the winning effort. Hitting a red-hot 7-of-9 from behind the arc on the evening, Delk tallied a game-high 27 points for the Bulldogs.

GAME #29

MSU 71, ALABAMA 58

MAR. 4, 2006 • STARKVILLE, MS

The homestanding Bulldogs nailed down the West's No. 4 seed in the upcoming SEC Tournament by claiming a 71-58 victory over Alabama on 'Senior Day' at MSU's Humphrey Coliseum.

MSU (15-14, 5-11) scored the game's first eight points on the way to opening up an 11-point lead (15-4) by the 15:56 mark of the first half. The Bulldogs maintained the advantage until a 10-2 Alabama run late in the period, capped by an Alonzo Gee 3-pointer, put the visitors on top by a single point (27-26) with 3:09 remaining in the half. However, State responded with 11 unanswered points and would go on to take an eight-point lead (37-29) into the intermission.

The Crimson Tide (17-11, 10-6) used another 10-2 run through the opening four minutes of the second stanza to knot the score at 39-39 by the 15:56 mark. After MSU regained the lead shortly thereafter on a Richard Delk trey, the home team built a trio of 10-point advantages midway through the half. Another Gee 3-pointer at the 5:32 mark cut the deficit to five points (59-54), but State freshman Jamont Gordon answered with a basket and two free throws to increase the lead back up to nine points with 3:51 left in the game.

Alabama would get no closer than seven points the rest of the way, as MSU avenged a January loss in Tuscaloosa and last year's 'Senior Day' home setback to the Tide by closing the regular season with its fourth straight home win - all by double digits - by way of the 13-point victory.

With 15 assists and just 11 turnovers against Alabama, the Bulldogs managed to record more assists than miscues for a second consecutive game for the first time on the season. Defensively, State was credited with 10 steals and seven blocked shots for the contest, while limiting the Tide to just 39.7 percent field-goal shooting.

Gordon and Charles Rhodes once again paced MSU with 17 and 16 points, respectively. Jermareo Davidson posted a double-double with 17 points and 11 rebounds for the visitors, while Gee finished with 15 points off the Bama bench.

GAME #30

SOUTH CAROLINA 59, MSU 44

MAR. 9, 2006 • NASHVILLE, TN

SEC TOURNAMENT - FIRST ROUND

Seeded fourth in the SEC West, the Bulldogs dropped 59-44 decision to No. 5 SEC East seed South Carolina in the opening round of the 2006 SEC Men's Basketball Tournament played at the Gaylord Entertainment Center in Nashville.

Along with remaining winless (0-4) in Nashville-hosted SEC Tournaments through the years, MSU (15-15) completed the season of conference competition without being able to post back-to-back league wins on the year.

On the heels of their impressive 'Senior Day' home win over divisional rival Alabama, the Bulldogs got off to a fast start with a 9-2 lead three minutes into the contest. However, South Carolina (16-14) outscored MSU, 11-4, to knot the score at 13-13 with 9:49 left in the half. Following a second deadlock at 15-15, the Gamecocks scored seven unanswered points to establish control of the contest. After extending its lead to 11 points (31-20) with 2:06 remaining in the opening period, USC settled for a 32-25 halftime margin.

State came out after the break and cut the deficit to five points on a couple of occasions through the first few minutes of the second stanza. Leading by five points (36-31) with 17:30 left, the Gamecocks scored eight unanswered points to extend their advantage to 13 points (44-31) by the 13:28 mark. A Wesley Morgan tip-in basket cut the deficit to eight points (46-38) with 8:19 left in the contest, but a subsequent Bryce Sheldon 3-pointer put USC back on top by double figures for good en route to the 15-point final tally.

Slowed by 17 turnovers and managing only nine assists as a team for the game, the Bulldogs were led by Charles Rhodes and Jamont Gordon with 11 points each. In contrast with 16 assists and only four miscues, Carolina was led by Renaldo Balkman's 12 points. Tarence Kinsey and Tre' Kelley added 11 points and five assists apiece.

HALL OF FAMER BAILEY HOWELL

The greatest name in Mississippi State University basketball history received the greatest honor the sport has to offer on Sept. 29, 1997, as Bailey Howell was formally enshrined into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass. Listed below are just some of the many accomplishments achieved by Bailey Howell during his record-setting three-year collegiate stint at Mississippi State and productive 12-year career in the National Basketball Association:

- ✕ Member of the Tennessee, Mississippi and MSU Sports Halls of Fame
- ✕ Namesake of the Cellular South Howell Trophy, presented annually at the Mississippi Sports Hall of Fame and Museum to the top male basketball player among Mississippi's four-year senior colleges
- ✕ Two-time all-American and three-time, first-team all-SEC selection
- ✕ Consensus first-team all-American as a senior (1958-59) and consensus second-team all-American as a junior (1957-58)
- ✕ Ranked among the nation's top-10 statistical leaders in both scoring and rebounding during all three varsity seasons (1957-59)
- ✕ Ranked fourth nationally in scoring during junior (27.8 ppg) and senior (27.5 ppg) years
- ✕ Led the NCAA in field-goal percentage (56.8%) as a sophomore, while standing second among the nation's rebounding leaders as a senior (15.2 rpg)
- ✕ Owns MSU's career records for scoring average (27.1 ppg), rebounds (1,277), rebounding average (17.0 rpg), free throws made (682) and free throws attempted (892)
- ✕ Ranks second (behind Jeff Malone) on the school's all-time scoring list with 2,030 career points
- ✕ Owns MSU's single-game scoring (47 points vs. Union in 1958) and rebounding (34 rebounds vs. LSU in 1957) marks
- ✕ Served as team co-captain as a junior and tri-captain as a senior, helping lead coach Babe McCarthy's teams to a three-year composite record of 61-14, including an SEC title during his senior campaign
- ✕ Starred for 12 years in the National Basketball Association, having ranked among the NBA's all-time top-10 leaders in nine statistical categories upon his retirement in 1971
- ✕ Six-time NBA All-Star named to the All-NBA Second Team in 1963
- ✕ Member of two NBA World Championship teams (1968 & 1969) with the Boston Celtics
- ✕ Selected by the Detroit Pistons in the first round (second pick overall) of the 1959 NBA Draft

Presented to MSU forward Lawrence Roberts (left) in 2005 during the award's inaugural year, the Cellular South Howell Trophy is annually given to the top male basketball player among Mississippi's four-year senior colleges.

A member of the Tennessee, Mississippi and MSU Halls of Fame, Bailey Howell is honored in the Mississippi Sports Hall of Fame and Museum in Jackson with a 10-foot cardboard cutout of the former all-American.

San Juan Shootout - Guaynabo, PR
* SEC Tournament - Nashville, TN

The 1908-09 Mississippi A&M team opened the school's first-ever basketball campaign with five consecutive wins under the guidance of head coach T.H. Werner.

The sport of basketball initially came into existence at the Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical College through the efforts of the sports editors of the school newspaper, The Reflector, during the early 1900s. During the three-year span from 1903 to 1905, a series of short editorials had aroused the interest of the students around campus. Urgent appeals, pleading for recognition of basketball as an intercollegiate sport, appeared during these years. In October 1906, the Faculty Committee on Athletics approved the application for the support of basketball by the athletic department. Without the availability of a gymnasium for practice, the team reported for outdoor practice sessions during the early part of November. While no official coach was available for basketball instruction, the team was comprised of the following students: E.R. Blanton, F.N. Chisholm, D.C. Miller, J.T. Pinkston, R.L. Prophit, C.G. Smith, and R.L. Steinwinder. A guard on the club, Steinwinder was elected the team captain. Due to the absence of teams at neighboring colleges, intercollegiate games could not be scheduled. The only game that was played during the first "season" was contested on the night of Nov. 26, 1906 in nearby Columbus, Miss., against the Columbus Athletic Club.

The game's outcome, a 41-10 win by the Athletic Club, was not relished very much by the A&M students. Consequently, interest in basketball dwindled somewhat around campus, and there were not any further attempts to revive the sport again until 1909.

Basketball returned to campus in 1909, with T.H. Werner at the helm for one season. Captained by H.B. Furman, the first "official" A&M roundball game was played on the evening of Jan. 1. Coach Werner held the team together during the Christmas holidays, expecting to play Illinois, but instead took on the Columbus Athletic Club because of Illinois' decision to cancel its Southern trip. A&M's "official" basketball debut proved to be a successful one, with the home team claiming a 35-6 triumph.

That first A&M edition reeled off five consecutive victories to open the season, including lopsided wins over less-talented athletic clubs from Brownsville, Tenn., (75-0) and Columbus, Miss. (61-1). The Reflector, the school newspaper, reported the back-to-back triumphs in a rather amusing way.

"A team from Brownsville, touring as an athletic association, came with the idea that they knew basketball. A large and enthusiastic crowd encouraged the A&M boys, and the splendid teamwork was practically uninterrupted."

On the team's visit to nearby Columbus two days later, The Reflector reported, "A&M spent too much valuable time looking at the good-looking girls to do themselves justice, and consequently scored only 61 points to one for the visitors."

That 1909 club finished the season with five consecutive low-scoring road losses to end the year with a 5-5 record. After not having a team for the 1909-10 hoops season, W.D. Chadwick, guided A&M for one rather uneventful campaign (2-4 record).

The A&M basketball program enjoyed tremendous success under the direction of Earle C. "Billy" Hayes, who tutored A&M track great Don Magruder Scott (in whose honor MSU's Scott Field is named) and other Olympians before becoming a very successful track coach at Indiana University. Hayes, whose 12-year tenure at A&M is tied for the school's longest stint (with Richard Williams) for a head basketball coach, posted a composite record of 124-54 from 1912 to 1924. A graduate of Albion College in Michigan, Hayes currently ranks as the school's fourth-winningest basketball coach of all-time behind Williams, Babe McCarthy and current State mentor Rick Stansbury. During these dozen seasons, Hayes' A&M clubs "claimed" four Southern Championships (1912-14, '16). The first Dixie title came in his initial year on the job, as A&M recorded a perfect 9-0 mark for the school's first and only undefeated basketball campaign in 94 seasons of competition.

The perfect season of 1911-12 was followed by outstanding records of 11-1 and 13-2 during the next two years, as A&M "claimed" its second and third consecutive Southern Championships. Having also "won" the title again in 1916, all claims but the 1914 championship were disputed by the other schools holding membership in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association. The bone of contention for the SIAA members generally centered around the fact that the colleges did not have uniform courts. Some courts were long and narrow with low ceilings, while others were irregular and in some instances had column or other obstructions in the playing court. The result was that the home teams most always won. As a result, the team that could schedule the most home games usually had the best winning percentage at the end of the season and, of course, "claimed" the championship.

Coach E.C. Hayes' first of his school-record 12 years at the Mississippi A&M hoops helm resulted in the only perfect basketball season (9-0 in 1911-12) in the history of Mississippi State University.

MSU BASKETBALL HISTORY

To eliminate the possibility of continued disputes among SIAA members, the Atlanta Athletic Club officials, in 1921, decided to organize a tournament to be held at a neutral site on a specially constructed court erected just for the tournament games. Open to all Southern college teams and played in the Atlanta Auditorium, the 1923 SIAA Tournament was captured by Mississippi A&M. With tourney wins over Furman, rival Mississippi, Georgia Tech and Tennessee-Chattanooga, Hayes' 1923 A&M contingent finished with a 15-4 overall record.

A&M went 13-8 the following year in Hayes' final season before leaving to become the head track coach at Indiana University in Bloomington. During his 12-year stint as head basketball coach at A&M, his teams never had a losing season and never finished lower than fourth among the more than 40 Southern schools. All of this was accomplished despite A&M not having an indoor basketball court or training facility until 1920.

Upon Hayes' departure in 1924, the A&M coaching reins changed hands five times over the next decade or so. K.P. Gatchell guided the 1924-25 club to a respectable 14-9 mark before giving way to Bernie Bierman, who directed A&M to records of 14-8 and 17-7 in his brief two-year coaching stint. Bierman, a University of Minnesota graduate, would later return to his alma mater to pace the Golden Gopher football teams to five national championships and seven Big Ten titles during a 16-year association with the U of M gridiron unit. The University of Minnesota's main athletic building and track & field stadium are presently named in his honor.

A 16th consecutive winning season (13-7 record) followed in 1927-28 under the guidance of first-year head man Ray G. Dauber, an Iowa graduate. However, five successive losing seasons ensued during this period, beginning with an 8-15 season in 1928-29 and a 5-8 mark the following year when A&M had to play all of its games on the road because a home facility was not available.

After not fielding a team for the 1930-31 campaign, three significant events occurred in 1932 that marked a new beginning for the school's basketball program. In the fall of 1931, the "Tin Gym" - A&M's first permanent gymnasium which later was used for intramural and recreational student activities on campus - was constructed at a cost of $12,000. With a seating capacity of 1,800 people, the Tin Gym era began with a 30-26 setback to LSU on Jan. 25, 1932.

One week later (Feb. 3, 1932), A&M became Mississippi State College after legislative action was approved. Later that year (Dec. 8-9) at the annual Southern Conference meeting in Knoxville, Tenn., Mississippi State became one of the 13 charter members of the Southeastern Conference, along with Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, Louisiana State, Mississippi, Sewanee, Tennessee, Tulane, and Vanderbilt.

Mississippi State's first year in the SEC marked Dauber's last season at the hoops helm in Starkville. Despite a regular-season league mark of 3-9 (6-13 overall), State advanced to the finals of the inaugural SEC Tournament. Making the school's only previous appearance in the league tourney's title tilt before winning both the 1996 and 2002 crowns, Dauber's club bested Alabama and Vanderbilt in Atlanta before falling to league champion Kentucky in the title game. State's Frank Waits was chosen first-team all-tournament, while teammates Buford Taylor and George Pillow were second-team selections.

Mississippi State's first two decades competing in the SEC were mostly filled with losing campaigns and lower-division league finishes. Edwin (Goat) Hale, a graduate of Mississippi College, guided the team to a two-year mark of 20-17 before giving way to Notre Dame alumnus Frank Carideo. State posted winning seasons in 1935-36 and 1936-37, including a fourth-place SEC finish during Carideo's debut year. However, a pair of sub-.500 ledgers followed, and Carideo was replaced by Stanfield (Dick) Hitt to start the new decade.

Under Hitt's guidance, Mississippi State began the 1940s on a high note with four consecutive winning seasons (9-6, 12-10, 13-7 & 14-8), including a 13-7 SEC record and fourth-place league finish in 1943. Unfortunately because of World War II, State did not have a basketball team in 1943-44, and the short-lived success obtained earlier in the decade could not be duplicated when the roundball squad returned to action on the court the following year. Three successive losing seasons later, and Hitt was replaced by Paul Gregory, who would later pilot the MSU baseball contingent to four NCAA Regional appearances and a quartet of SEC titles during an accomplished 18-year coaching career on the diamond.

However, during Gregory's eight-year stint (1948-55) on the hardwood, the Maroons struggled through a composite record of 58-100 with only a pair of winning seasons (12-11 in 1952 & 11-10 in 1954). Perhaps the biggest event to take place on campus during the Gregory era was the opening of the "New Gym."

State claimed a 94-69 home win over the visiting LSU Tigers, Dec. 15, 1950, to begin a new era of Mississippi State basketball. Built at a cost of $550,000, the New Gym could hold around 5,000 spectators, many of whom often wielded deafening cowbells during home basketball games before the Southeastern Conference, in 1974, banned artificial noise-makers at games between SEC institutions. Over the next 25 seasons (1950-75), the New Gym would go on to be the site of 192 State victories (.688) and four SEC basketball titles.

The 1950s did signal the beginning of a turnaround for the Mississippi State basketball program, as State began to reel in some quality local roundball talent. Herbert (Hawkeye) Hargett, a set-shooting guard from Golden, Miss., became the first Mississippi State player to earn all-SEC basketball honors.

Mississippi State strung together home win streaks of 35 and 25 consecutive games en route to compiling a 25-year home record of 192-87 (.688 winning percentage) at the "New Gym," which later was renamed McCarthy Gym in honor of the late MSU coach.

Hargett, who averaged 18.8 points per game in 1950-51, garnered second-team all-league plaudits during both of his State campaigns after transferring from Sunflower Junior College.

Hargett's scoring record was broken the following year by second-team all-SEC standout Coyte (Red) Vance, who averaged 20.5 points during the 1951-52 season. The 6-0 forward from Conehatta, Miss., tallied 471 total points on the season, hitting 162 field goals and going 147-of-231 from the free throw line.

High-scoring junior college transfer Gerald Caveness and high school all-state guard Jim Ashmore, hailing from Booneville and Forest, respectively, continued the trend of local basketball talent staying home. Caveness, whose son (Gary) would suit up for MSU's hoopsters some 30 years later, collected all-SEC honors during each of his two collegiate seasons. Meanwhile, Ashmore's brilliant career was just beginning as Gregory gave way to a 31-year-old named Babe McCarthy in 1955 to explore a coaching career on the baseball diamond at State.

The image of Mississippi State's basketball program would change dramatically with the hiring of a young Mississippian named James Harrison "Babe" McCarthy. After State went 6-17 overall and 2-12 in the SEC in Gregory's last year, McCarthy was hired in July 1955 by legendary director of athletics C.R. "Dudy" Noble. A native of Baldwyn, Miss., and a former World War II transport pilot, McCarthy was working for an oil company in Clarksdale, Miss., when he was put in charge of Mississippi State's roundball fortunes. With his hiring, McCarthy became the first MSU mentor charged only with coaching duties of the men's basketball team.

The Maroons, paced by all-SEC guard Jim Ashmore's 22.3 points-per-game scoring average, improved to 12-12 overall and 6-8 in the SEC during McCarthy's initial season on the State bench. Despite the .500 record, the immediate prospects for roundball success looked much brighter as future State greats Bailey Howell, Jerry Keeton and Kermit Davis spent the 1955-56 campaign playing junior varsity because of the NCAA rule prohibiting freshmen from playing on the varsity squad.

Paced by Ashmore, a senior, and sophomore Howell, the 1956-57 Maroon contingent became the highest scoring team in school history en route to registering a 17-8 overall record and a 9-5 league mark. Ashmore (28.3 ppg) and Howell (25.9 ppg), both first-team all-SEC selections, finished the year ranked sixth and ninth, respectively, among the nation's scoring leaders. In his first varsity season, Howell also compiled a single-season school standard that will likely never be matched by averaging an amazing 19.7 rebounds per contest to rank sixth nationally. As a team, State ranked sixth in the NCAA averaging a school-record 84.8 points per contest, while earning a school-first No. 15 ranking in the final AP poll.

A year later, the Maroons reached the 20-win mark (20-5) for the first time in school history, again going 9-5 in league play and ending the year with a No. 15 national ranking in the AP poll. Individually, Howell earned his second of three first-team all-SEC honors as well as garnering consensus second-team all-America accolades. The Middleton, Tenn., native, who donned No. 52 during his brilliant collegiate career, finished the 1957-58 campaign as the nation's fourth-leading scorer (27.8 ppg) behind fellow future NBA Hall of Famers Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati, Seattle's Elgin Baylor and Wilt Chamberlain of Kansas. A future NBA All-Star and Hall of Famer in his own right, Howell also ranked ninth in the country in rebounding (16.2 rpg) as a junior.

With all the team and individual successes enjoyed by Mississippi State during McCarthy's first three seasons in Starkville, nothing could compare, past or present, to what his talent-laden clubs would accomplish over the next five basketball campaigns. In their third and final varsity season together, tri-captains Howell, Keeton and Davis would spearhead the 1958-59 Maroon machine to the school's first-ever SEC basketball championship. Only an SEC-opening 97-66 loss at Auburn to start the new calendar year (Jan. 3) kept State from recording a perfect season. State opened with a nine-game winning streak and closed with a 15-game win string that included a 66-58 home triumph (Feb. 9, 1959) over top-ranked and defending national champion Kentucky. By the time the memorable season had come to a close, the Maroons were 24-1 overall, 13-1 in the SEC, and ranked third in the final Associated Press poll behind only Kansas State and league rival Kentucky.

Individually, Howell broke LSU standout Bob Pettit's SEC career scoring mark with 2,030 points, and finished his senior year ranked fourth in the nation in scoring (27.5 ppg) and second in rebounding (15.2 rpg). The second player overall selected in the 1959 NBA Draft by the Detroit Pistons, Howell would go on to become a six-time NBA All-Star in addition to playing for two World Champion Boston Celtics clubs.

During a rebuilding year, the 1959-60 State contingent turned in a 12-13 ledger (5-9 SEC mark), but did extend a home-court winning streak to 35 consecutive games before falling to Auburn (64-48 on Jan. 2) in the team's SEC lid-lifter. Despite the losing season, the Maroons again had reason for optimism as incoming freshmen Red Stroud, Leland Mitchell and Joe Dan Gold were starring for State's JV squad.

MSU BASKETBALL HISTORY

The rebuilding process was indeed a successful one, as Mississippi State proceeded to claim outright or a share of three successive SEC titles. With senior forward Jerry Graves leading a sophomore-laden team in both scoring (21.3 ppg) and rebounding (10.3 rpg) as a first-team all-SEC recipient, the 1960-61 Bulldogs went 19-6 overall and 11-3 in league play to finish one game ahead of both Kentucky and Vanderbilt atop the conference standings.

For the second time in four years, MSU posted the nation's best winning percentage (.960) by again registering a 24-1 overall record during the 1961-62 campaign. The Bulldogs made up for a 100-86 road loss to the Vanderbilt Commodores in mid-January with 12 straight SEC victories, including a first-ever triumph at second-ranked Kentucky (49-44 on Feb. 12), to tie the Wildcats for a share of the Southeastern Conference championship. With both Mitchell and Stroud earning first-team all-SEC honors and McCarthy collecting his second of three successive SEC Coach of the Year awards, the 1961-62 MSU club finished the season ranked fourth in both The Associated Press and United Press International polls.

State's run of four SEC basketball titles in five years was completed during the 1962-63 campaign under the senior leadership of Mitchell, Stroud and Gold. The veteran Bulldog trio helped pace McCarthy's last winning ballclub to a 22-6 overall mark and 12-2 ledger in league play, winning the SEC by two games over Georgia Tech and Auburn. The trio of Mitchell, Stroud and Gold concluded their MSU careers by helping the Bulldogs to a remarkable three-year composite record of 65-13 (.833), climaxed by the school's first-ever postseason appearance at the NCAA Mideast Regional in East Lansing, Mich. Upon dropping a 61-51 first-round decision to eventual national champion Loyola of Chicago, State rebounded with a 65-60 consolation win over Bowling Green at Jenison Field House.

The glory years of Mississippi State basketball had come to a close with the team's memorable 1962-63 season. Records of 9-17 and 10-16 followed in 1963-64 and 1964-65, respectively, and McCarthy was replaced by one of his prized pupils - fellow MSU alumnus

Joe Dan Gold. Though he departed the Starkville campus on the heels of two consecutive losing seasons, McCarthy left an indelible mark on the history of Mississippi State athletics by directing his alma mater to a 10-year record of 169-85 (.665) and four SEC titles in becoming the school's all-time winningest basketball coach. His impact on the university's basketball program can not only be appreciated by fully comprehending his unrivaled win-loss record, but the late Bulldog mentor's enthusiasm and charisma would have an everlasting effect on a wide-eyed math education major from Pearl, Miss. Richard T. Williams, who worked in MSU's physical education department and observed many of McCarthy's practices in the mid-1960s, would some three decades later surpass "The Babe" as the school's winningest hoops coach and return Bulldog Basketball back to the national limelight.

As is very often the case with any coach who succeeds a legendary coaching figure, Joe Dan Gold faced a very difficult task ahead of him at the tender young age of 23. The Benton, Ky., native and team captain of MSU's 1963 NCAA Tournament club was hired in March 1965 to replace McCarthy, who then went on to be the head coach at George Washington University before enjoying a successful coaching tour in the old American Basketball Association (ABA).

The third of four successive MSU graduates to hold the school's head basketball coach's position during a 30-year period, Gold put together back-to-back respectable records of 14-11 in his first two seasons at the MSU helm. Paced by all-SEC forward/center Dave Williams, the team's scoring and rebounding leader in both 1965-66 and 1966-67, the Bulldogs finished in a third-place tie in the SEC standings during Gold's debut campaign.

After a fifth-place league finish the following year (1966-67) en route to another 14-11 overall record, State struggled through three consecutive losing seasons with single-digit win totals (9-17, 8-17 & 6-18) each of the three years. The team's best SEC record during this span was 6-12 in 1968-69. Following a 6-18 season (3-15 SEC mark) in 1969-70, Gold was replaced by another MSU alumnus, Kermit Davis, to help direct the Bulldogs into the 1970s.

Appointed to guide the Bulldogs into the new decade, Davis was elevated to the position of head basketball coach at his alma mater after serving four years as an assistant coach for the Bulldogs. A native of Walnut, Miss., Davis, in 1955, became the first high school player signed by Babe McCarthy. Davis went on to become a three-year standout guard for McCarthy's squads, serving as a tri-captain for MSU's 1958-59 SEC Championship club.

Always a favorite among media members during his sensational 10-year coaching stint at Mississippi State University, the personable James Harrison "Babe" McCarthy guided the Bulldogs to 169 basketball victories and four SEC championships.

In his initial season at the Bulldog helm, Davis' troops went 15-10 and tied for fourth place in the SEC standings with a 9-9 league mark. For his efforts, Davis was named the SEC Coach of the Year by The Associated Press voters. The team's win total fell each of the next two years, from an even 13-13 in 1971-72 to 11-15 the following season. After rebounding with a 16-10 record (8-10 in the SEC) in 1973-74, the Bulldogs dipped to 9-17 the next year in their final season of home competition at the "New Gym."

As the Bulldogs were making plans to move into their new basketball facility to signal the beginning of a new era of Mississippi State athletics, the university lost perhaps its greatest basketball ambassador with the passing of James Harrison "Babe" McCarthy. McCarthy passed away, March 18, 1975, after an eight-month battle with cancer. Ironically, McCarthy was inducted into the Mississippi Sports Hall of Fame during a ceremony in Jackson the previous night, though he was unable to attend because of his illness.

Named in honor of George Duke Humphrey, a former president (1934-45) at Mississippi State University, the Humphrey Coliseum era of Mississippi State hoops tipped off, Dec. 1, 1975, versus Indiana State. With freshman guard Ray White scoring a game-high 34 points in his MSU debut, the Bulldogs claimed a narrow 85-82 victory with a crowd of 5,483 fans in attendance at the team's new $6-million, 10,000-seat facility. Coach Davis' club would go on to win its first five games at "The Hump," including a 77-73 triumph of SEC power Kentucky, before settling with a 13-13 overall record and 6-12 league mark.

A near duplicate 14-13 campaign (6-12 in the SEC) followed in 1976-77 despite eight straight wins to open the season. After piloting the Bulldogs to a seven-year composite record of 91-91 with only two losing seasons, Davis was replaced by Ron Greene, who left his post at the University of New Orleans in May 1977 to become Mississippi State's 14th head basketball coach. In Davis' final game as MSU's head man (March 7, 1977), freshman center Rickey Brown hit for a school-record 18 field goals in 22 attempts against Auburn en route to a Humphrey Coliseum-record (for an MSU player) 40-point outing.

Greene's first and only season at the MSU helm produced the Bulldogs' most successful roundball campaign since winning their fourth SEC title in 1962-63.

With Greene winning consensus SEC

A three-time all-SEC honoree and first-round NBA draft pick in 1979, center Rickey Brown helped lead the 1978-79 Bulldog squad to the school's first-ever National Invitation Tournament appearance.

Coach of the Year honors, "the Greene Machine" rolled to an 18-9 overall record in 1977-78 with future NBA standouts Rickey Brown and Wiley Peck leading the way. Despite a 13-5 SEC record and second-place league finish behind national champion Kentucky, MSU did not receive a post-season tournament invitation. Upon leaving State after only one year to take over the coaching chores at his alma mater (Murray State), Greene gave way to East Tennessee State alumnus Jim Hatfield.

Inheriting the talents of all-SEC performers Brown, Peck and White, Hatfield's first Bulldog edition bolted out of the gates with eight consecutive wins to start the season, including an 80-73 victory over the host Louisville Cardinals in the championship game of the Louisville Holiday Classic just after Christmas. That 8-0 start vaulted MSU to the school's first national ranking (#18 AP; #13 UPI) since the 1962-63 season. Winning their last four regular-season league contests, the 1978-79 Bulldogs finished with a 19-9 overall mark (11-7 in the SEC) after dropping an 80-78 first-round home decision to Alcorn State in the National Invitation Tournament. The NIT berth marked MSU's first postseason appearance in 16 years.

Despite Brown averaging a team-best 20.5 points and a league-leading 14.4 rebounds per game as a first-team all-SEC pick in 1979-80, Hatfield's team fell below the .500 mark to 13-14 overall and 7-11 in the league. Though the Bulldogs had landed future NBA draft picks Jeff Malone, Terry Lewis and Kalpatrick Wells to begin the new decade, the records continued to dip to 8-19 and 3-15 in the SEC the next year. Following the club's worst season in 11 years, Hatfield was excused from his MSU post in favor of Southern Cal's Bob Boyd.

The Bulldogs' third successive non-MSU graduate to assume the school's basketball coaching reins, Boyd came to Starkville in 1981 after a successful 13-year coaching stint at his alma mater. Guiding the Trojans to an impressive composite record of 216-131 (.622), including a pair of 24-win campaigns (24-2 in 1970-71 & 24-5 in 1973-74), Boyd helped produce 11 NBA performers during his 13 seasons at the USC helm.

Known for their ball-control, defensive style of play, Boyd's Bulldog clubs managed but one winning season in five years. Following an 8-19 season (4-14 SEC mark) in Boyd's initial year on the job, the Malone-led Bulldogs improved to 17-12 overall and 9-9 in the league during the 1982-83 campaign. A senior all-America guard from Macon, Ga., Malone finished the season as the nation's No. 2 scorer (26.8 ppg) in being named the UPI's SEC Player of the Year. A three-time all-SEC performer, Malone broke Bailey Howell's career school scoring standard, Feb. 26, 1983, in Tuscaloosa, Ala., and finished his MSU career with a school-record 2,142 points. Picked 10th overall by the Washington Bullets in the 1983 NBA Draft, Malone enjoyed a productive 13-year NBA career with the Bullets, Utah Jazz, Philadelphia 76ers and Miami Heat before completing his pro career overseas following the 1995-96 NBA season.

MSU BASKETBALL HISTORY

After the team's win total was nearly halved the next year (9-19), the 1984-85 Bulldogs rebounded with a 13-15 overall record and fifth-place tie in the SEC standings with a break-even 9-9 league mark. Just a year after earning SEC Coach of the Year laurels by both the AP and UPI voters, Boyd surprised Mississippi State fans by announcing his resignation at the start of the league season. Effective at the conclusion of the 1985-86 season, Boyd made the announcement, Jan. 2, 1986, prior to the Bulldogs' SEC opener against the Alabama Crimson Tide. MSU limped through the "lame duck" season with a 6-21 regular-season mark (3-15 in the SEC), but did turn things around in the postseason by advancing to the semifinals of the SEC Tournament with wins over Vanderbilt and Auburn at Kentucky's Rupp Arena. Boyd, who left MSU to move back to his native California, compiled a 55-87 record in five seasons at Mississippi State.

Charged with the unenviable task of trying to resurrect the Mississippi State basketball program, Richard T. Williams became the school's 17th head basketball coach, March 19, 1986, after spending the 1984-85 and 1985-86 seasons as an assistant coach on Bob Boyd's Bulldog coaching staff. Having spent his entire coaching career solely within the state of Mississippi, the 1967 MSU graduate inherited a program that had suffered through a composite record of 76-120 (.388) with six losing seasons in the first seven years of the 1980s. Additionally, Mississippi State had gone through five different head coaches in the 20 years since the glory years achieved under the legendary Babe McCarthy. Williams also became the first MSU grad in the school's roundball post since Kermit Davis (1971-77).

Success did not come instantly for the rookie Bulldog taskmaster, as the 1986-87 MSU edition struggled to a 7-21 overall record and a second consecutive last-place finish (3-15) in the conference standings. Despite the lack of immediate success that first season, the future state of Mississippi State hoops looked much brighter with the signing of one of the best recruiting classes in program history.

Consisting mainly of homegrown high school standouts from tiny Mississippi towns, MSU's talented 1986-87 recruiting class would gradually turn the Bulldogs from perennial league doormats to yearly SEC contenders during their remarkable collective four-year run.

The freshman-laden 1987-88 MSU squad began the season with eight straight victories en route to doubling the team's win totals (14-15 overall and 6-12 in the SEC) from the previous campaign. With as many as three or four true freshmen in the starting lineup throughout the season, the youthful Bulldogs were beginning to re-establish respectability within the Southeastern Conference with a sweep of the LSU Tigers and a regular season-ending home win over the nationally ranked Vanderbilt Commodores.

After narrowly missing the .500 mark again in 1988-89 with a 13-15 overall mark (7-11 in the SEC), the Bulldogs returned to postseason tournament action for the first time in 11 years the following season. Highlighted by overtime home triumphs over LSU, Mississippi and Kentucky, including a memorable four-overtime 104-102 victory over the rival Rebels (Jan. 24, 1990), the 1989-90 Bulldogs registered the school's first winning basketball season (16-14, 7-11) since 1982-83 in advancing to the second round of the National Invitation Tournament. Paced by all-SEC forwards Cameron Burns and Greg Carter, the impact recruiting class of 1986-87 had had three full years to jell as an experienced unit, and were collectively readying for the 1990-91 campaign as seasoned veterans.

Led by the senior quintet (L-R) of Todd Merritt, Greg Carter, Cameron Burns, Doug Hartsfield and Carl Nichols, the 1990-91 Bulldog edition earned MSU's first NCAA Tournament berth and SEC Championship in 28 years.

After a seven-game win streak to begin the year and a break-even start through a half-dozen league games, the 1990-91 senior-led Mississippi State squad stood 10-5 entering the meat of the Southeastern Conference slate. But, after a pair of four-game SEC win strings during a month-long, nine-game league stretch, the Bulldogs found themselves in the national polls for the first time since 1978-79 and in contention for their first SEC basketball title in 28 years. The brilliant four-year blueprint masterminded by Williams and his staff some four years earlier had come to fruition in the shape of an SEC title game against the LSU Tigers. With a then-record crowd of 10,303 fans on hand at Humphrey Coliseum for the regular-season finale, the Bulldogs posted a narrow 76-73 victory over LSU, March 2, 1991, to earn a share of their first SEC title since 1962-63.

With Williams picking up SEC Coach of the Year honors (Coaches' & UPI), along with Burns and Carter each receiving first-team all-SEC recognition, MSU reached the 20-win mark during the regular season on the way to earning the school's first NCAA Tournament berth in 28 years. Not long after the celebration of the school's first SEC title since 1963, a first-round loss to Tennessee in the SEC Tournament was followed by a 76-56 setback to Eastern Michigan in opening-round play of the NCAA East Regional in Syracuse, N.Y. In advancing to postseason play two straight years for the first time in school history, the 1990-91 Mississippi State contingent concluded a most memorable campaign with a 20-9 overall record, 13-5 SEC mark and No. 21 AP national ranking.

Faced with a rebuilding task upon losing six first-team senior members off the 1990-91 club, Williams directed his sixth MSU edition to a third straight winning season in 1991-92 with the all-SEC backcourt of Chuck Evans and Tony Watts leading the way. As the Southeastern Conference entered a new era of expansion with the additions of Arkansas and South Carolina, the Bulldogs went 15-13 overall and 7-9 in league play to finish fourth in the SEC's new-look Western Division. However, State's string of consecutive winning seasons ended at three as the 1992-93 Bulldog club fell to 13-16 overall (5-11 in the SEC) the following year.

Along with earning the team's third postseason berth in five years, a major obstacle hurdled by the 18-11 MSU edition was snapping a seven-year SEC Tournament drought with a 73-69 first-round win over Tennessee at The Pyramid in Memphis, Tenn.

As the team's win totals and postseason appearances continued to mount, so, too, did the expectations of everyone associated with MSU and its basketball program - from the fans and alumni to the players and coaches. And with many preseason prognosticators picking the Bulldogs to finish as high as second in the demanding SEC West en route to a predicted NCAA Tournament appearance, the pressure was on the talent-laden 1994-95 Bulldogs to live up to their preseason billing.

Despite capturing the team championship of the Missoulian/-Coca-Cola Classic in early December, MSU entered the Christmas holidays with a 4-2 record after a 66-64 neutral-site loss to rival Southern Mississippi. Spurred by winning their second tournament title within a month at the MiniMart/Gatorade Wyoming Cowboy Shootout, the Bulldogs won 16 of their last 20 regular-season contests.

Highlighting that impressive run were back-to-back home triumphs over reigning NCAA Final Four participants Florida and Arkansas plus a first-ever victory over Kentucky at Rupp Arena. The regular-season slate was capped by a 71-67 home win over rival Alabama, tying the Bulldogs with Arkansas for a share of the SEC Western Division championship with identical 12-4 league marks.

Individual honors abounded for the 1994-95 Mississippi State contingent, as Richard Williams was the consensus SEC Coach of the Year, while center Erick Dampier and guard Darryl Wilson garnered first-team and second-team all-SEC laurels, respectively.

Ranked 18th in the final AP poll, State claimed a No. 5 seeding in the NCAA West Regional for its fourth postseason tournament berth in six years. The Bulldogs proceeded to knock off both Santa Clara and Utah at the sub-regional in Boise, Idaho, to advance to the prestigious "Sweet 16" and earn the right to face top-ranked and eventual national champion UCLA out in Oakland, Calif. An 86-67 setback to the Bruins ended MSU's memorable season at 22 wins and just eight losses.

The excitement generated by the Bulldogs' "Sweet 16" showing translated to even greater anticipation for the start of the 1995-96 basketball campaign. Season tickets were being sold in record numbers during the preseason, and ESPN2's decision to televise Mississippi State's "Midnight Madness" practice activities precipitated the move of the team's season-opening festivities from the school's newly refurbished practice facility to the 10,000-seat Humphrey Coliseum. The return of all-SEC standouts Erick Dampier and Darryl Wilson along with the much-anticipated debut of junior college phenom Dontae' Jones drew an estimated 8,500 fans to "The Hump" for the official start of the most eagerly awaited hoops campaign in school history.

With their first-ever Associated Press preseason ranking in hand, the ninth-ranked Bulldogs tipped off the season with a five-game homestand - much to the delight of the State faithful who had five early opportunities to enjoy the talent-laden MSU team. Impressive victories over competitive UNC Wilmington and Brigham Young ballclubs were sandwiched between record-setting blowout wins over Southeastern Louisiana and Troy State. After climbing to No. 8 in both the AP and CNN/USA Today Coaches' polls, the Dogs stumbled a bit in their season-opening home-stand finale by dropping a last-second decision to coach Wimp Sanderson's Arkansas-Little Rock club.

Coach Richard Williams' troops righted themselves during a three-week span over the holidays, claiming six consecutive victories away from home. Successive road wins over Southern Mississippi and Northeast Louisiana were followed by neutral-site wins over Oregon State and the eventual NIT champion Nebraska Cornhuskers in Portland, Ore., as the Bulldogs captured their third straight in-season tournament title at the Ford Far West Classic. The winning continued into the start of Southeastern Conference play with back-to-back road triumphs over LSU and Florida.

All of the preseason hoopla came to a fevered pitch in Starkville on the night of Jan. 9, 1996, as a national TV audience joined a new Humphrey Coliseum-record crowd of 10,315 fans to witness the battle of the SEC's preseason divisional favorites on ESPN's "Super Tuesday" telecast. Second-ranked Kentucky came to town with an 11-1 record, while the No. 12 Bulldogs had rebounded to post six straight wins for a 10-1 overall mark. Coach Rick Pitino's Cats broke open a tightly contested battle midway through the second stanza and cruised to an 18-point victory. The emotional loss to the eventual national champions perhaps carried over into the team's next outing - a 56-55 home loss to Alabama on a buzzer-beating three-pointer by the Crimson Tide's Eric Washington. After salvaging the final contest of a three-game homestand by besting the rival Rebels of Mississippi, the Bulldogs proceeded to drop back-to-back road decisions to Arkansas and South Carolina. Four losses in five outings during a two-week span in mid-January knocked MSU out of the national polls for the first time all season, and gave the preseason SEC Western Division favorites an 11-5 overall record and 3-4 league mark.

The slumping Bulldogs benefitted from some midseason soul searching to win their next five contests, getting their collective feet back on solid ground with consecutive home triumphs over SEC East foes Tennessee and Georgia. A weather-delayed Sunday afternoon victory at Auburn helped fuel the momentum that resulted in an impressive home win over SEC West nemesis Arkansas and a confidence-building, non-conference triumph at Oklahoma. Sparked by Darryl Wilson's season-high 32 points and 11 boards, State's successful, nationally televised (CBS) showing against the Sooners in Norman elevated MSU back to No. 25 in The Associated Press Top 25.

A road setback to the Mississippi Rebels was answered profoundly by commanding performances in subsequent wins over LSU and Alabama. A 55-point second-half effort in their home victory over the Bayou Bengals preceded a flawless 54-point first-half outing in Tuscaloosa. Despite falling on the road to the Commodores of Vanderbilt, the Bulldogs' SEC West title hopes rested solely on their collective shoulders as the surprising Auburn Tigers visited Starkville for the regular-season finale. A brilliant second-half defensive effort against Auburn resulted in a 67-51 victory and Mississippi State's first outright Southeastern Conference championship, overall or divisional, since the 1962-63 hoops campaign.

A familiar opponent awaited the Bulldogs just six days later, as MSU met Auburn again in the quarterfinals of the SEC Tournament at the Louisiana Superdome in New Orleans. After completing the season sweep over the Tigers, Mississippi State perhaps put together its best 40 minutes of basketball in an 86-68 semifinal-round victory over Georgia. With junior forward Dontae' Jones capturing everyone's attention with his high-flying dunks and fall-away jumpers, the Bulldogs found themselves in the title game of the SEC Tournament for the first time since the inaugural postseason tourney in 1933.

In a rematch of the league's preseason divisional frontrunners, Mississippi State was paired with top-ranked Kentucky and the nation's longest winning streak (27 games) in the finals of the SEC Tournament. Jones' heroics continued to be on display during the title tilt in front of another national television (CBS) audience, as the Nashville native poured in a season-high 28 points to help pace the underdog Bulldogs to an 84-73 championship-game victory over the eventual NCAA champs.

While leading MSU to its first-ever SEC Tournament title with three double-digit wins, Jones was voted the tourney's Most Valuable Player and was joined on the all-tournament team by senior co-captain and all-SEC guard Darryl Wilson.

In earning their unprecedented second straight NCAA Tournament berth with a 22-7 overall record and No. 19 national ranking, the Bulldogs were tabbed as the No. 5 seed in the NCAA Southeast Regional at the RCA Dome in Indianapolis, Ind. After surviving a first-round 58-51 win over Virginia Commonwealth, Mississippi State then met sentimental favorite Princeton in second-round action. Executing a masterful gameplan against legendary coach Pete Carril's troops, the Bulldogs breezed to a 22-point victory on the strength of 60 percent field goal shooting and a commanding 34-15 rebounding advantage.

With the pair of Indy wins in the MSU records book in the form of a second straight NCAA Sweet 16 appearance, the Bulldogs would return to the familiar environs of Kentucky's Rupp Arena for their next round of competition. In the semifinals of the Southeast Regional in Lexington, MSU's nationally ranked defense limited the top-seeded Connecticut Huskies to season-low marks in field goal percentage (32.4%) and points en route to a 60-55 triumph over the nation's third-ranked team. In the process, the Bulldogs established a new single-season school standard for most victories with their 25th win of the campaign. More than holding his own against all-American Ray Allen of UConn, State's Darryl Wilson tallied a game-high 27 points on sizzling 7-of-11 shooting from behind the three-point arc.

The underdog Bulldogs' Cinderella-like march through March encountered one more obstacle - the seventh-ranked and second-seeded Cincinnati Bearcats - on their road to the NCAA Final Four. Once again riding the hot hand of Jones and his fourth double-double of the postseason, MSU jumped on Cincinnati early and fought to a 73-63 victory to claim the team championship of the NCAA Southeast Regional and earn the right to become the first university from Mississippi to represent the state in college basketball's championship showcase. Jones once again claimed Most Outstanding Player honors, and was joined on the all-regional team by Wilson and Dampier.

The Mississippi State Bulldogs knocked off three top-10 teams during a two-week span in March 1996, including wins over No. 3 Connecticut and No. 7 Cincinnati at the NCAA Southeast Regional in Lexington, Ky., en route to becoming the first school from the state of Mississippi to advance to the NCAA Final Four.

With basketball support at an all-time high within the Starkville community and around the state, the Bulldogs' championship season now took them to Continental Airlines Arena at the Meadowlands in East Rutherford, N.J., for a meeting with Syracuse of the BIG EAST Conference. A 77-69 loss to the Orangemen in the national semifinals ended MSU's memorable postseason tournament run, but did nothing to diminish the tremendous accomplishments of the most celebrated team in the 94-year history of MSU's basketball program.

Though the euphoria caused by the Final Four experience lasted throughout the offseason, the Bulldogs had to face the 1996-97 season minus all five starters from that special contingent. A transition 12-18 campaign was highlighted on New Year's Eve by Richard Williams surpassing Babe McCarthy with a win over Jerry Tarkanian's Fresno State club at the Puerto Rico Holiday Classic in San Juan to become the all-time winningest basketball coach in school history.

Following a frustrating 1997-98 season (15-15 record) marked by numerous narrow defeats and a school-most five overtime decisions, Williams announced his retirement from the MSU hoops post on March 12, 1998. With a school-best 191 wins and five postseason tournament appearances to his credit, Williams handed over the Bulldog coaching reins a day later to Rick Stansbury - his top assistant during the previous eight seasons in Starkville. In completing the timely transference of coaching responsibilities within Mississippi State University's basketball program, MSU Director of Athletics Larry Templeton announced Stansbury as the school's 18th head basketball coach on March 13, 1998.

State's smooth coaching transition resulted in a respectable 20-13 record, semifinal-round appearance in the SEC Tournament and a first-round NIT showing in 1998-99 under Stansbury's leadership. As Stansbury became the winningest first-year coach in school history, MSU closed out its most successful decade in the history of the school's basketball program with a 10-year composite record of 177-125. Along with winning nearly 60 percent of their games during the 1990s, the Bulldogs concluded the decade by making six postseason appearances (three NCAA & three NIT) and posting four 20-win seasons.

The successful transference of the Bulldog basketball reins took place on March 13, 1998, when Rick Stansbury succeeded MSU's all-time winningest hoops coach, Richard Williams. Stansbury has since guided State to six postseason tournament berths and 164 victories during the past eight seasons.

Upon ushering in the new millennium with a youthful club that battled through a hard-luck 14-16 campaign during the 1999-2000 season, MSU returned to the postseason tournament picture a year later by making a solid showing in the 2001 National Invitation Tournament. After defeating Southern Miss, 75-68, in opening-round home action of the TiVo NIT, the Bulldogs went on the road to knock off Pittsburgh, 66-61, in come-from-behind fashion before having their impressive season-ending NIT run halted just two days later in Starkville with a 77-75 loss to eventual tourney champion Tulsa. En route to an 18-13 record, the 2000-01 regular season was highlighted by a 75-74 road victory over eventual NCAA runner-up Arizona in the title game of the UA-hosted Bank One Fiesta Bowl Classic played in Tucson.

That postseason success continued into a record-breaking hoops campaign the following season. Selected by most preseason prognosticators to finish at or near the bottom of the SEC's Western Division, the 2001-02 Bulldogs opened the season by matching a school standard with 11 consecutive victories. After beginning league play with a thrilling come-from-behind overtime home triumph over Kentucky, MSU capped the conference season with five straight wins to claim second-place honors in the SEC West.

The team's late-season momentum carried over into the postseason in 2002, as the Bulldogs knocked off powerful Florida, LSU and regular-season league champion Alabama at Atlanta's Georgia Dome to claim the school's second SEC Tournament title. All-SEC standouts Mario Austin and Derrick Zimmerman led the way for MSU in earning all-tournament honors, with Austin collecting tourney MVP laurels. In earning their first NCAA Tournament berth since 1996, State established a new single-season school standard with its 27th win by way of a 70-58 first-round tourney victory over McNeese State at the Midwest Regional in Dallas.

Unlike the previous season, MSU entered the 2002-03 campaign with high expectations, ranking as high as 10th in the preseason. Upon shaking off a season-opening home loss to hot-shooting Louisiana-Lafayette, the Bulldogs reeled off 10 consecutive non-conference triumphs, including impressive neutral-site wins over 11th-ranked Xavier (71-61) at New York's famed Madison Square Garden and No. 5 Oklahoma (54-45) in the Nokia Sugar Bowl Basketball Classic played in New Orleans.

Having stumbled out of the gates by tipping off conference play with three straight setbacks, MSU once again righted the ship by winning seven of its next eight SEC contests. Following back-to-back, sub-par efforts during road losses to both Arkansas and Tennessee, the Bulldogs were able to regroup at home in their regular-season finale by claiming an impressive 67-45 victory over Auburn on Senior Day to secure the school's first SEC Western Division championship since 1996.

The 2001-02 Mississippi State Bulldogs began the season with 11 consecutive victories and capped a late-season, nine-game winning streak by capturing the school's second SEC Tournament title at Atlanta's Georgia Dome.

MSU BASKETBALL HISTORY

The Bulldogs opened postseason play at the Louisiana Superdome - site of MSU's 1996 SEC Tournament championship run - in defense of their league tourney crown. State first completed a three-game season sweep of Mississippi and notched win No. 20 on the year with a 73-64 victory over the Rebels. A semifinal-round 76-61 triumph the next day over the LSU Tigers marked Stansbury's 100th career coaching victory and vaulted MSU into the league tournament championship game for the second straight year. However, the second-ranked Kentucky Wildcats would earn their 24th SEC Tournament crown with a 64-57 win in the title tilt.

Rewarded for their divisional crown and league tournament run, the 20th-ranked State squad earned a No. 5 NCAA Tournament seeding in nearby Birmingham, Ala. Unfortunately, the scrappy Butler Bulldogs would prematurely end MSU's season on an acrobatic, driving lay-up by Brandon Miller. Despite the heartbreaking 47-46 setback, the 2002-03 MSU club still managed to record 21 wins, claim a third SEC Western Division title, and earn a second consecutive NCAA Tournament berth.

During an off-season in which the Bulldogs lost Austin a year early and a pair of talented incoming recruits to the professional ranks, Stansbury and his staff spent the summer months attempting to secure holes in the Bulldogs' frontcourt. Their collective persistence resulted in the arrival of two-time all-Big 12 performer Lawrence Roberts from the scandal-ridden Baylor University basketball program. With senior guard Timmy Bowers hailing as the lone returning starter, State entered the 2003-04 campaign with an abundance of talent but also with plenty of unanswered questions.

An early-season measuring stick as to the makeup of this unique contingent took place in Bowling Green, Ky., as the Bulldogs put an end to Western Kentucky's NCAA-best, 39-game home winning streak with an 81-75 victory over the Hilltoppers in front of a sellout crowd at refurbished E.A. Diddle Arena. As December rolled around, a successful four-game homestand was capped by significant triumphs over eventual NCAA Tournament surprises UAB (86-84) and Xavier (82-70).

MSU opened defense of its SEC West crown with victories over divisional foes Mississippi (61-54) and Arkansas (80-62) en route to extending its season-opening winning streak to a school-record 13 straight Tabbed the "Road Warriors" for their perfect road record during the 2003-04 campaign, the Bulldogs were ranked as high as fourth nationally en route to claiming an SEC title (regular season or tourney) for the third straight season.

games. Following a heartbreaking, last-second home setback to Kentucky, the Bulldogs reeled off eight straight conference wins, including five league road triumphs. The team's "Road Warriors" label took on added significance in mid-February, as State first erased a second-half, double-digit lead on the road to knock off South Carolina, 79-75, in overtime and then ventured to Fayetteville to record the school's long-awaited, first-ever win (77-70) at Arkansas' Bud Walton Arena.

With a second straight SEC West crown already secured, the Bulldogs put their perfect season-long road record on the line by heading to divisional rival Alabama for the teams' regular-season finale. Down by 16 points with nine minutes left in regulation, MSU's improbable comeback was fueled by Bowers, who first sent the game into overtime with a basket at the end of regulation and then hit the game-winning baseline bucket. In addition to preserving State's unblemished road record (12-0 overall and 8-0 in SEC), the dramatic victory over the Tide gave the 25-2 Bulldogs their first outright SEC regular-season title since 1962-63.

Rewarded with a school-record No. 2 seeding in making their third consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance, the Bulldogs easily disposed of outmanned Monmouth, 85-52, before dropping an 89-74 decision to a hot-shooting Xavier ballclub in the second round of the Atlanta Regional played at Orlando's TD Waterhouse Centre. MSU's record-breaking campaign ended with a sparkling 26-4 overall record (14-2 in SEC) and No. 8 final AP ranking, while Stansbury and Roberts deservedly collected SEC Coach and Player of the Year honors, respectively.

With much of the team's firepower returning, Stansbury's 12th-ranked 2004-05 Bulldog edition opened the new campaign earlier than any other previous State squad.

An impressive non-conference schedule began with the prestigious Coaches vs. Cancer Classic. Following a pair of wins in Birmingham, Ala., MSU fell in the tournament semifinals to powerful hometown favorite Syracuse at New York's Madison Square Garden.

The team's early-season slate remained just as challenging into December, as the Bulldogs dropped a hard-fought 68-64 decision to a potent Arizona ballclub in the John R. Wooden Classic played in Anaheim, Calif. State rebounded from the tough four-point loss to the Wildcats by reeling off eight straight victories. However, the Jan. 8 win at rival Mississippi proved costly, as senior shooting guard Winsome Frazier went down with a foot injury. The Bulldogs kept afloat by splitting their next eight decisions without their second-best scorer and leading three-point threat, before the quick-healing Frazier returned to action in mid-February.

With Frazier back in the starting lineup, MSU used the momentum of three straight, late-season league wins to open SEC Tournament play with a 76-65 victory over Georgia. Following a quarterfinal-round tourney setback to eventual tournament champion Florida, the Bulldogs earned their fourth consecutive NCAA Tournament berth. Having also secured the program's fourth straight 20-win campaign, State opened regional play in Charlotte, N.C., with a convincing 93-70 triumph over the Stanford Cardinal. Two days later, the second-ranked Duke Blue Devils stopped the fiesty Bulldogs, 63-55, in the second round, putting an end to yet another successful season with a 23-11 overall record.

Minus 80 percent of the team's 2004-05 scoring, rebounding and assist totals, State entered a rebuilding 2005-06 campaign with a very youthful squad. Starting at least three freshmen in a game on nine occasions, the Bulldogs capped a 10-3 non-conference slate with a hard-fought 63-61 home win over eventual Final Four participant George Mason. Upon tipping off SEC competition with a 69-67 home triumph over Arkansas, MSU struggled through a seven-game league losing skid en route to compiling a respectable, break-even 15-15 overall record and missing postseason play for the first time since 2000. Individually, sophomore forward Charles Rhodes earned second-team all-conference honors and rookie Jamont Gordon was a unanimous selection to the SEC All-Freshman team.

MISSISSIPPI STATE UNIVERSITY

Mississippi State University, founded in 1878, is a comprehensive land-grant institution with a statewide enrollment of more than 16,000 students.

Established as the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Mississippi, the university has traditional strengths in engineering and scientific agriculture, but has evolved into a comprehensive institution with a diverse array of programs in teaching, research and outreach.

More than three-fourths of Mississippi State students are from Mississippi, but almost every state and more than 60 countries around the world are also represented. Nearly 80 percent of the students are undergraduates, 48 percent are women, and about 20 percent are African-American.

The nearly 300 campus student organizations include 29 social fraternities and sororities, Army and Air Force ROTC, and a variety of intramural and club sports.

MSU has more than 1,000 faculty members and over 4,000 total full-time employees, with a total operating budget of nearly $615 million. The campus and adjacent agricultural research lands comprise about 4,000 acres.

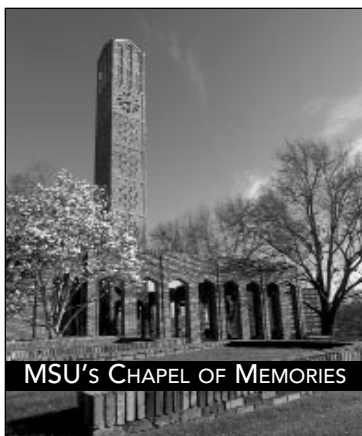

The university offers 170 bachelor's, master's, specialist's, doctoral, and professional degrees in 118 academic programs through the colleges of Agriculture and Life Sciences; Arts and Sciences; Architecture, Art and Design; Bagley Engineering; Business and Industry; Education; Forest Resources; and Veterinary Medicine.

Giles Distinguished Professor of English Nancy Hargrove was one of the nation's 31 scholars selected as a Fulbright Distinguished Chair for 2005-06, recognizing a career of professional accomplishment. She is a four-time previous Fulbright Scholar.

Mississippi State is working to become a premier public undergraduate teaching institution, emphasizing both access and excellence, while continuing to build on its history as "The People's University." Over the past several years, the freshman retention and overall graduation rates have increased. A well-established program called "Pathfinders" is helping the university make progress in keeping students enrolled at Mississippi State once they get to campus. Through the project, freshmen who miss more than two classes in the first six weeks of school can expect a friendly phone call, e-mail or personal visit to remind them how important class attendance is to academic success. "Pathfinders" has attracted national attention, receiving a Retention Excellence Award in 2003 from higher education consulting firm Noel-Levitz.

In the fall of 2005, the university launched a group of eight new "learning communities," started the new "Math Domain" computer-assisted math learning laboratory, and opened its first new campus residence hall in more than 35 years. Two more new residence halls opened this fall, with one more scheduled for occupancy in January 2007, completing the new Northeast Village complex.

The Cullis Wade Depot opened in August and houses the new Barnes & Noble at MSU Bookstore, a full-service Starbucks, the Wade Clock Museum, and a campus welcome center. In addition, the old "Malfunction Junction" intersection was razed and developed as a new green space for tailgating, now known as The Junction.

MSU ranks 55th nationally among public institutions for research and development expenditures in science and engineering, according to the National Science Foundation. Annual expenditures are about $160 million. MSU is 31st among the nation's universities in engineering research expenditures, and accounts for more than half of all research and development expenditures among all of the state's public and private colleges. University research capabilities have played a direct role in attracting new aerospace and defense related industries to the area. During the past two years, Aurora Flight Sciences, II-VI Incorporated, AEA Technology and General Electric all have partnered with the university to establish research and development or production facilities. During 2004-05, the university was cited by Southern Business and Development magazine as one of "Ten University Markets That Really Have Their Act Together."

Major initiatives in the Mississippi State Cooperative Extension Service and the university's Social Science Research Center are seeking to improve the health of citizens around the state. The Delta Health Initiative -- a consortium that includes MSU, University of Mississippi Medical Center, Delta State and Mississippi Valley State universities, and the Delta Council -- is focusing on the region's pressing needs in such areas as diabetes and agricultural-related illness. Through the Rural Health Safety and Security Institute at the SSRC, sociologists and psychologists are seeking to learn more about how human behaviors affect health and to suggest strategies that prevent illnesses.

POINTS OF PRIDE AT MSU

- ✓ Mississippi State ranks among the top 100 institutions across the country in the number of bachelor's degrees awarded to African-Americans.
- ✓ Mississippi State's undergraduate program in landscape architecture in 2005 was listed among the nation's top 15 programs by a national publication that promotes quality design education.
- ✓ Ten Mississippi State University students have been named Barry M. Goldwater Scholars since 1999. The national scholarship recognizes academic excellence in the sciences, mathematics and engineering.
- ✓ In the September 2005 issue of Washington Monthly's college rankings, MSU was ranked No. 95 nationally among 245 major public and private institutions based on "what colleges are doing for the country."
- ✓ Over the last decade, five Mississippi State University professors have been named Mississippi Professor of the Year by the national Council for Advancement and Support of Education and the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.
- ✓ Recently cited for its service in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina, MSU's student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers is nationally ranked for overall excellence.
- ✓ The Mississippi State Promise is a new program designed to help entering freshmen and entering community college transfer students from low-income Mississippi families attend MSU by ensuring that their tuition and required fees will be paid with gift/grant student aid.
- ✓ Mississippi State's Raspet Flight Research Laboratory is building its own version of unmanned aerial vehicles that will strengthen U.S. battlefield surveillance capabilities.
- ✓ The new Appalachian Leadership Honors Program is providing opportunities to cultivate leadership potential. Mississippi State wants to grow the "whole person," and the university's first-year president -- Dr. Robert H. "Doc" Foglesong -- has committed himself to that.
- ✓ AEA Technology, based in the United Kingdom, has established a research and development facility at Mississippi State University to produce portable power systems in support of space, defense and homeland security missions.

Among research efforts are the Center for Advanced Vehicular Systems that supports the state's emerging automobile industry, neurotoxicology research in the MSU Center for Environmental Health Science funded by the National Institutes of Health, a computer security research program sponsored by the National Security Agency, and a Center for Historical Studies funded by the U.S. Department of Education and focused on improving history instruction in public schools. A major research initiative in the biosciences, the Life Sciences and Biotechnology Institute combines research, education and technology transfer, building on strengths in agricultural biotechnology.

MSU also is committed to expanding its partnerships with business and industry, communities, local governments, and public education to promote economic development and increased opportunities for the state's citizens. The Industrial Outreach Services unit established in 2004 served more than 45 small- to medium-sized manufacturing businesses.

The university continues to receive record private support. During the 2006 fiscal year, alumni and friends contributed $78 million in immediate and deferred gifts, as well as pledges payable over five years, and the university's $400 million State of the Future capital campaign totals more than $325 million pledges with two years to go.

This past May, the 128-year-old, land-grant university welcomed its 18th chief executive. Dr. Robert H. "Doc" Foglesong was a unanimous choice of the Board of Trustees, State Institutions of Higher Learning.

MISSISSIPPI STATE TRADITIONS

THE BULLDOG

Mississippi State University's athletic teams are called Bulldogs, a name earned and maintained over the decades by the tough, tenacious play of student-athletes wearing the Maroon and White. The official school mascot is an American Kennel Club registered English Bulldog, given the inherited title of 'Bully.'

As with most universities, Mississippi State University teams answered to different nicknames through the years. The first squads representing Mississippi A&M College were proud to be called Aggies. When the school officially became Mississippi State College in 1932, the nickname Maroons, for MSU's uniform color, gained prominence. Bulldogs became the official title for State teams in 1961, not long after State College was granted university status.

Mississippi State's "Bully" was honored as the 2002 National Cheerleaders Association (NCA) national mascot champion.

Yet references to school teams and athletes as Bulldogs actually go back to early in the century, and this nickname was used almost interchangeably with both Aggies and Maroons, since at least 1905.

On November 30 of that year, the A&M football team shut out their arch-rivals from the University of Mississippi 11-0 in Jackson, Miss. The campus newspaper, The Reflector, reported: "After the game, filled with that emotion that accompanies every great victory, there was nothing left for the cadets to do but to complete the great victory by showing sympathy for the dead athletic spirit of the University, by having a military funeral parade.

"A coffin was secured, decorated with University colors and a bulldog pup placed on top. It was then placed on the shoulders of a dozen cadets, and the procession started down Capitol Street, preceded by the brass band playing a very pathetic funeral march."

Other newspaper reports of the victory commented on the 'bulldog' style of play by the A&M eleven, and the Bulldog was soon publicly accepted as a school athletic symbol. Accounts of a 1926 pep rally in Meridian, Miss., had another bulldog parading with students.

Use as an official game mascot began in 1935 when coach Major Ralph Sasse, on 'orders' from his team, went to Memphis, Tenn., to select a bulldog. Ptolemy, a gift of the Edgar Webster family, was chosen and the Bulldogs promptly defeated Alabama 20-7.

A litter-mate of Ptolemy became the first mascot called 'Bully' shortly after Sasse's team beat mighty Army 13-7 at West Point that same year - perhaps the greatest victory in MSU football history. But Bully I earned other fame the hard way, in 1939 when a campus bus cut short his career.

Days of campus mourning followed, as Bully lay in state in a glass coffin. A half-mile funeral procession accompanied by the the Famous Maroon Band and three ROTC battalions went to Scott Field where Bully was buried under the bench at the 50-yard line. Even Life magazine covered the event. Other Bullies have since been buried by campus dorms, fraternity houses, and also at the football stadium.

For years Bully was a target for kidnapers, the last incident occurring prior to the 1974 State-Ole Miss game. The Bulldog team won anyway, 31-13. While early Bullies once roamed campus freely or lived in fraternities, today the official university mascot is housed at the School of Veterinary Medicine when not on duty at State home football games. For all their fierce appearance and reputation, today's mascot bulldogs are good-natured, friendly animals and favorites with children.

A student wearing a Bulldog suit, also answering to Bully, is part of the MSU cheerleading team and assists in stirring up State spirit at games and pep rallies.

Three years ago during national cheerleading competition in Daytona Beach, Fla., Mississippi State University's "Bully" was honored as the 2002 National Cheerleaders Association (NCA) national mascot champion.

THE COWBELL

The most unique and certainly the most resounding symbol of Mississippi State University tradition is the cowbell. Despite decades of attempts by opponents and authorities to banish it from scenes of competition, diehard State fans still celebrate Bulldog victories loudly and proudly with the distinctive sound of ringing cowbells.

The precise origin of the cowbell as a fixture of Mississippi State sports tradition remains unclear to this day. The best records have cowbells gradually introduced to the MSU sports scene in the late 1930s and early 1940s, coinciding with the 'golden age' of Mississippi State football success prior to World War II.

The most popular legend is that during a home football game between State and arch-rival Mississippi, a jersey cow wandered onto the playing field. Mississippi State soundly whipped the Rebels that Saturday, and State College students immediately adopted the cow as a good luck charm. Students are said to have continued bringing a cow to football games for a while, until the practice was eventually discontinued in favor of bringing just the cow's bell.

Whatever the origin, it is certain that by the 1950s cowbells were common at Mississippi State games, and by the 1960s were established as the special symbol of MSU. Ironically, the cowbell's popularity grew most rapidly during the long years when State football teams were rarely successful. Flaunting this anachronism from the 'aggie' days was a proud response by students and alumni to outsider scorn of the university's 'cow college' history.

In the 1960s two MSU professors, Earl W. Terrell and Ralph L. Reeves, obliged some students by welding handles on the bells so they could be rung with much more convenience and authority. By 1963 the demand for these long-handled cowbells could not be filled by home workshops alone. So, at the suggestion of Reeves, the Student Association bought bells in bulk and the Industrial Education Club agreed to weld on handles. In 1964, the MSU Bookstore began marketing these cowbells with a portion of profits returning to these student organizations.

Today many styles of cowbells are available on campus and around Starkville, with the top-of-the-line being a heavy chrome-plated model with a full Bulldog figurine handle. But experts insist the best and loudest results are produced by a classic long-handled, bicycle-grip bell made of thinner and tightly-welded shells.

Cowbells decorate offices and homes of Mississippi State alumni, and are passed down through generations of Bulldog fans. But they are not heard at Southeastern Conference games -- not legally, at least -- since the 1974 adoption of a conference rule against 'artificial noisemakers' at football and basketball games. On a 9-1 vote, SEC schools ruled cowbells a disruption and banned them.

This has done little harm to the cowbell's popularity, however, or to prevent cowbells from being heard outside stadiums in which the Bulldogs are playing. They can still be heard at non-conference football contests, as well as other sporting events on campus. And bold Bulldog fans still risk confiscation for the privilege of keeping a unique Mississippi State tradition alive and ringing at SEC affairs.

MAROON & WHITE

Maroon and White are the distinctive colors of Mississippi State University athletic teams, dating back over a century to the very first football game ever played by the school's student-athletes.

On November 15, 1895, the first Mississippi A&M football team was preparing for a road trip to Jackson, Tenn., to play Southern Baptist University (now called Union University) the following day. Since every college was supposed to have its own uniform colors, the A&M student body requested that the school's team select a suitable combination.

Considering this choice to be an honor, the inaugural State team gave the privilege to team captain W.M. Matthews. Accounts report that without hesitation Matthews chose Maroon and White.

In the 111 years since, every Mississippi State athlete has donned the Maroon and White in some sort of combination. Often a shade of gray has been added to the scheme, such as for the numerals. Briefly in the 1980s, the men's and women's basketball teams wore all-gray uniforms with maroon and white trim, while football has at times sported silver game pants, and baseball will often wear all-gray road outfits.

Only once has an MSU team appeared in any other color combination. In 1938, football coach Spike Nelson secretly had cardinal and gold uniforms made for State, a selection that did not sit well with the team or the college at the first game. Neither the uniforms nor Nelson were back for the next season.

MSU ALMA MATER

In the heart of Mississippi,
Made by none but
God's own hands,
Stately in her natural splendor,
Our Alma Mater proudly stands.
Mississippi State, we love you;
Fondest memories cling to thee,
Life shall bear thy spirit ever;
Loyal friends we'll always be.

CHORUS:

Maroon and White!
Maroon and White!
Of thee with joy we sing;
Thy colors bright,
our souls delight;
With praise our voices ring.

"HAIL STATE"

Hail dear ole State!
Fight for that victory today.
Hit that line and tote that ball,
Cross the goal before you fall!
And then we'll yell, yell, yell, yell!
For dear ole State
we'll yell like H-E-L-L!
Fight for Mis-sis-sip-pi State.
Win the game today!

Formed five years ago, "Rick's Rowdies" is a group comprised of dedicated Mississippi State University students and enthusiastic basketball fans committed to the increased involvement of the MSU student body during home basketball games at Humphrey Coliseum.

ROBERT H. "DOC" FOGLESONG MSU PRESIDENT

Robert H. "Doc" Foglesong is the 18th president of Mississippi State University, a land-grant institution committed to excellence in learning, research and service.

His vision, as articulated in a strategic plan for the next decade, is for MSU to become the most respected land-grant university in the Southeast.

Since joining the university this past April, Foglesong has launched full speed into a campaign to energize the Mississippi State family and boost recruiting and retention, while introducing several initiatives already taking shape. One of his first actions was to begin an inclusive and comprehensive campus-wide strategic review. The product of that effort, an ambitious plan called FutureSTATE 2015, was completed in September. It sets major university goals in the areas of enhancing student growth and development, achieving fiscal stability, expanding research and economic development, along with building pride and involvement throughout the Bulldog family.

During the first six months of the Foglesong administration, MSU has implemented the Mississippi State Promise, which provides tuition assistance to qualified low-income state residents. In addition, State has created the Sonny Montgomery Chapter of the Appalachian Leadership Honors Program, established the Mississippi State Community Action Team to aid communities around the state, laid the groundwork for a new Center for America's Veterans, and begun planning for an academic minor in leadership studies, among other initiatives.

Foglesong is also the president and executive director of the Appalachian Leadership and Education Foundation, a nonprofit entity operating to identify future leaders and provide them with mentoring and financial support. He is a director of Massey Energy, one of the nation's largest producers of coal, and a director of the Michael Baker Corporation, an international energy and engineering firm. He also has been designated by President Bush to co-chair the United States-Russia Joint Commission on POW/MIAs.

Previously, he was nominated by the president, confirmed by the U.S. Senate, and served as a four-star general in the United States Air Force. He had responsibility for an organization of 358,000 uniformed members and 158,000 civilian employees, with an annual budget of $90 billion. His jobs required almost daily interaction with members of Congress, the White House and governmental interagency offices. He spent a significant amount of the past decade as a national security advisor at cabinet and presidential levels, traveling extensively with senior members of the government and engaging with civilian and military leaders of foreign governments.

Foglesong has spent 33 years in public service with an understanding of the role that leadership plays in establishing a sense of integrity and ethics, encouraging service above self, and fostering excellence. He is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations and several professional aviation organizations. His 57 publications cover both technical and leadership topics. He earned his bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees from West Virginia University, where he was a member and president of Tau Beta Pi, the national engineering honorary, and other academic honors. He has continued his education through professional military schools and advanced civilian education forums. He holds an honorary Doctorate of Strategic Intelligence.

Foglesong is married to the former Mary Thrasher, and they have two sons, David and Mark. David and his wife Laura, both members of the U.S. Air Force, have two sons. Mark is in the television business.

LARRY TEMPLETON DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Mississippi State University Director of Athletics Larry Templeton begins his 20th year at the head of the Bulldog sport program in 2006, and under his watchful eye MSU competes, and has competed, for championships in every sport program. MState student-athletes continue to excel in the classroom, setting academic records nearly every semester. And the department has operated in the black while expanding the program and drastically improving its facilities. He is the third-longest-tenured AD in MSU history and the longest in the Southeastern Conference with 19 seasons under his belt, and the university's athletic program has reached heights never before achieved under his guidance.

On the playing field, the decade of the 1990s saw virtually every State sport establish a best-ever finish. During the 1990s, MSU appeared in five postseason football bowl games and earned six postseason tournament berths in men's basketball, including the 1996 NCAA Final Four effort and 1995's NCAA Sweet 16 showing. With the Bulldogs having made back-to-back (1998 & '97) College World Series appearances, MSU joined Florida as the only two SEC schools to go to five bowl games, the Final Four and the College World Series in the '90s.

The start of the new millennium has been no different with MSU sports teams having qualified for postseason play 51 times during the past seven seasons, including a school-record 12 teams in 2004-05. The 2004-05 men's basketball team made a fourth consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance with a fourth straight 20-win season.

But State's student-athletes are not just succeeding on the playing field. MSU's men's and women's athletes recorded the highest combined grade point average during the 2005-06 academic year in the 16 years in which student-athlete grades have been tracked. This past spring semester, 145 of the 270 scholarship student-athletes at Mississippi State (54%) earned a grade point average of 3.00 or higher, while 78 scholarship student-athletes made either the Dean's List (3.5 GPA) or the President's Scholar List (3.8 GPA).

Templeton oversaw Mississippi State's move to come into compliance with the SEC's Gender Equity plan, adding women's soccer (in 1995) and softball (in 1997) to the school's varsity sports menu.

On the building front, the completion of the John H. Bryan Sr. Athletic Administration Building, the expansions and renovations of the Leo Seal M-Club Center, along with an initial expansion of the Shira Athletic Complex, were all fueled by Templeton during the 1990s.

That building trend has continued during the past decade, with the completion of permanent seating at the MSU Soccer Field, the conversion of McCarthy Gymnasium on campus into a varsity indoor tennis facility, along with expanded seating and the addition of a four-sided, center-hung video scoreboard at Humphrey Coliseum. Since the start of the new millennium, additional chairbacks and 18 skyboxes at Dudy Noble Field, Polk-DeMent Stadium, MSU's baseball facility, were completed in time for the 2000 season, and a $30 million expansion of the east side of Davis Wade Stadium at Scott Field has raised capacity at the football stadium to 55,082. Fifty new skyboxes and 1,700 chairbacks opened for the 2001 football season.

Another building boom has occurred on campus during the past few years. The Holliman Athletic Center, a 46,000-square-foot addition to the Shira Complex, the Palmeiro Center, an indoor practice facility for baseball and football, new baseball coaches offices, as well as a softball locker room and training facility have been added to the MSU athletic facility landscape.

And for the 19th year in a row this past year, the MSU athletic program joined just a small group of NCAA Division I schools nation-wide to finish in the black financially at year's end.

Templeton's work also stretches far from the Starkville campus. He has served as chairman of the SEC's athletic directors since 1990. He has also begun a second term on the prestigious NCAA Baseball Committee, currently serving as that committee's chairman. He oversees the group that chooses the sites for regional and super-regional competition, selects the 64-member playing field, oversees the operation of the tournament, selects the umpire crews, gives direction to the game operations personnel, and works with the radio and television talent. He is a former member of the NCAA Championship Committee, the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Bowl Certification Committee.

Templeton is married to the former Linda Jo Nichols. They have a son, Brian, who received his second degree (landscape architecture) from Mississippi State in 2002. A second son, Stephen, received his doctorate degree from State in 2002, and a daughter, Nici, is an attorney in Columbia, S.C. Granddaughters Ella Grace Comer and Addison McSwain Comer reside in Columbia, S.C.

FACULTY ATHLETICS REPRESENTATIVE

Dr. Steven C. Turner begins his second year as Mississippi State's faculty athletics representative.

As State's faculty athletics representative, Turner advises Mississippi State University President Dr. Robert H. "Doc" Foglesong and MSU Director of Athletics Larry Templeton on policy decisions relating to intercollegiate athletics along with evaluating the academic credentials of student-athletes.

Following a 17-year stint at the University of Georgia, Turner joined the MSU staff in 2003 as professor and head of the school's department of agricultural and applied economics.

A native of Atlanta, Ga., Turner is married to the former Jenny Bond of Independence, Va. They are the parents of a 10-year-old daughter, Emily, and a 7-year-old son, Clay.

ANN CARR
SENIOR WOMEN'S ADMINISTRATOR

A veteran of 12 years in athletic administration at Mississippi State and a former Lady Bulldog athlete, Ann Carr was elevated to the position of senior women's administrator this past summer. Carr succeeded Samye Johnson, who retired as the university's SWA this past June.

Now charged with overseeing the operation and supervision of the MSU women's sports program, Carr previously served as the school's assistant athletic director for student life and was the academic counselor for the Bulldog football team. She continues to serve as the director of the department's Life Skills and CHAMPS programs.

A native of Brookhaven, Miss., Carr was a four-year letterwinner (1986-90) on the Lady Bulldog basketball team. She earned her bachelor's and master's degrees from MSU in 1990 and 1992, respectively. She has one daughter, Khristian, 10.

HUMPHREY COLISEUM

Humphrey Coliseum, the largest on-campus basketball arena in the state of Mississippi, will be the home of Bulldog Basketball for the 32nd season during the 2006-07 campaign. Opened in 1975, Humphrey Coliseum has undergone many modifications during recent years to rank as one of the finest multi-purpose facilities in the Southeastern Conference.

On the heels of MSU's record-setting 2003-04 basketball campaign, in which coach Rick Stansbury's 26-4 Bulldogs claimed the overall SEC championship and won a second straight SEC Western Division crown en route to making another NCAA Tournament appearance, Humphrey Coliseum underwent its most recent transformation in the summer of 2004. Thanks to the generous $1.8 million contribution from the Henry Mize Foundation, "The Hump" now features a new four-sided, center-hung video scoreboard. The state-of-the-art, multi-purpose scoreboard, purchased from Barco Sports of Logan, Utah, measures 22 feet 10 inches across and 18 feet 6 inches in height in addition to weighing 14,000 pounds. Featuring four identical TrueColor video displays, four custom fixed-digit LED scoreboards with statistics and electronic team names, along with top backlit ad panels and bottom LED color ad displays, the scoreboard's active area measures 10 feet 4 inches wide and 8 feet 10 inches deep. In addition, the Coliseum's new basketball scoreboard features decorated truncated corners and an illuminated donor panel noting the recent monetary contribution of the Henry Mize Foundation, which also paid for MSU's new baseball scoreboard that made its debut in 2004 at Dudy Noble Field, Polk-DeMent Stadium.

The late Henry Mize hailed from Booneville, Miss., and was a 1938 MSU alumnus and lifetime supporter of Mississippi State Athletics, while his nephew, Paul "Buzzy" Mize of Tupelo, Miss., and a 1978 State graduate, has served as the executor of the Henry Mize Foundation.

Additional support and services for the construction, installation and hoisting of the Coliseum's new basketball scoreboard were provided by Hoffend & Sons (Victor, N.Y.), Ellis Steel (West Point, Miss.), Burkhalter Rigging (Columbus, Miss.) and Spencer Engineers (Jackson, Miss.), as well as on-campus support from the MSU Physical Plant and the University Television Center.

Another recent major renovation project, completed in November 1998 by Pryor Construction, Inc., out of Tupelo, Miss., involved the addition of approximately 1,000 maroon theatre-style chairback seats to increase the Coliseum's permanent seating capacity to nearly 10,500. This improvement to the Bulldogs' basketball arena was accomplished with the realignment of the lower-deck seats plus the addition of permanent foldout chairback seats at court-side.

In addition to the Coliseum's re-configured seating plan, an improved lighting system has been added to "The Hump" in recent years with the removal of the original sheet-steel ceiling and the replacement of an open grid of steel catwalks. Additional restrooms were also added to the east side of the facility at the time.

In 2000, Humphrey Coliseum was graced with the arrival of a new hard maple floor, courtesy of the Horner Flooring Company of Dollar Bay, Mich. MSU's basketball playing surface measures 112 feet long and 60 feet wide and is marked with the school's distinctive maroon and white colors.

The following year, a high-directivity distributed loudspeaker system was installed by Sound and Communications, Inc., of Jackson, Miss., to enhance the Coliseum's public address and sound reinforcement system. Also added in recent years has been rotating corporate sponsorship signage at the scorer's table located between Mississippi State's bench area and the visiting team's bench.

The Coliseum's most recently added amenities have been unveiled the past two years. Prior to the 2005-06 season, attractive banners honoring the Bulldogs' and Lady Bulldogs' SEC championships and postseason tournament appearances made their collective debut above the facility's new four-sided, center-hung video scoreboard. This past summer, handrails were added to the Coliseum's aisles to help maintain MSU's commitment to fan safety at sporting events.

HUMPHREY COLISEUM

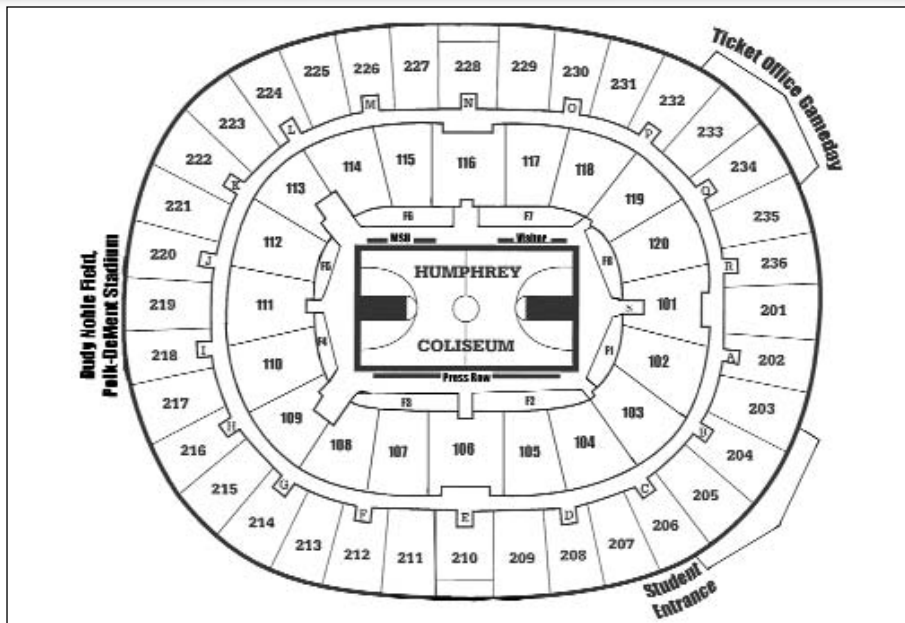

Since Humphrey Coliseum opened to the public in time for the 1975-76 basketball campaign, the Bulldogs have won more than 70 percent of their home basketball battles at "The Hump." After ushering in the Humphrey Coliseum era of MSU basketball with an 85-82 victory over Indiana State back on Dec. 1, 1975, the Bulldogs have compiled an impressive 300-120 home record for a .714 winning percentage.

In 1990-91, Mississippi State went over the 1 million mark for overall home basketball attendance with the Bulldogs drawing 100,000-plus fans (102,072 -- 7,852 per game) in a single season for the first time in school history during MSU's SEC Championship campaign. On Feb. 23, 2002, at Humphrey Coliseum, a then-state of Mississippi-record 10,645 fans attended State's 61-59 home win over the Mississippi Rebels in a crucial SEC contest. After nearly drawing 100,000 total fans during the 2002-03 season and setting a new single-season school record by averaging 9,165 fans per home SEC game, the 2003-04 Bulldog squad shattered all existing MSU basketball attendance records en route to capturing the school's first outright regular-season league championship since 1962-63.

In recording 12 or more home wins in a year for the fourth straight season under Stansbury's direction, the 2003-04 Bulldogs established new single-season Coliseum attendance standards for most total fans (111,940), highest per-game average for overall games (7,996), highest per-game average for SEC contests (10,209) and most crowds (6) of 10,000+ fans, along with setting a new mark for the largest single-game crowd (10,735) for MSU's 80-56 home triumph over Mississippi on Feb. 7, 2004. In a home win streak that began the year prior, the 2003-04 State squad also set a new all-time Coliseum record with 14 consecutive homecourt victories over the course of two years.

Two years ago, State's attendance boom and home success continued at "The Hump," as the Bulldogs went over the 100,000 mark for attendance (103,031) for the second consecutive season. Last season, MState posted double-digit home victories for the eighth straight year during the Stansbury era. MSU has now registered 10 or more home wins in a season 13 times over the last 14 basketball campaigns dating back to 1992-93.

After spending 14 years playing on the Coliseum's original, all-purpose Tartan floor surface, the Bulldogs tipped off the most successful basketball decade in school history to date by having a portable hard maple basketball floor installed prior to the start of the 1989-90 hoops season.

The Coliseum's original hardwood floor received a fresh make-over during the summer of 1995. With artistic contributions by Alan Beam of Arlington, Texas, and Percy Byrd of Birmingham, Ala., Covington Flooring, also out of Birmingham, then added the school's recognizable "M-State" logo to the midcourt area. Also reproduced on the floor at the time were the SEC's modern "diamond" logo as well as a logo design depicting Humphrey Coliseum's popular nickname, "The Hump." All three logos continue to be featured on the facility's current hard maple floor.

Prior to the start of MSU's much-anticipated 1995-96 Final Four campaign, the capacity of State's home basketball arena was increased to 10,000 with the addition of permanent seats around the Coliseum's inner concourse. During the summer of 1996, the Coliseum underwent major renovations to accommodate the MSU athletic department's growing need for additional locker room availability.

While the portable floor is only visible during basketball game action, a permanent all-purpose Tartan surface also enables the arena to be used for a wide variety of non-sporting events, including university presidential investitures, national conventions, conferences, graduation ceremonies, state-wide science fairs, concerts, circuses, and banquets. Such popular recording acts as Tim McGraw, Vince Gill, Garth Brooks, Clint Black, John Michael Montgomery, Reba McEntire, George Strait, Alabama, Tina Turner, Chicago, Bruce Springsteen, Bob Dylan, James Taylor, Jimmy Buffett, Sheryl Crow, Billy Joel and Bon Jovi have performed at the Coliseum through the years.

Standing the equivalent of a seven-story building (84 feet), Humphrey Coliseum is 318 feet long and 268 feet wide and was originally constructed from approximately 450,000 red Mississippi-made bricks. Named in honor of George Duke Humphrey, a former Mississippi State president (1934-45), the Coliseum also serves as the home for the Lady Bulldog basketball team, in addition to housing some administrative offices and several non-football coaches'

ATHLETIC Excellence

Mississippi State student-athletes have been achievers on the playing fields and off them. For every Bulldog winning all-SEC or All-America honors, another earns recognition for academic achievement. Players are coached to greatness throughout the MSU athletic program.

SCOTT WESTERFIELD helped the football team to back-to-back bowl games in 1999-2000 and won the SEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year Award in 2001.

JERIOUS NORWOOD concluded his football career in 2005 as the school's single-game and career rushing leader. He was named winner of the Conerly Trophy as the state's top college football player, was selected to play in the Senior Bowl, and was taken by the Atlanta Falcons in the NFL Draft.

LAURENT MIQUELARD (L) and JOC SIMMONS won the NCAA men's tennis doubles national championship in 1994.

LAWRENCE ROBERTS was the SEC Player of the Year in 2004 and a national finalist for the Wooden Award, given annually to college basketball's top player.

ERIC DUBOSE helped the MSU baseball team to the College World Series in 1997 and is currently a member of the Baltimore Orioles.

Great Players

IYHIA McMICHAEL, who concluded her career in 2004, is the only two-time SEC Softball Athlete of the Year in league history.

LATOYA THOMAS concluded her career in 2003 as a two-time SEC Player of the Year and became only the sixth player in NCAA Division I history to be named a four-time Kodak All-America.

TIFFANY McWILLIAMS won the NCAA national championship in the 1500 meter run in 2003 and '04, and the national title in the indoor mile in 2004.

IS ALL THAT MATTER

ATHLETIC Excellence

MSU has played in the SEC Football Championship Game, the basketball Final Four, the baseball College World Series, and in numerous NCAA national title events since 1996. The last decade has brought overall achievement unmatched at State, and each new generation adds more hardware to the school's trophy cases.

The 1999 Maroon football team won its first eight games of the season, amassed 10 victories for just the second time in school history, and defeated Clemson in the Peach Bowl at Atlanta. Quarterback Wayne Madkin (above), State's all-time leading passer, was named the bowl game's Most Valuable Offensive Player.

State won the SEC Western Division title in 1998 and held a fourth-quarter lead on eventual national champion Tennessee in the league championship game at the Georgia Dome. The Bulldogs' appearance in the championship game garnered the school a berth in the 1999 Cotton Bowl.

MSU's 1998 men's tennis team was one of two Bulldog squads that reached the NCAA semifinals, losing to perennial national champion Stanford. The '98 team was one of 10 State net teams that earned NCAA Sweet 16 berths from 1991-2001.

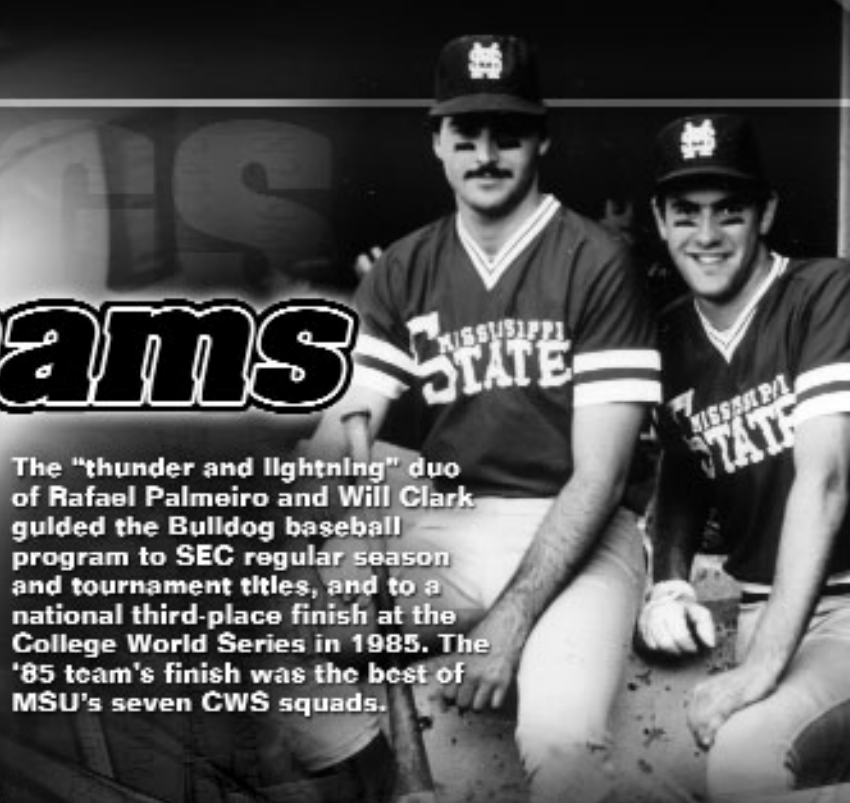

State's soccer team captured the 2001 SEC Western Division crown, the first SEC championship of any kind by an MSU women's team. That title came in just the sport's seventh year of existence on the campus.

Great Teams

The "thunder and lightning" duo of Rafael Palmeiro and Will Clark guided the Bulldog baseball program to SEC regular season and tournament titles, and to a national third-place finish at the College World Series in 1985. The '85 team's finish was the best of MSU's seven CWS squads.

Mississippi State's men's basketball program won the SEC Western Division title in 1995, advancing to the Sweet 16 before losing to eventual national champion UCLA. A year later, Darryl Wilson (00) helped lead the Bulldogs to another West title, the SEC Tournament championship, and to a berth in the national Final Four.

The Lady Bulldog basketball team has gone to seven postseason tournaments in the last nine years, including four NCAA Tournament appearances from 1999-2003. The '02 team (below) finished fourth in the SEC and defeated Boston College in the first round of the NCAA tourney before losing to nationally top-10 ranked Texas Tech in Lubbock.

The MState men's golf team captured the school's second-consecutive SEC Tournament title in 1997 and participated in NCAA regional competition for just the second time in school history.

ATHLETIC Excellence

State's coaches care for their student-athletes and the school's sports programs. Each has a passion for their specialty, experience as a player and coach, and expertise to instruct at the highest levels. Their goal is to coach champions on the field and mold productive college graduates from the university's classroom.

SYLVESTER CROOM was named head coach at MSU in December 2003, an announcement that brought immediate national attention to the Bulldog football program. In just his first season, State beat a ranked opponent for the first time since 2000.

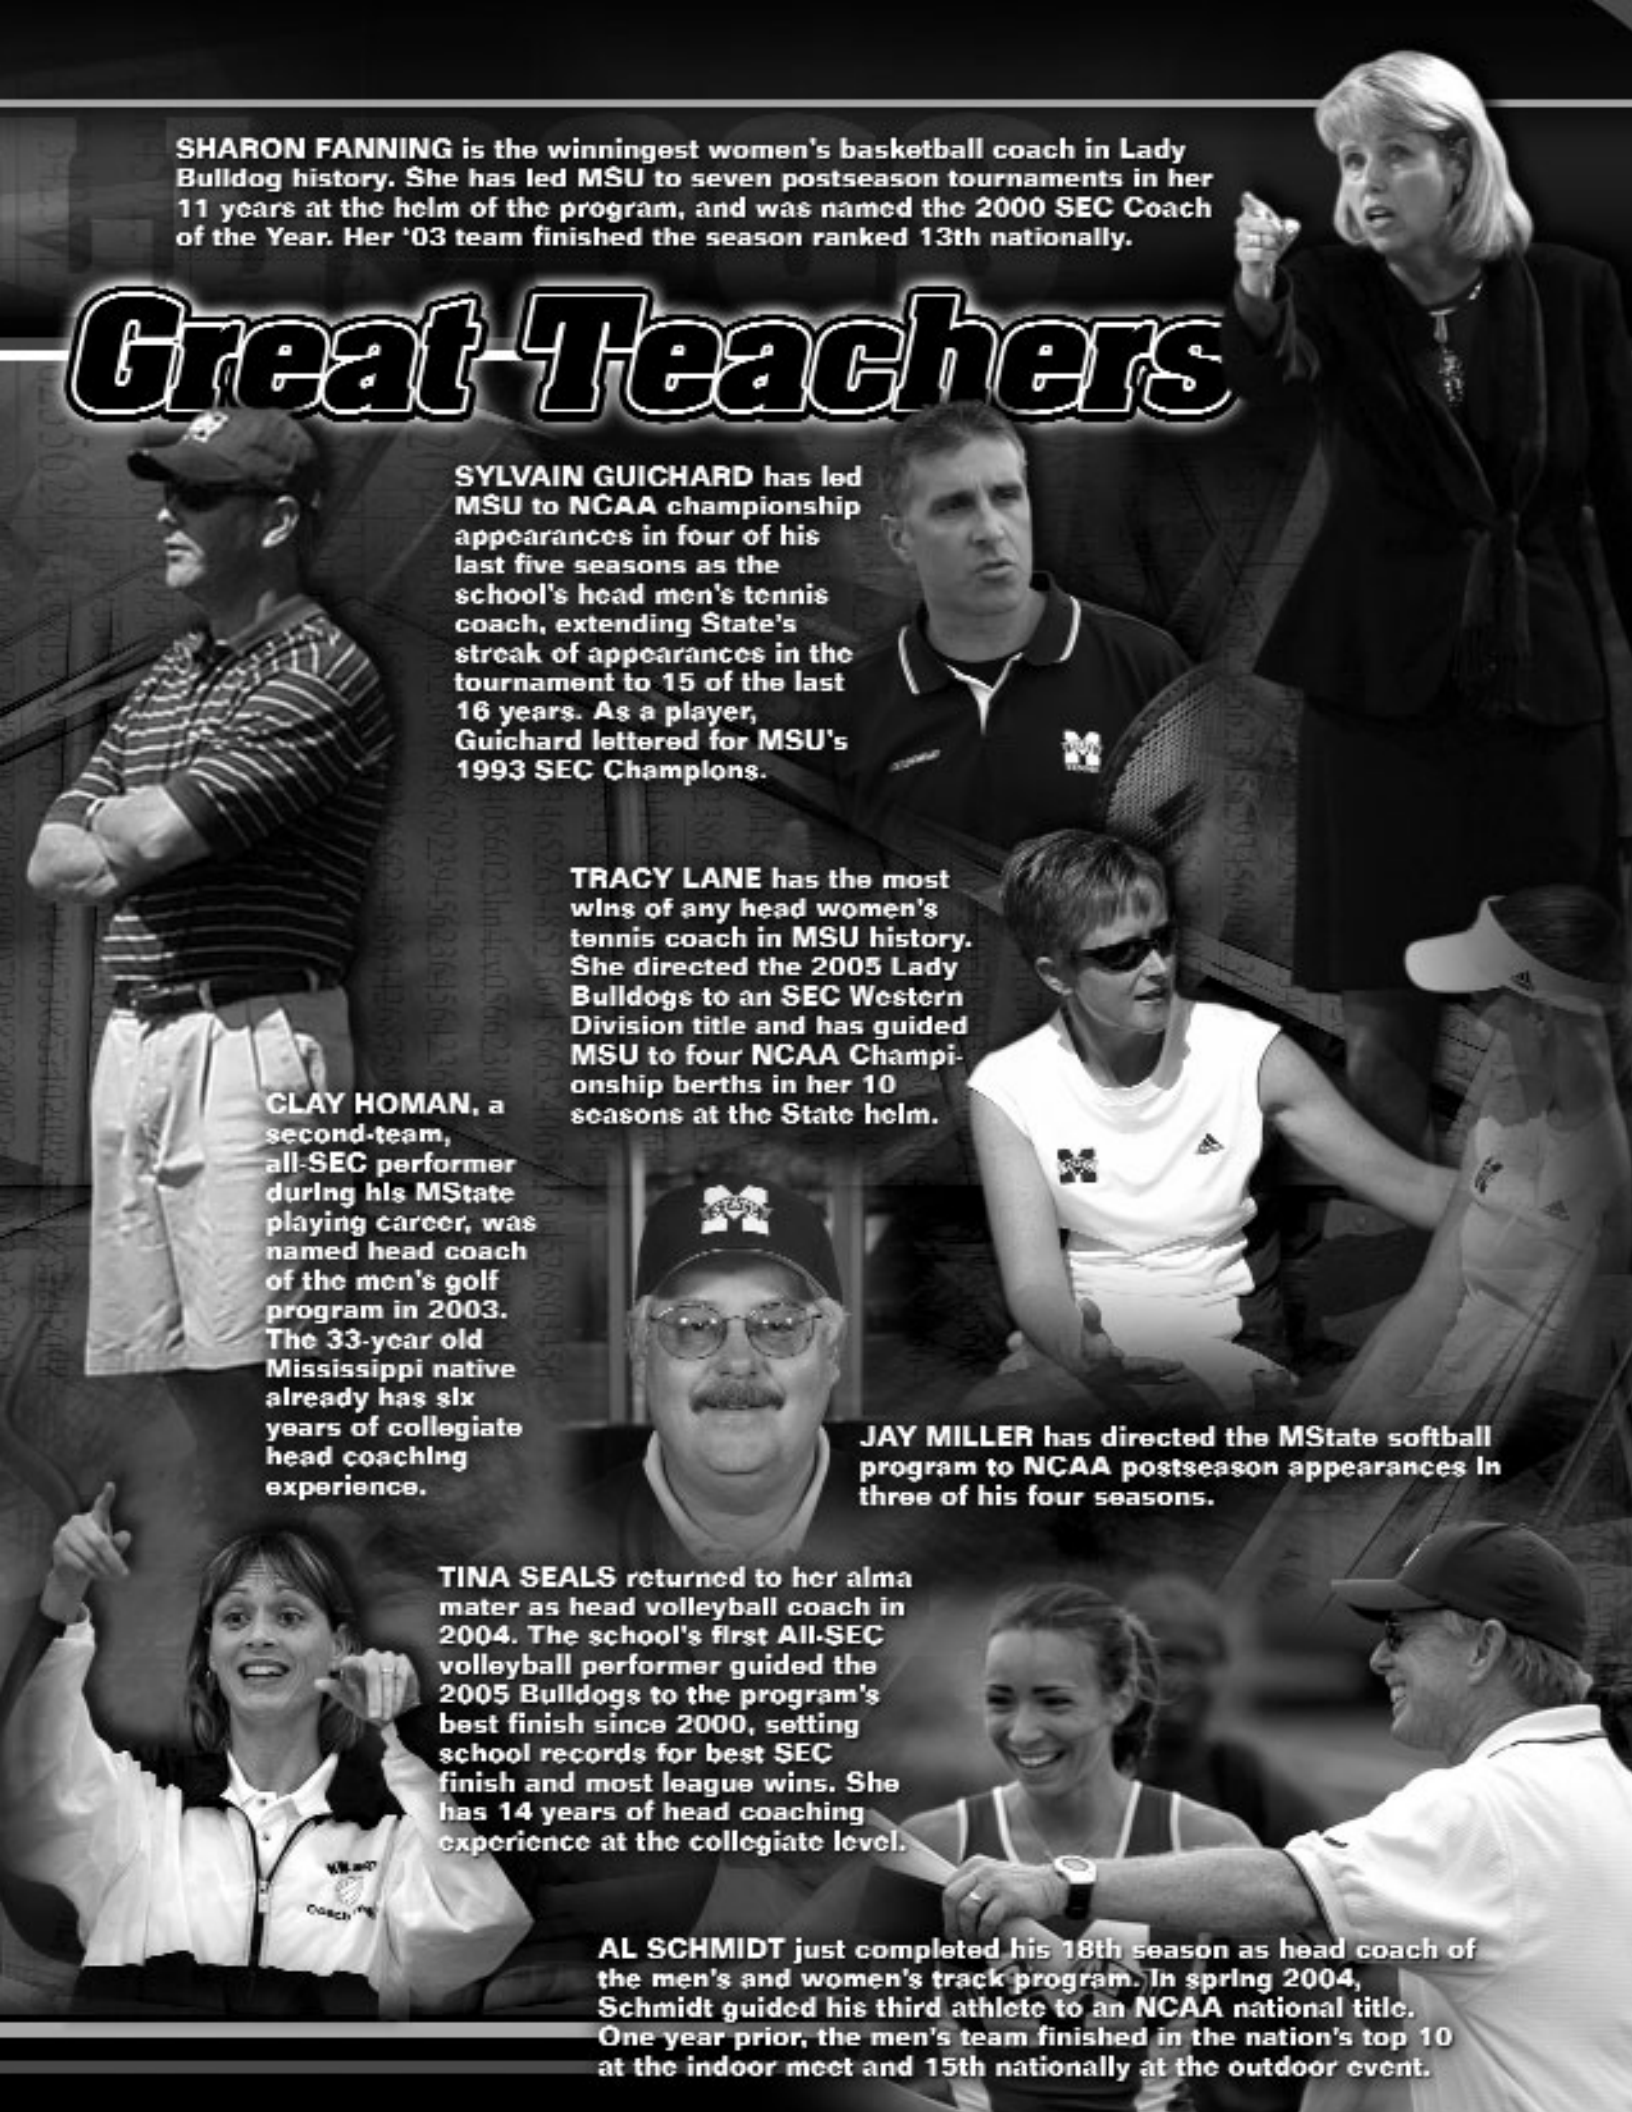

CHRISTI SANDERS (back left) has the longest, consecutive coaching reign of any head coach at State, with 19 seasons at the helm of the women's golf program. She has twice been named SEC Coach of the Year (1990, 2000).

RON POLK is the legendary head coach of the MSU baseball program. He is the winningest coach in SEC history and with more than 1,300 career coaching wins ranks sixth among college baseball's all-time winningest coaches. He has guided five MSU teams to the College World Series and 19 to regional competition.

RICK STANSBURY's men's basketball teams have averaged better than 20 wins per year under his guidance and have participated in postseason play six times in his eight years. MSU has played in four NCAA Tournaments in five seasons and won the SEC championship in 2004 and tournament title in '02.

NEIL MACDONALD is the only head coach to guide the MState soccer program to an SEC Tournament appearance in his first season (2004). The 34-year old already has six years head coaching experience on the college level.

SHARON FANNING is the winningest women's basketball coach in Lady Bulldog history. She has led MSU to seven postseason tournaments in her 11 years at the helm of the program, and was named the 2000 SEC Coach of the Year. Her '03 team finished the season ranked 13th nationally.

Great Teachers

SYLVAIN GUICHARD has led MSU to NCAA championship appearances in four of his last five seasons as the school's head men's tennis coach, extending State's streak of appearances in the tournament to 15 of the last 16 years. As a player, Guichard lettered for MSU's 1993 SEC Champions.

TRACY LANE has the most wins of any head women's tennis coach in MSU history. She directed the 2005 Lady Bulldogs to an SEC Western Division title and has guided MSU to four NCAA Championship berths in her 10 seasons at the State helm.

CLAY HOMAN, a second-team, all-SEC performer during his MState playing career, was named head coach of the men's golf program in 2003. The 33-year old Mississippi native already has six years of collegiate head coaching experience.

JAY MILLER has directed the MState softball program to NCAA postseason appearances in three of his four seasons.

TINA SEALS returned to her alma mater as head volleyball coach in 2004. The school's first All-SEC volleyball performer guided the 2005 Bulldogs to the program's best finish since 2000, setting school records for best SEC finish and most league wins. She has 14 years of head coaching experience at the collegiate level.

AL SCHMIDT just completed his 18th season as head coach of the men's and women's track program. In spring 2004, Schmidt guided his third athlete to an NCAA national title. One year prior, the men's team finished in the nation's top 10 at the indoor meet and 15th nationally at the outdoor event.

ATHLETIC Excellence

Mississippi State athletes play in some of the nation's finest facilities. Every Bulldog competition site has either been constructed or renovated during the last decade or so. During that time alone, more than $60 million in facility enhancements have been made... a real building boom in Bulldog Country.

DAVIS WADE STADIUM AT SCOTT FIELD: Near-sellout crowds have become the norm at Davis Wade Stadium at Scott Field, where the Bulldogs have played before masses reaching 85 percent of stadium capacity. Since the 2000 season when expansion and renovation projects gave the nation's second-oldest stadium a gleaming new look, crowds have grown by nearly 30 percent.

PITTS TENNIS CENTRE: Considered among the finest tennis facilities in the collegiate ranks, the modern, six-court, 1,000-seat A.J. Pitts Tennis Centre recently completed its 23rd year serving the men's and women's programs. Recent enhancements at the facility include new locker areas and concession stands (1998) and a permanent press box (2004).

W.O. SPENCER STADIUM/
CARL MADDOX TRACK: Co-named in honor of a two-time Mississippi State Olympian and a former MSU athletic director, the W.O. Spencer Stadium/Carl Maddox Track has served as host to the Southeastern Conference Outdoor Track and Field Championships three times since 1985, joining Tennessee as the most frequent host for that event during that time.

DUDY NOBLE FIELD, POLK-DEMENT STADIUM: One of the nation's leaders in baseball season ticket sales and attendance, Dudy Noble Field, Polk-Dement Stadium still holds the nation's on-campus single-game attendance mark — 14,991. With a seating capacity of more than 7,000 and more space in the world-famous outfield, Sports Illustrated magazine named the park, the "Best Place To Watch College Baseball" in a 1997 issue.

NEWELL GRISSOM BUILDING:

The 12,000-square foot, hardwood-floored Newell-Grissom Building serves as the home for Mississippi State's volleyball program and serves as a practice facility for both of the school's basketball programs. A state-of-the-art heating and air conditioning system was installed in 2004.

Great Places

MSU GOLF COURSE:

Nominated by Golfweek and Golf Digest magazines as one of the premier public golf courses in the United States, Mississippi State's championship University Golf Course is the home to the men's and women's programs. The 18-hole course was recently furnished with a 5,000-square-foot clubhouse, complete with locker areas, snack bar, golf shop and classroom.

MSU SOCCER FIELD: Built in 1995, the lighted Mississippi State Soccer Field gives the Bulldog women one of the finest playing surfaces in the Southeast, a 114-yard long, 72-yard wide regulation NCAA Championship field. The lush turf is Mississippi Pride grass, developed by researchers on the MSU campus.

MSU SOFTBALL FIELD: Constructed in 1997, the Mississippi State Softball Field has undergone almost constant improvement at the northern-most point of campus. Lights were added to the facility in 1998, brick work was added to the dugouts two years later and, in 2001, additional batting cages were built. In 2005, softball moved into a new locker, training and meeting facility adjacent to the park.

BRYAN BUILDING: The state-of-the-art John H. Bryan Athletic Administration Building is the crown jewel of MSU's expansion projects of the last decade. Opened in 1998, this showcase facility is named for longtime Bulldog friend and supporter John H. Bryan Sr. and houses athletic administration, football, ticket, athletic development and media relations offices.

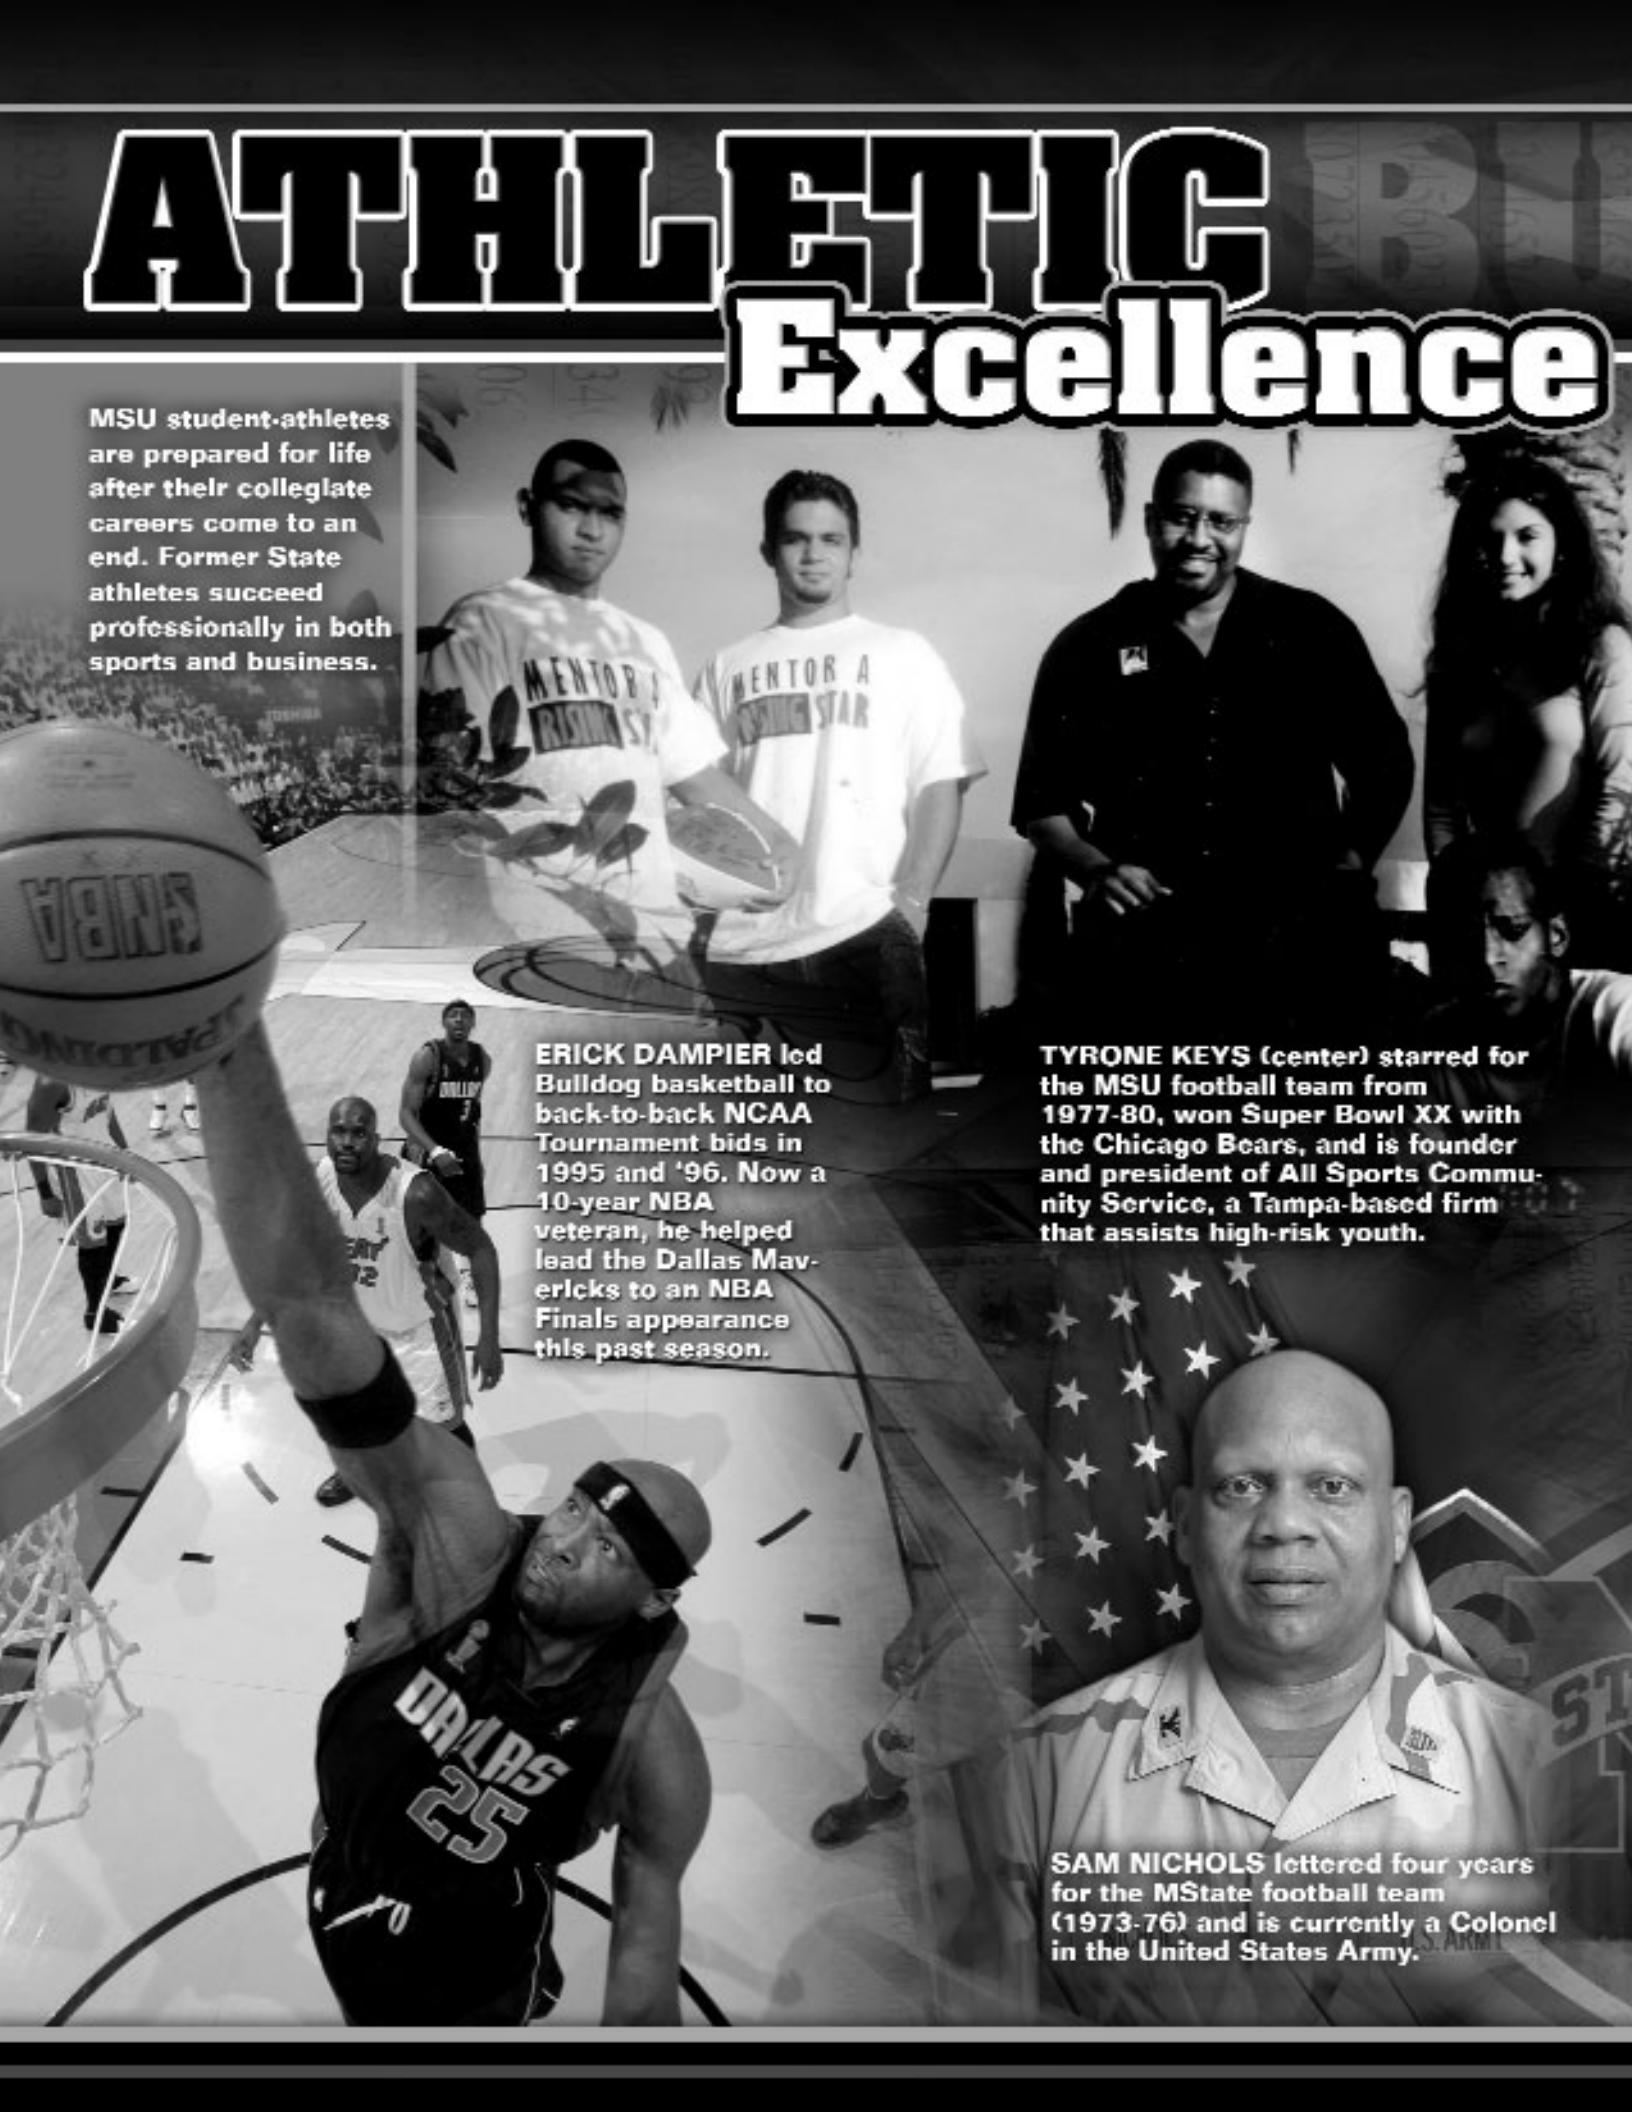

HUMPHREY COLISEUM: Season ticket sales records and all-time attendance marks have also been set over the past decade by Bulldog and Lady Bulldog basketball teams in the Humphrey Coliseum, the state's largest on-campus basketball arena. The latest addition to the facility was a $1.8 million, center-hung, four-sided video scoreboard and jumbotron screen installed in 2004.

ATHLETIC Excellence

MSU student-athletes are prepared for life after their collegiate careers come to an end. Former State athletes succeed professionally in both sports and business.

ERICK DAMPIER led Bulldog basketball to back-to-back NCAA Tournament bids in 1995 and '96. Now a 10-year NBA veteran, he helped lead the Dallas Mavericks to an NBA Finals appearance this past season.

TYRONE KEYS (center) starred for the MSU football team from 1977-80, won Super Bowl XX with the Chicago Bears, and is founder and president of All Sports Community Service, a Tampa-based firm that assists high-risk youth.

SAM NICHOLS lettered four years for the MState football team (1973-76) and is currently a Colonel in the United States Army.

BAILEY HOWELL, who still ranks second on the school's all-time basketball scoring list, enjoyed a 12-year career in the NBA and was elected to the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1997.

Great Alumni

ROSA MARIELLA (JIMINEZ) MAHAN was an ITA All-Academic Scholar women's tennis player for State in 1988, and is Senior VP and Regional Manager for Central America, the Caribbean, and Northern South America for Prisma Energy International in Houston, Texas.

BUCK SHOWALTER was an all-America baseball player at MSU in 1977 and has managed three clubs in the major leagues, most recently with the Texas Rangers.

BOBBY THIGPEN helped MSU baseball to the College World Series in 1985 and still holds the Major League record for saves in a season (57 in 1990 with the Chicago White Sox).

Bulldog right-hander JEFF BRANTLEY (1982-85) still holds SEC records for pitching wins in a season (18) and career (45). After culminating his pro playing career, he now analyzes the game for ESPN's Baseball Tonight.

2007 SEC TOURNAMENT

The 2007 Southeastern Conference Men's Basketball Tournament will be held in a familiar setting as the Georgia Dome in Atlanta, Ga., again plays host to this event.

The Georgia Dome, a world-class facility with basketball seating configuration of 26,000, serves as the site of the 12-team tournament for the seventh time in 10 years and the ninth time overall in league history. The Georgia Dome will also serve as the site for this year's NCAA Final Four, March 31-April 2. The Atlanta-hosted 2005 SEC Tournament amassed impressive crowds with the fourth-highest total attendance (212,122) and the fifth-highest championship game attendance (24,408) in SEC Tournament history.

The winner of the 11-game tournament receives the SEC's automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament. The tournament seeds, conference championship and division titles are determined by the 16-game conference schedule during the regular season. Teams are seeded by their divisional finish and features Eastern Division-Western Division matchups in every game should the higher seed win each contest.

Atlanta served as host of the inaugural SEC Tournament played following the 1932-33 season and did so again after the 1933-34 season. The event was held every year through 1952, with the exception of 1935. After a 26-year layoff (1953-78), the tournament was renewed in 1979. The 2007 tournament will be the 48th in league history and the 29th since the renewal.

The SEC has shown extraordinary balance in the tournament, evidenced by the fact that a different school won the first seven titles after the renewal. The event has helped set the stage for SEC teams in the NCAA Tournament, as 21 of the last 27 tournament champions have advanced to at least the Sweet 16 with four of the last 11 going on to win the national championship.

Since the renewal in 1979, the SEC Tournament Champion has failed to win at least one NCAA Tournament game only three times.

Kentucky leads the league with 25 SEC Tournament titles. Alabama is second with six, while Tennessee ranks third with four. Florida and Mississippi State have each claimed two championship trophies. Arkansas, Auburn, Florida Georgia, LSU, Ole Miss, Vanderbilt and former league member Georgia Tech have each won one SEC Tournament championship through the years.

Atlanta's Georgia Dome will serve as the site of this year's SEC Tournament and NCAA Final Four.
