OFFENSE LEADS LADY VOLS SUCCESS

- The Big Orange offense has produced at a high-level this season. One of the top offensive teams in the nation, the Lady Vols enter the match with a 14.45 kills per set average and a .282 hitting percentage. The production has come from multiple players, with four having 100 or more kills this season
- The group of Kennedi Rogers, Jalyn Stout, Chelsea Sutton and Maggie Dostic lead the Tennessee attack. Rogers paces the offense with 288 kills. The sophomore outside hitter has posted 10 or more kills in all but one match she has played in this year. Stout is next with 22 kills, reaching double figures in 12 matches this season. Sutton and Dostic are next as both have over 100 kills on the year. Dostic has recorded 134 kills, followed by Sutton with 114 kills
- Sutton and Stout lead the team in hitting percentage. Sutton leads the team in hitting percentage once again after doing so last season. The junior middle blocker has a .376 hitting percentage and ranks sixth in the SEC. Jalyn Stout is next at .333, a total that ranks 10th in hitting percentage in the conference.

CK4K

- Fifth-year setter Caroline Kerr has been key to the Tennessee attack this season. Through 19 matches Kerr has 787 assists and a 10.78 assists per set average that ranks ninth in Division I.
- Against Missouri on Nov. 1, Kerr reached 4,000 career assists, becoming the fourth Lady Vol all-time to reach that mark. The Champaign, Illinois, native currently sits at 4,046 career assists, while her 10.68 assists per set average ranks sixth in program history.
- Kerr earned AVCA All-American honors for the third consecutive season in 2025. She became just the second Lady Vol to receive All-America status three years in a row, with Nikki Fowler accomplishing the feat from 2008-10.
- Across her entire collegiate career, Kerr has reached 40 or more assists in 46 matches. She has crossed the 50-assist mark 12 times, reaching a career-high 57 assists three times.

MEDIA CREDENTIALS
Requests for working media credentials should be directed to volleyball contact Bryant Avery. Those wishing to attend a match are asked to call the Strategic Communications Office to be placed on the pass list.

Photo credentials will be issued to accredited photographers or those individuals on special assignment. Because there are designated areas for photographers, we ask that anyone shooting a volleyball match at Food City Center check with Bryant prior to the start of the contest.

RADIO
Food City Center is available for radio broadcasts through UT Telephone Services. In order to access these lines, those interested in broadcasting a particular match need to inform the UT Athletics Strategic Communications Office in writing at their earliest convenience and no later than three weeks prior to the contest. Radio stations also will need to contact UT Telephone Services at (865) 974-3121 to order a telephone line for use at the contest(s).

STATISTICAL SERVICES
Services provided include statistics generated from the Genius Live Stats computer program. Match statistics will be handed to all attending members of the media and sports information personnel after every game. Following the match, final statistics will be emailed to the visiting sports information director's email list.

INTERVIEWS
Interviews will be available following the match after a 10-minute cooling-off period. Media wishing to interview the coaches or any players other than on match days are required to set up interviews with 24 hours notice through Bryant Avery in the UT Strategic Comms Office.

AVCA PLAYER OF THE YEAR WATCH LIST

- A trio of Lady Vols were tabbed to the AVCA Player of the Year Watch List. Caroline Kerr, Kennedi Rogers, and Jalyn Stout were named to the list by the AVCA in an announcement on Thursday.
- For Kerr, this marks her third time in her career that she has featured on the player of the year watch list. The fifth-year setter is a three-time AVCA All-American, one of only two Lady Vols to accomplish that feat.
- Rogers and Stout are also featured on the list for the Lady Vols. Both have been the top two attacking options for Tennessee this season, with Rogers leading the team with 288 kills and Stout second at 222.
- 46 total athletes are on the watch list, with semifinalists announced in November. Finalists will be named in December, with the Player of the Year announced on Dec. 18.

HIT EM UP

- Tennessee volleyball has had a penchant for being one of the strongest offenses in the country year over year under the guidance of Rackham Watt.
- Last season, the Tennessee attack ranked as one of the best in Division I, with its 14.17 kills per set average and .292 hitting percentage ranking top 15 nationally. It marked the second time in the last three seasons that Tennessee's offense ranked top 15 in the nation in both categories.
- In five of its eight seasons with Rackham Watt at the helm, Tennessee has ranked in the top-20 in either kills per set or hitting percentage. The Lady Vols' strongest offensive unit came in 2023, when they ranked in the top five nationally in both offensive categories.
- The trend has continued early in the 2026 season. Tennessee ranks in the top 10 nationally in both categories to begin the year. The Lady Vols lead Division I in kills per set at 14.45, and 10th in hitting percentage at .282.

UP NEXT ON OFFENSE

- Tennessee looks to continue its legacy of top hitters. Head coach Eve Rackham Watt and staff have consistent success producing some of the best offenses in the country, routinely ranking in the top 20 nationally in both kills per set and hitting percentage.
- Tennessee entered the season looking to replace the production on the attacking side after the graduation of Hayden Kubik. Kubik finished her senior campaign in 2025 with 390 kills and a 4.19 kills per set average. Both marks ranked in the top ten in the SEC a season ago, with her kills per set average ranking eighth in the conference.
- Early, the Lady Vols have been using a complete team effort to support the offensive attack. Multiple players have contributed to the Lady Vols' offensive attack to begin the season.
- Kennedi Rogers leads the team with 244 kills through 17 matches. Rogers leads the team in multiple offensive categories, including kills per set (4.21), points (275.0) and points per set (4.74). Rogers has recorded double-digit kills in 16 matches this season, including tying her career-high of 21 against Fairfield and Penn State.
- Jalyn Stout has been the primary opposite for the Lady Vols to begin the 2026 campaign. Stout is second on the team in kills with 198, and ranks eighth in the SEC with a .352 hitting percentage. Stout has reached double figures in kills 12 times this season, with a high of 19 in a win over Arkansas on Oct. 16.
- Maggie Dostic has shifted to her natural position as an outside hitter this year after playing as a defensive specialist last season. Dostic is fourth on the team with 134 kills this season, passing the 100-career kill threshold against Kentucky. She has posted a season-high 13 kills against Texas, and has reached double figures in seven contests
- Chelsea Sutton returned as the team's top returning attacker from the 2025 season. Last season, Sutton was second on the team with 215 kills and ranked fifth in the SEC in hitting percentage at .362. This season, Sutton has 114 kills, posting a season-high of 14 against Kentucky. Sutton leads the team with a .376 hitting percentage that ranks sixth in the SEC
- Freshman middle blocker Jolene Oddo has gotten off to a strong start for the Lady Vols in her first collegiate season. The Clayton, North Carolina, native has 55 kills and a .268 hitting percentage this season. Oddo's top performance came against Coastal Carolina, where she had nine kills on .500 hitting.
- Nia Hall and Anni Tang have also contributed to the Tennessee attack this season. Hall recorded a season-high eight kills against LSU on .353 hitting, and has 51 kills and 1.89 kills per set across 12 matches. The senior outside hitter logged seven kills off the bench to help propel Tennessee to a road win over Auburn. Tang has played in 19 matches this season and has posted 51 kills. The freshman middle blocker reached a season-high seven kills against Florida and Missouri.

ROGERS SHINES ON OFFENSE

- Kennedi Rogers has had an impressive start to her Tennessee career, reaching double-figure kills in all but one of her 19 matches this season. Through those 19 matches, Rogers leads the team with 288 kills and a 4.30 kills per set average.
- Rogers has posted eight double-doubles this season, including two in the season's opening weekend. In Tennessee's season opener against Colgate, Rogers posted 14 kills and 10 digs. She followed that up by tying her career-high with 21 kills, while adding another 10 digs. In Tennessee's road win over Penn State, Rogers tied her career-high once again with 21 kills, while also posting her third double-double with ten digs. Rogers' five double-doubles are tied for the most on the team this season.
- One of the top hitters in the conference this season, Rogers ranks sixth in both kills per set and points per set (4.81).

STOUT STEPPING UP

- Senior Jalyn Stout has been an important piece to Tennessee's start to the season. The senior transfer has been a jack of all trades, helping Tennessee both offensively and defensively.
- The senior opposite has filled up the stat sheet in her first season in the Orange & White. Stout has totaled 222 kills, 177 digs, 49 assists and 46 blocks. She has reached double-digit kills in 13 matches, including a streak of six-straight from Oct. 1-Oct. 21. Stout posted a season-high 19 in a four-set win over Arkansas.
- Stout has posted double-doubles in four matches, doing so against Illinois (Sept. 1), LSU (Oct. 11), Kentucky (Oct. 21) and Missouri (Nov. 1). Stout is no stranger to double-double outings, with 75 in her collegiate career.
- A two-time AVCA Southeast All-Region First Team honoree, Stout also holds the NCAA record for the most career triple-doubles with 46. She set the NCAA record for the most triple-doubles in a season in 2024 with 20, while also leading Division I players with 26 double-doubles.

FRESH FACES IN THE MIDDLE

- Three freshmen middles have played big roles through the first four matches. The trio of Jolene Oddo, Anni Tang and Camille Perry have each delivered strong performances for the Lady Vols early on.
- Oddo has played in 13 matches this season, with 55 kills and is fifth on the team with 39 blocks. Her top kill performance came in the Lady Vols' three-set victory over Coastal Carolina with nine. The Clayton, North Carolina native, set a season-best of eight blocks against Texas A&M against Indiana, and has finished with at least two blocks in 11 matches.
- Tang has featured in 19 contests for the Lady Vols, posting 51 kills and 42 blocks. The first year middle blocker got her first career start against Queens, leading the team with five blocks and added four kills. Tang was a key contributor to UT's block defense in its win over Penn State, with four. The Australian has notched at least one block in 17 matches this season.
- Perry has 31 kills on the season to go along with 12 blocks. Against Morehead State, Perry led the team in blocks with four in the winning effort. Perry played a big role off the bench in Tennessee's win over Kentucky, recording six kills and two blocks.

BURNS ANCHORS THE BACK ROW

- A huge part of Tennessee's defensive effort has been transfer libero Raegan Burns. Tennessee is holding opposing teams to a .195 hitting percentage.
- The Kansas transfer has 230 digs and a 3.15 digs per set average this season. Burns has led the team in digs in 12 contests, reaching double-figures 11 times. Burns posted a season-high 23 digs against Arkansas, her ninth career match with 20-plus digs. It was the first time a Lady Vol had 20 or more digs in a match since Gülce Güçtekin had 21 against Kentucky on Nov. 24, 2025.
- The junior libero is closing in on 1,000 digs in her collegiate career. Burns has 986 digs across her four-year career.
- In her three seasons at Kansas, Burns had 756 digs, 246 assists and 31 aces. She earned All-Big 12 Rookie Team honors in 2023 after notching a team-leading 374 digs, while ranking second on the team with 107 assists. She followed that up with another stellar season in 2024, where she totaled 372 digs on a 3.44 digs per set average.

DEFENSE IS THE NAME OF THE GAME

- The Big Orange defense has been key to Tennessee' success this season. The Lady Vols are holding opposing offenses to a .195 hitting percentage and a 11.82 kills per set average.
- The team is averaging 13.93 digs per set and 2.39 blocks per set. That block per set total is the sixth-best in the SEC.
- Six players have 30 or more blocks this season. Chelsea Sutton leads the group with 70 blocks and 1.27 blocks per set. That blocks per set average is second in the SEC. The junior middle blocker has posted five or more blocks in seven matches and set a career-high nine blocks at home against Texas.

LADY VOLS IN THE PROS

- 10 former UT volleyball players are currently on professional rosters, both overseas and in the United States.
- Tessa Grubbs is set to compete in the third season of League One Volleyball, representing LOVB Atlanta for the third consecutive year.
- Three players from Tennessee's 2025 season are on professional rosters. Hayden Kubik heads into her second season in Major League Volleyball, this year playing for the Omaha Supernovas. Gülce Güçtekin and Klaudia Pawlik are two other players from the 2025 season on professional rosters ahead of the upcoming season, with Güçtekin playing in Turkey for Kuzeyboru and Pawlik in France with Saint-Dié-des-Vosges Volley-Ball
- Two LFVLs represented their national teams this summer. Güçtekin represented Turkey at the 2026 Mediterranean Games, with the Turkish National Team winning the gold medal over Italy. Nina Čajić represented her home nation, Serbia, at the 2026 Volleyball Nations League, recording 109 total points across the team's 10 matches.

HOMECOURT ADVANTAGE

- Under head coach Eve Rackham Watt, Tennessee owns an impressive 99-26 record at Food City Center. Even more eye-opening is that the Lady Vols are 69-16 at home in their last six seasons
- The Big Orange has won double-digit home matches in six of the eight previous seasons under Rackham Watt, including each of the last five.
- UT has beaten 10 top-25 opponents inside Food City Center since 2018, including ranked non-conference wins against No. 9 Baylor (2021), No. 21 Georgia Tech (2025), No. 22 Michigan State (2018) and No. 25 UCLA (2024).
- A huge catalyst for Tennessee's home success has been the fans. Tennessee has enjoyed three of its best seasons in total and average attendance during the Rackham Watt era.
- Tennessee has set three attendance records in 2026. The most recent came against Texas, when 9,226 fans packed Food City Center. That mark broke the previous record of 8,212 set against Illinois on Sept. 1. The Lady Vols set their first attendance record of the season during their season opener against Colgate on Aug. 28, with 7,924 fans in attendance for the three-set victory.
- Tennessee has had top ten attendance marks in seven home matches this season, including four of the top five highest attended matches in program history.
- In 2026, Tennessee has set a new season long attendance mark of 63,022 through nine home contests. UT ranks fourth nationally in total attendance this season and third in average attendance (6,302). Last season Tennessee ranked in the top 10 nationally in both total attendance (57,056) and average attendance (3,804), both setting the previous attendance records

WORK HARD, PLAY HARDER

- One area of Tennessee volleyball that often goes unmentioned outside the program is strength and conditioning, but it certainly plays a major part in the team's success on the court.
- The Lady Vols are trained by veteran strength coach Brad Roll, who boasts 20 years of experience in the NFL and 40 combined with college.
- Roll trained pro football players during stints with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, Miami Dolphins, Buffalo Bills, St. Louis Rams, Oakland Raiders and Cleveland Browns.
- The former collegiate football player for Blinn College and Stephen F. Austin has an impressive resume in the collegiate realm as well. He worked with the Kansas men's basketball team when it won the 1988 national championship along with Miami football during its NCAA title seasons in 1989 and 1991.
- Roll has been on Rocky Top since 2016, and he has greatly elevated the level of training for the volleyball program. Here are some of the top numbers by Lady Vols in the weight room from this spring/summer:

RACKHAM WATT EFFECT

Tennessee volleyball head coach Eve Rackham Watt is in her ninth season on Rocky Top in 2026 and has compiled a record of 151-76. In her first six seasons, Rackham Watt became the fastest coach in program history to reach 20 wins in conference play, became the second-fastest to reach the 50-win and 100-win milestones in Tennessee history. The Sebastopol, California, native is currently the third-winningest coach in program history and holds a 82-44 record against SEC opponents.

During the 2025 season, Rackham Watt coached Tennessee to its fifth-straight NCAA Tournament appearance and fourth season under Rackham Watt with 20-plus wins. The Lady Vols won 10 games in the SEC, finishing the season fourth overall. Caroline Kerr earned All-American honors for the third-straight year, becoming just the second Lady Vol to receive All-America recognition in three seasons.

In 2024, Rackham Watt led the Lady Vols to their fourth consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance and finished in the top half of the SEC. She coaches a pair of players to All-American honors in Nina Cajic and Caroline Kerr. Cajic earned AVCA Second Team All-American honors, while Kerr garnered All-American status for the second time in her career

Throughout her time on Rocky Top, Rackham Watt has coached nine different Lady Vols to All-American status, including six during the last three seasons. Tennessee has been represented on the AVCA All-Region list 15 times and the All-SEC team on 12 occasions. Rackham Watt and her staff have coached two athletes to National Player of the Week status, as Erica Treiber (2018) and Morgahn Fingall (2022, 2023) earned the prestigious honor.

Successful teams are powered by successful players, and her student-athletes consistently maximize their athletic potential. Throughout her time as a college coach, Rackham Watt has produced 30 AVCA All-American selections, 45 all-conference honorees, two conference Players of the Year, three conference Defensive Players of the Year, four conference Newcomers/Freshmen of the Year, 41 AVCA All-Region selections, one AVCA Regional Player of the Year, two AVCA Regional Freshmen of the Year and four NCAA Regional All-Tournament Team selections.

In the classroom, Rackham Watt has coached 17 CSC (formerly CoSIDA) Academic All-District honorees and two CSC Academic All-American. During the 2025 spring semester, the Lady Vols posted their highest GPA ever of any semester at 3.67. Under her leadership, Tennessee volleyball has earned the USMC/AVCA Team Academic Award during each of the last five years (2021-25), marking the best streak in program history. Fingall earned SEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year honors in 2022 and 2023.

At the professional level, Tessa Grubbs and Breana Runnels both enjoyed successful 2022-23 seasons. Grubbs was named the MVP of the Swiss League, while leading her team to a championship title. Runnels replicated the same success in the Finnish Champions league, earning the top honors while guiding her team to a title. Following the 2023 campaign, Fingall and Jenaisya Moore were selected in the Major League Volleyball Draft. Fingall was taken with the No. 4 overall pick by the Grand Rapids Rise, while Moore was selected in the fourth round with the No. 28 pick by the Columbus Fury. Nina Cajic became the third Lady Vol under Rackham Watt to be taken in the MLV Draft, going to the Indy Ignite with the 28th pick in the 2024 draft. Hayden Kubik became the fourth Lady Vol selected in the MLV Draft in 2025, selected with the third overall pick by San Diego.

Between her time at the helm at Tennessee and serving as UNC's recruiting coordinator, Rackham Watt has put together an impressive track record when it comes to identifying and bringing in top talent. In total, she signed 26 top-100 prospects between 2011-18. With the Tar Heels, she signed three top-10 classes in the country, including the No. 3 overall class by PrepVolleyball.com in 2016.

COACH QUOTE

"Alaina is a player you can put anywhere on the court. We love her versatility as an attacker and think she can play in a variety of roles for us. The best part of her game may be her aggressiveness and understanding of blocking. That is what first stood out to our staff. She is a high-motor player who brings a ton of energy to the floor. I know people will love playing with her and believe she will help us right away."

- Eve Rackham Watt

WHY TENNESSEE

I chose the University of Tennessee for the great academics and sports atmosphere. I was impressed by the support they provide for women's sports and the sport fan base in general. The coaches and the team have the competitive edge I was looking for".

WHY TENNESSEE?

"I chose Tennessee from seeing the atmosphere, the coaches and the players all are committed to playing high level volleyball and I felt like it would be the best place for me to push myself and grow as a person and a player. The facilities and the resources there also drew me to the school, knowing that i'd be well taken care of was a huge relief especially from a recovery standpoint. I also chose Tennessee because I believe I can come in and grow the culture of hard work and community. Building relationships with my teammates and the coaches is very important to me and just off my visit I felt like it wouldn't be hard at all for me to fit in".

WHY TENNESSEE?

"When I visited campus I immediately felt at home and everything that the coaches and players believe in aligns with my long term goals. I wanted to choose somewhere where I know I will be pushed and grow into the person and player I want to be, and Tennessee is the perfect fit."
