HOME MATCHES INDICATED IN BOLD AND CAPS

RALLY POINTS

• Wednesday's match will serve as an important conference measuring stick for the Rebels, who follow the matchup with contests against No. 14 Kentucky, at Auburn (RV) and at No. 24 Florida over their next three contests.

• Should Ole Miss secure a victory on Wednesday night, it would mark the program's best start in SEC play through seven matches since 2019, when they went 6-1.

• Sasha Ratliff is on the chase for 1,000 kills in her career, standing at 991 in her career. Ratliff ranks 10th all-time at Ole Miss in kills in the rally scoring era. Additionally, she could become the third Rebel ever with at least 1,000 kills and 400 blocks.

• Libero Cammy Niesen now stands at 1,155 career digs, which ranks seventh all-time in the rally scoring era and 10th all-time between both eras.

• Wednesday's matchup is one of two matches left for the Rebels on the SEC Network. The other is also against Mississippi State on Nov. 17 in Oxford.

SCOUTING THE FIELD

At 7-8 and 1-5 overall, Mississippi State enters the matchup on a five-match skid, but remains a threat after pushing several teams to four sets, including Auburn, Florida and Missouri.

The attack is paced by Kailin Newsome, who averages 3.29 kills per set and leads the team with 184 kills, while the overall star of the show has been Arissa Smith, who leads the SEC and ranks second nationally with a .467 hitting percentage. Smith leads the team in blocks with 59. However, the Bulldogs are one of the worst serving teams in the nation, ranking 318th out of 334 NCAA programs in service aces per set.

SERIES HISTORY

Ole Miss leads Mississippi State, 63-26 as they enter the 90th all-time meeting between the two SEC rivals.

The Rebels and Bulldogs split last season’s two match set, with the Rebels winning 3-0 in Oxford, while falling 3-2 in Starkville. Sasha Ratliff shined in both matches, with double digit kills in each, including 18 in Starkville, while Cammy Niesen notched 37 digs across the two matches. Julia Dyess added a double-double for the Rebels on senior day to secure the win in Oxford.

LAST TIME OUT

The Rebels earned their first SEC road victory of the season, sweeping to a 3-0 win at South Carolina on Friday.

Shayla Meyer and Nia Washington each added 10 kills to lead the offense, while Sasha Ratliff recorded a season-high seven blocks, as the Rebels utilized a balanced attack to keep the Gamecocks at bay. Mokihana Tufono added a double-double with 36 assists and 10 digs, while Cammy Niesen notched 16 digs on the defensive end.

RISING STAR

Nia Washington is in the midst of a breakout junior season and her play has elevated the Rebels to new heights, as they’ve surged past last season’s win total by early October.

Washington has become a lethal hitter in recent weeks, averaging 4.18 kills per set in conference play, compared to her 3.48 kills per set average this season. The New Orleans native has three, 20-kill matches in her last five contests and has already blown past all of her previous career-highs across numerous categories so far.

Her play has gained her recognition on the national scale, as she tallied 20 kills in a win against Tennessee and 28 kills in a win against LSU, before being named to NCAA Volleyball’s “Rotation of the Week”. The Rebels are now 8-1 in matches where she hits over .200.

MOKI MAGIC

After tallying 104 assists over two, four-set SEC wins against Tennessee and LSU, Mokihana Tufono earned her first SEC Setter of the Week honors on October 7.

Tufono opened the week with a career-high 54 assists in the win over Tennessee, while adding eight digs and two blocks. From there, Tufono added another 50 assists and 11 digs in the win over LSU, while also matching a career-best with five total blocks. Her efforts were particularly critical in helping Nia Washington rise to new heights, as Washington also set career-highs in back-to-back matches with 20 and 28 kills.

NIE-FENSE

Following a standout defensive performance in Houston, Cammy Niesen earned SEC weekly honors for the first time since 2022, as the junior libero was named the SEC Co-Defensive Player of the Week on September 23.

Niesen tallied 58 digs and 13 assists, while recording the 1,000th dig of her career during her award-winning weekend. Niesen was particularly impactful in the five-set win over Houston, with 19 digs and six assists, as well as notching 21 digs in the win over Texas A&M Commerce. With performances of 20 digs (Arkansas), 17 digs (Tennessee), 17 (LSU) and 15 (Texas A&M), Niesen tallied seven consecutive matches of 15 or more digs for the first time in her career.

HOT HANDS

Sunday's contest against Georgia provided a unique final box score for the Rebels, who got a pair of 20-kill performances from Shayla Meyer and Nia Washington.

Both Rebels have been the only ones to record 20-kill showings this season with Meyer adding one against FGCU, while Washington has notched all of hers in SEC play (Tennessee, LSU & Georgia). The result marks the first time that two Rebels tallied 20-kill performances since Anna Bair and Sasha Ratliff recorded 20 and 22 kills on October 29, 2021 against South Carolina.

LONG BEACH CONNECTION

Head coach Bre Henry and associate head coach Taylor Gregory have a special connection. The two have been friends since they met at Long Beach State, where they both played volleyball collegiately. Henry, a four year starter, was a member of the 2013 NCAA National Championship team in beach volleyball and earned All-American honors in 2014. Gregory was a two-time All-American and three-time All-Conference honoree who finished his career as one of the most decorated middle blockers in program history with 500 total blocks.

Henry and Gregory both met their spouses, John and Delaine, who also played volleyball. Now, nearly 10 years later, their paths have crossed again in Oxford as Henry and Gregory are coaching together and raising their children.

FAMILY AFFAIR

Blocking runs in the Ratliff family. In four years, Ole Miss middle blocker Sasha Ratliff has established herself as one of the top blockers in program history, ranking first all-time in the rally scoring era with 453 total blocks, first in block assists with 363 and second in solo blocks with 90. A dominant force at the net, Ratliff has tallied 100-plus blocks in each of her last three seasons and is looking to do it a fourth straight time as she enters her fifth year as a Rebel. Her knack for blocking comes from her father, Theo, who was a shot blocker too. One of basketball's best, he ranks 20th in NBA history with nearly 2,000 blocks in his 16 year career.

SERVE IT UP

Under head coach Bre Henry, the Rebels are priding themselves on their desire to be a strong service team, with early results showing tremendous improvement.

Shayla Meyer leads the team with a career-high 22 aces so far in 2024, which is just nine away from entering the top-five in a single season in the rally scoring era. In addition, four more players have at least 10 or more service aces this season.

The Rebels tie much of their success to the service game and are 12-1 when they record more aces than their opponent so far this season. On the flip side, in all but one match they have lost, the Rebels have tallied more than 10 service errors. Additionally, they have lost three of the five matches with their highest service error totals.

CLIMBING THE LADDER

Several Rebels are poised to etch their names in the all-time record books in 2024 across multiple different metrics.

Sasha Ratliff and Payton Brgoch are seeking to end their careers at No. 1 and No. 2 on the all-time blocks list (post rally scoring). Ratliff (453) has taken the No. 1 spot, while Brgoch sits at No. 3 (411) and just 25 blocks away from passing Nakeyta Clair (435) for No. 2.

Additionally, Ratliff and Brgoch also rank 3rd and 5th respectively on the combined blocks list. Ratliff sits behind Genevieve Shy (1993-96 - 502 blocks) and Julie Link (1983-86 - 484 blocks), who both competed during the sideout scoring era.

Junior libero Cammy Niesen continues to rewrite the record books on the defensive side by rising up the top-10 all-time in the rally scoring era.

Niesen stands at 1,155 career digs, which ranks seventh all-time in the rally scoring era and 10th all-time between both eras. Niesen is just 10 digs away from passing Elena Garcia and moving into sixth in the rally scoring era and ninth on the combined ledger.

THE STORY CONTINUES

With the 2024 season finally here, Bre Henry and the Rebels are looking to improve both on and off the court by living out their team motto for the year: the story continues. The student-athletes devised this saying based off NBA star Kobe Bryant who didn't believe in failure, but instead saw each day as a new opportunity to show up and succeed. Henry wants her athletes to use this as a motivator to appreciate the journey more than the destination and give their best effort every single day, knowing that tomorrow will always be a new opportunity to improve.

REBELS PICKED TWELFTH IN PRESEASON POLL

Heading into the 2024 season, Ole Miss was picked to finish tied for twelfth overall in this year's SEC Preseason poll as voted on by the conference's 15 head coaches. The Rebels grabbed five wins in league play last year but look to exceed expectations with a strong returning core this season.

BRE HENRY

THE SCOOP

With national championship pedigree as both an athlete and coach, Bre Henry leads the Ole Miss Rebels volleyball program in her third season as head coach in 2024.

Over the course of her seven seasons as a graduate assistant, assistant coach and head coach, Henry helped produce four All-Americans, 12 All-Region honorees and won the 2017 NCAA crown with Nebraska. Throughout her entire career, she has either been mentored by or worked alongside some of the top coaches in the nation, such as John Cook (Nebraska), Matt Ulmer (Oregon) and Erin Lindsey (Santa Clara), among others.

In her first full season as head coach and second with the Rebels, Henry changed the culture of the program. She created an environment where student-athletes and staff became a family and fell in love with the game of volleyball while still competing at a high level in the SEC.

In 2023, the Rebels finished with an 11-18 record, including a 5-13 mark in conference play. Under Henry, the Ole Miss offense saw seven Rebels finish the season with over 100 kills, including four with over 200. Among those with offensive success were Anna Bair, who wrapped up her Ole Miss career with the fifth most kills by any player in school history, and Julia Dyess, who led the Rebels in kills in SEC play and finished with a breakout junior season. She helped Sasha Ratliff and Payton Brgoch rank inside the top five in hitting percentage in the SEC while recording 100 blocks. The two middle blockers also entered the top five in program history in total blocks with a chance to be the two best to ever wear a Rebel uniform at their position.

Ole Miss saw vast improvements defensively after ranking last in the SEC and 302nd nationally in opponent hitting percentage and 10th in digs per set a season ago. In 2023, Henry and defensive coach Taylor Gregory guided the defense to average 13.95 digs per set, the third-best mark in the SEC. Leading the way was libero Cammy Niesen, ranking third in the conference with her 4.04 digs per set. In total, the Rebels created one of the stingiest defenses in the SEC, holding their opponents to a .210 hitting percentage (fifth-best in the SEC).

Henry joined the Ole Miss staff as assistant coach prior to the 2022 season and was named acting head coach for the final 11 matches. The Rebels posted four wins over that span despite facing some of the top squads in the conference, including four teams that made the 2022 NCAA Tournament.

Working primarily as the defensive coordinator until her promotion, Henry helped middle blockers Sasha Ratliff earn her second All-SEC and AVCA South All-Region nod and guided Payton Brgoch to the third-most blocks in a single season in program history. She was also instrumental in the growth of a young Rebel team that saw three freshmen see significant playing time at setter, libero and outside hitter. Under her guidance, they garnered multiple SEC weekly honors, and Aly Borellis was named to the All-SEC Freshman Team.

Prior to arriving at Ole Miss, Henry spent three seasons as an assistant at Santa Clara. During her time with the Broncos, Santa Clara produced three AVCA All-Region selections, 12 All-WCC accolades and 10 WCC all-academic nods. A proven defensive mind, Santa Clara led the WCC and ranked 10th nationally with 326.5 total blocks.

Henry began her coaching career as a graduate assistant with one of the nation's elite programs at Nebraska. In two seasons, the Huskers went 62-11, winning the 2017 NCAA title and finishing as runner-up in 2018 while producing four All-Americans and six all-conference selections.

A former standout student-athlete at Long Beach State, Henry played both indoor and beach volleyball, earning ACVA All-American Honors for the 2014 indoor season and winning the 2013 beach National Championship. She helped lead the 49ers to a 27-5 record and a perfect 16-0 mark in the Big West.
